SEMNACHER AGAIN UNDER STATE GRILL

Prosecution Gains Admission From Manager of Virginia Rappe That Arbuckle Told of Conduct Toward Her

Witness Says All Laughed As Comedian Told of Incident in Room At Hotel; Hearing Is Continued Until Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Al Semnacher, manager for Miss Virginia Rappe, for whose death Roscoe Arbuckle is being tried, today appeared frankly as a hostile witness. Put on by the prosecution he refused to answer its questions or gave half replies which required many minutes of effort from the attorney before they were explained.

Knowing that Semnacher was said to have made important disclosures to the district attorney in Los Angeles, the prosecution centered a direct fire of questions at the man in a two-hour effort to bring them to light. Finally, an admission was made that Semnacher had heard Arbuckle tell of acting in a manner that might cause injury to Miss Rappe.

INCIDENT DESCRIBED BY ARBUCKLE LAUGHED AT.

The morning after the drinking party at the St. Francis, Semnacher said he met Arbuckle in his apartment, with Sherman, Fischbach and the comedian's chauffeur, Harry McCullough.

"Did Mr. Arbuckle say anything about what he had done to Miss Rappe?" asked Golden.

The witness told of an incident described by Arbuckle. At this there was a general laugh, Semnacher said.

"Did anyone express any remonstrance?" asked Golden.

"No," replied the witness.

Semnacher said he had forgotten all about the incident, and did not remember to mention it in his coroner's inquest or grand jury testimony in San Francisco, telling it for the first time to the district attorney in Los Angeles this week.

On examination by Arbuckle's counsel, Dominguez, Semnacher said he had not noted any improper conduct by the defendant on the occasion of the Hotel St. Francis party.

The examination was adjourned at noon today until Monday morning at 10:30.

SEMNACHER CALLED AS CHIEF WITNESS.

The State had called Semnacher as its "ace" witness, depending upon the stories he had previously told to establish the basis of their murder charge against the famous film comedian. This was a shift from the original plan to use Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, prosecutor, in this role. From the moment Semnacher went on the stand, however, it was apparent that the plans of the State had gone awry.

PHYSICIAN SOUGHT BY STATE IS QUESTIONED.

It was only after two hours and a half of questioning that Golden brought forth from Semnacher the story of the finding of Miss Rappe in Arbuckle's room.

The district attorney's office gave out a statement saying that Dr. Arthur Beardslee had made affidavit to the effect that when he was called to attend Miss Rappe he was convinced that she was suffering from internal injuries and recommended that she be removed immediately to a hospital.

The defense today retained Dr Arthur Zumwalt as "medical expert." Dr. Zumwalt will check up the testimony given by the physicians for the prosecution.

EX-NURSE WOULD RAISE FUND FOR PROSECUTION.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Sept. 24.—At the suggestion of Mrs. Frederick Forest Peabody of Montecito, formerly Miss Kathleen Burke, noted British war nurse, M. J. Phillips, editor of the Daily News, has telegraphed Matthew Brady, district attorney at San Francisco, offering to raise a fund among Santa Barbara women to assist in the prosecution of Roscoe Arbuckle.

Mrs. Peabody had read that Brady had not sufficient available funds to push the prosecution and says that the women of California should show their disapproval of such cases as Arbuckle's by making small donations to aid its prosecution.

Chief Justice Taft White House Guest

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Chief Justice Taft arrived in Washington yesterday preparatory to the convening of the supreme court, October 3. He was entertained at luncheon by President and Mrs. Harding.

Federal Bureau of Identification Is Plan of Burns

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Plans for the establishment of a federal bureau of identification here to aid local police throughout the country in tracing and identifying criminals were announced by William J. Burns, new chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, in an address here last night before the International Association of Identification. The proposed bureau, Burns added, has secured the full endorsement of Attorney General Daugherty.

City Too Busy; Hilltops Greet Age-Old Visitor

THERE were no bands out to meet him and he passed unnoticed on the streets.

Up in the hills, though, some of the brown burlap carpets that have been spread out during the summer were rolled up and green ones are being made ready for use. Some of the slopes were decorated in red, a few birds booked passage south, and new ones arrived from the north. There was considerable flutter and bustle in the hedgerows.

And yet the old gentleman who came to town yesterday without a nod or a cheer from a human being, brought with him changes in styles, a hint of holiday cheer—and Autumn.

He was old John L. Equinox.

Bolivia's Envoy Prepares to Quit Nations' League

Assembly Defers Action On Fighting on Jugo-Slav Frontier.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—The immediate withdrawal of Bolivia from the League of Nations assembly was hinted at today. Dr. Amarya, head of the Bolivian delegation, said he asked his government for instructions in connection with the territorial dispute with Chile and believed that he would be instructed to quit the assembly right away.

The international committee of judges appointed to consider the Chilean-Bolivian dispute has decided the assembly was not competent to consider Bolivia's demand for revision of the Chilean-Bolivian treaty. The question raised by Chile regarding the Monroe doctrine was not discussed.

The Albanian delegate announced fighting was in progress between Jugo-Slav frontier police and Albanians, but the Serbs declared the Albanians were bandits and not regularly organized forces. Final action on the measure defining the league's blockade rights were deferred until next week.

Both morning and afternoon sessions were devoted to the Polish-Lithuanian dispute over Vilna. Vilna formerly was the capital of Lithuania. After the Russo-Polish war Polish forces seized Vilna.

Women Win Partial Victory On Statue

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. — The National Women's Party has won a partial victory in their fight to have the party's suffrage statue placed in Statuary hall at the Capitol. The statue, a marble image of the three equal suffrage pioneers—Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Lucretia Mott—has reposed for a number of months in an obscure corner of the Capitol basement far from the center of Statuary hall. The Woman's party officers, however, have succeeded in having it removed to the center of the Capitol dome on lower floor.

Senate Will Act After Wood Retires

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Senate action on the nomination of Major General Leonard Wood, to be governor general of the Philippine Islands, will be deferred until after he retires from active army service, October 5. President Harding and Secretary Weeks of the war department are said to have acquiesced in the plan. The delay was agreed to, it was said, to avoid any question being raised as to General Wood's status in the army.

Peace Treaty Debate Is Begun in Senate

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Withdrawal of American troops from the Rhine will begin to take place immediately after ratification of the German-American treaty, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader and chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, announced in the senate today after debate on the German, Austrian and Hungarian treaties started.

The anti-beer bill was sidetracked for consideration of the treaties.

Bill Proposes Fine Arts Palace Transfer

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Transfer by the government of the Palace of Fine Arts at San Francisco to the University of California in exchange for a railroad right of way through university property from the Presidio reservation to Fort Mason was proposed in a bill introduced today by Chairman Kahn of the House military committee.

Heavy Flood Damage In Tampico Oil Field

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 24.—Eighteen thousand persons are homeless in the Tampico petroleum district as the result of heavy rains that have flooded the Panuco river. At least two persons are dead and many injured. Lightning set fire to a tank of the Texas Oil Company, causing $100,000 damage.

Surveyor-General Of Utah Removed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—I. C. Thorsen, who was the Democratic incumbent of the office of surveyor-general of Utah, has been removed by executive order, it was said in administration circles today. He had refused to resign. Erastus D. Sorenson has been nominated for the vacancy.

BANK CASHIER MURDERED AT VAULT'S DOOR

Police Confronted With Mystery in Death of Chicago Bank Employee, Who Met Death in Defense of Cash

Bullet Enters Under the Left Arm As Trusted Official of Institution Raises His Own Weapon; Fails to Explode

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Fred Christianson, cashier of the Glenview bank, was found dead at the door of the bank vault today, and his death provided the Chicago police with a new and puzzling mystery.

Although at first apparently unmarked, it later was found that a bullet wound under the left arm had caused Christianson's death. Beside the body lay a revolver, which had not been fired. One of the bullets in the cylinder, however, bore an identation as though the hammer had struck it, but the shell had failed to explode.

The police theory is that Christianson was slain by some one who sought to rob the bank. They believe that the bullet entered Christianson's body as he raised his arm to fire his own gun, and that the failure of his gun to fire may have cost him his life. The slayer left no clews.

Confesses Kidnaping After Freed by Jury

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TACOMA, Sept. 24.—Hugh Van Amburgh, acquitted in superior court here in April of kidnaping Arthur Rust on February 1, today made public a confession that he committed the act. He absolved young Rust of any part in the crime.

Van Amburgh, who was decorated for bravery in the war, was accused of kidnaping Rust for $25,000 ransom from his father, W. R. Rust, millionaire mining man. At the trial Van Amburgh alleged that he and Rust entered into a plot to obtain and divide the money.

Van Amburgh left the city before the confession was made public today. He said he confessed to clear his conscience.

First Conviction for Murder in Coal War

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Sept. 24.—J. C. McCoy was convicted of murder in the first degree today in connection with the three-day industrial battle here last May. The jury recommended mercy and McCoy will be sentenced to life imprisonment.

McCoy is a grandson of Randall McCoy, leader of a clan in the Hatfield-McCoy feud. He is the first to be convicted of murder in connection with the mine warfare in Mingo county.

England Spends Half Billion on Jobless

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—More than half a billion dollars has been expended by the British government in relieving the unemployed, since November 11, 1918, Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies, told a delegation which visited him today. This expenditure, he said, was unparalleled in any country in the world.

Members of the British cabinet will consider unemployment next week, and will attempt to reach a final decision relative to measures to be taken.

Ledoux Asks Harding To Name Profiteers

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. — Urbain Ledoux today announced that he would go to Washington tomorrow and appeal to President Harding to publish a list of war profiteers with the hope that they would split half of their earnings with destitute and unemployed war veterans. The request will refer to those who made more than 100 per cent profit.

"I may take some human documents along with the hope of procuring an interview in the White House, when the President can hear from the bottom of the men's hearts their stories," Ledoux said.

Woodside Is Chosen Veterans' Commander

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

DETROIT, Sept. 24. — Captain Robert G. Woodside of Pittsburg was re-elected commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today.

John W. Jones of Portland, Ore., junior vice-commander of the organization for the last year, was elected senior vice-commander. K. S. Jones of Washington, D. C., editor of the Stars and Stripes, was elected junior vice-commander.

Seattle, Wash., was chosen next year's convention city.

Bill Provides Money To Equip Alaska Road

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Appropriation of $3,100,210 to complete construction and equipment of the railroad between Seward and Fairbanks Alaska, is provided for in a bill introduced in the House today by Representative Curry of California.

Grocer Hit Twice by Same Train on Same Day Unhurt

J. A. VOELKEL, aged 38, 1530 San Pablo, a grocer, is going about with a dazed look in his eye and a prayer in his heart. Struck twice by the same Southern Pacific electric train today, he escaped with two bruises and a small cut on his left thumb.

Voelkel was walking down Jefferson street to the commission markets and at Seventh street failed to note the approach of an electric train. The first car of the train struck him and whirled him about so that he staggered and fell against the gate of the second car of the train. This second blow threw him clear of the train, but as he fell he cut his thumb on a piece of tin lying in the street.

He was rushed to the emergency hospital where a thorough examination failed to reveal any other injuries than those enumerated.

Heiress, Shot by S. F. Woman, Is Slowly Sinking

Motive for Mysterious Tragedy Undisclosed; Jealousy Theory Rejected.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. — Physicians at Long Island College Hospital today were doubtful about the recovery of Miss Mildred Hanan, shot down in a Brooklyn street yesterday by Mrs. Grace Lawes, who then killed herself.

The heiress of the millionaire shoe manufacturer is in a "grave condition," it was said.

Whether jealousy was aroused by Mrs. Lawes' secret infatuation for John S. Borland, Miss Hanan's companion, or by Mrs. Lawes' fear that her intimate friendship with Miss Hanan was about to be broken, investigation did not disclose.

Peritonitis has set in as a result of one of three wounds inflicted as she was leaving the apartment of a friend in Brooklyn with John S. Borland.

The theory of jealousy because of Borland's attentions to Miss Hanan, advanced by the police, was repudiated by Borland, by Miss Hanan and by Mrs. Lawes' sister, Mrs. M. E. Dittmar in San Francisco. They expressed the belief that she had been temporarily deranged by use of drugs and liquor.

Mrs. Lawes blamed "high life" and liquor which she said was driving her crazy, in a letter to Miss Billie Williams, a friend, which was found in her handbag. But the letter hinted at a "truth" back of these causes.

Miss Hanan admitted she had quarreled recently, although she did not give the cause of the quarrel. She said the quarrel had resulted in Mrs. Lawes leaving the Hanan apartment where she had lived.

And Miss Dorothy Gottschalk, before whose home the shooting occurred, told of a dinner with Mrs. Lawes, the evening preceding the tragedy, at which Mrs. Lawes declared: "Every time I have had anything sweet in life, it has been taken away from me." Then she cried: "I have been a friend, a friend, a friend." Miss Gottschalk said Mrs. Lawes denied, however, that she was in love with Borland or jealous of his attentions to Miss Hanan.

Despite the blood transfusion operation performed yesterday, Miss Hanan continues to hover between life and death, the attending physicians conceding her "only a fighting chance." Miss Hanan's mother, her brother, Alfred P. Hanan II; her grandfather, William Moulds, and John S. Borland, unwitting cause of the tragedy, who was with Miss Hanan when she was shot, spent the night at the hospital, awaiting the results of the operation. The mother was reported to be in a state of collapse.

Marine Flyer Killed In Searchlight Test

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Captain John A. Minnis, U. S. M. C., was killed last night when the VE-7 airplane fell into the Potomac river near the Marine flying field at Quantico, Va., the Navy Department announced today. Captain Minnis was flying in searchlight tests, attempting to evade detection from the ground by searchlights operated from the flying field. Because of the maneuvers it was not known for some time that an accident had occurred.

The airplane Captain Minnis was flying was so badly damaged that it has been impossible to determine the cause of the accident.

Captain Minnis' home was in Montgomery, Ala.

Coal Miners Prepare To Fight Injunction

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—After President John M. Lewis had ruled out a proposal that "the convention of the United Mine Workers of America adjourn and go home and prepare our fighting lines," the delegates today voted unanimously to instruct the international officers to use every lawful means to resist the issuance of an injunction against the union, sought in a suit filed in the federal court here yesterday.

Another proposal that the miners go on strike and remain idle until the suit was withdrawn from the courts was also ruled out of order by President Lewis.

Italians At Venice Mob French Visitors

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MILAN, Sept. 24.—Anti-French demonstrations broke out in Venice today in connection with the visit of Marshal Farolle and Ambassador Barrerre. General Diaz, chief of the Italian general staff, attempted to restore order, but failed. M. Barrerre was caught in a crowd of students and was severely jostled before being rescued. The press deplores the incident.

TROOPS PUT DOWN MOBS IN BELFAST

Hurling of Bomb in Harland Street Is Signal for Rioting in Which Many Wounded; Gunmen Act As Snipers

Military Opens Fire With Machine Guns; Armored Cars Patrol; Lloyd George Has New Plan for Peace

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BELFAST, Sept. 24.—A corps of armored cars patrolled the streets of Belfast today after a wild night of rioting.

Fighting which broke out shortly after midnight spread throughout all sections of the city. Gunmen, hidden in doorways, poured their fire into the streets. Rioting crowds surged along the main thoroughfares, and order was not restored until the military swept through the streets with their Hotchkiss guns.

The number of dead and wounded could not be determined.

A bomb hurled in Harland street was the signal for the rioting. The entire East Side district seethed with rifle and revolver fire as the detonation of the bomb died away.

CARS STOPPED BY FIRE OF SNIPERS.

Hundreds of gunmen in the area of Newstons road seized a railway station and the river bridges. They hid in places of vantage and poured a leaden fire along the main thoroughfare. Citizens in tramway cars became panicky and fled the district. Soon all cars were stopped.

The military, speeding through the streets in armored cars, fired their small arms without effect. It was only when they opened up on the rioters with their Hotchkiss guns that the revolters threw down their arms and fled. The gangs dispersed before the guns, but some of them rooted themselves in points of vantage and sniped until dawn. They took their injured with them.

PREMIER FORMS PLAN FOR PEACE CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Sept. 24. — Premier Lloyd George has evolved a new formula for settlement of the Sinn Fein problem which will be acceptable to both sides, it was learned here today.

This new formula will not necessitate a compromise from the position of either side, it was said.

It was believed Eamonn de Valera's desire for a conference would prompt him to accept this reported new proposal, as it will not provide that he withdraw from his previous stand, in which he insisted the Irish delegates were representatives of a free nation.

BRITAIN GOES LIMIT, SAYS CHURCHILL.

DUNDEE, Scotland, Sept. 24 (By the Associated Press). — Winston Spencer Churchill, minister for the colonies, speaking here today, said that the British government had gone to the utmost limit possible in its offer to the Sinn Fein, and that if it was rejected, the government had nothing else to give.

"We have reached the end of our tether," he declared.

BRITISH POLICE SEARCH PORTS FOR IRISH ARMS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 24.—British police are secretly patrolling the entrance of all Irish ports to search for arms on incoming steamers, it was believed here today. Passengers arriving here reported their ships had been searched.

British authorities claimed Sinn Feins were arming. They feared an outbreak among the Republicans, who have been drilling actively.

SAYS RECOGNITION WAS NEVER ASKED.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—British recognition of Irish claims of independence as a preliminary condition to a conference were never asked by the Sinn Fein, declared Arthur Griffith, a member of the delegation chosen at Dublin to confer with Prime Minister Lloyd George in an interview with the Daily Mail's correspondent in Dublin yesterday. He added that entering the conference without previous guarantees or conditions would not imply British recognition of the Sinn Fein's claims.

"Our entrance to a conference on less conditions," he went on, "would not give Ireland any fresh international status. The Sinn Fein has offered to enter the conference for the purpose of finding a solution which would terminate the quarrel between Ireland and England. The only thing that mattered would be the final agreement."

Rancher Shoots Wife And Kills Two Men

MONTE VISTA, Colo., Sept. 24.—William Bailey, 40, a rancher, ran amuck today with a loaded rifle and shot and seriously wounded his wife. Running from the house, Bailey sped through the field and shot and killed Fred Starow, a farm hand, and continued his flight a mile down the road where he shot and killed Ed Heilman, a neighboring rancher. Bailey then flew to the hills where a posse of armed citizens and National Guardsmen are pursuing him. A boy was killed by an auto carrying possemen.

Wife Is Victor of Triangle

'Other Woman' Pays, She Says

Spiker War Romance Ends

By MILDRED MORRIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 24.—"Girls who get into affairs with married men are little fools. It is the 'other woman' who always pays. The wife, if she is wise and bides her time, has the final triumph."

With a knowing smile, Mrs. Perley Spiker, the remarkable wife in the international Spiker romance, uttered this line of wisdom today. She was discussing the closing chapter in the romance as written by Emily Knowles Spiker, the pretty English girl, who has deserted all the Spikers.

Emily was Mrs. Perley Spiker's husband's "war sweetheart," but it was Mrs. Perley who brought her to this country, established her across the street from her own home and arranged for her comfort. Mrs. Perley sees nothing remarkable about this action on the part of a wife.

She is a wholesome looking, pleasant woman, who believes in doing things in a sensible way. She matched common sense against romance as represented by Emily of the big blue eyes and the appeal of youth.

"And as you see, I came out victor in the end," she said today.

She had just come in from an airing with Emily's baby.

"Mrs. Perley mothers Emily's baby. It is her own husband's child, but she sees nothing out of the ordinary in the fact that she should devote herself to it.

MRS. PERLEY SPIKER carrying child of her husband's "war sweetheart"

"Of course, I am caring for it," she said. "Do you think I would let that little darling suffer? It is my husband's child and I love my husband."

She is indignant against Emily, not because of the girl's affair with her husband, but because of Guy, Perley's brother, who sacrificed himself to marry Emily to give her social recognition.

Shortly afterward Emily eloped with William Charles Fox, a private at Camp Holabird. She has announced her intention of becoming his wife when she obtains a divorce from Guy Spiker.

"I took the only way to settle the problem confronting us," Mrs. Perley Spiker said. "It was the common sense way. I love my husband and I wanted him. I was not going to let another woman ruin our lives.

"Often men are blind creatures and you have to open their eyes for them. Because I had suffered I had no right to punish the girl and her baby. I did all I could for her. I never tried to show her up. I waited. Infidelity never pays. That's something common sense tells one. And because I used common sense I still have my husband.

"As for the girl—well, I don't want to discuss her. We gave her a chance. She has gone out of our lives. I am sorry for Guy. He deserved better than he got."

Thugs on Skyline Boulevard Hold Up Two Autoists

Ignition Wire on Machine Cut by Bandits to Prevent Pursuit.

J. M. McLaughlin, whose business address is 1012 Broadway, and Mrs. R. Yaue, who lives in an apartment house at Thirteenth and Brush streets, were held up and robbed by armed auto bandits on the Skyline boulevard last night.

They were riding along the boulevard at about 11:30 p. m. and stopped at Lookout Point. Another machine drew up and the driver parked it about 100 feet from McLaughlin's car. Two men descended from the machine and approached McLaughlin and his companion. The men covered McLaughlin and Mrs. Yaue with their revolvers and told them not to make any outcry.

They ordered McLaughlin to give them all the money he had. McLaughlin gave them $1 and said that was all he had with him. The robbers did not search him. McLaughlin had $1200 in a wallet in an inner pocket. Mrs. Yaue had removed her gloves and one of the men noticed a diamond ring on her finger, which he forced her to turn over to him. The ring is valued at $500.

The two men then opened the hood of McLaughlin's machine and cut the ignition wire, after which they drove away in their own car. It took McLaughlin about forty-five minutes to repair the damage to his machine and it was about 1 o'clock in the morning when he arrived at police headquarters in Oakland. He reported the holdup to Police Inspectors Joe Enright and William Haldeman. The highwaymen were each about 25 years old.

S. F. Singer Sues Her Millionaire Husband

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Alimony in the sum of $1500 a month, and the custody of her 7-year-old boy, was asked today by Mrs. Margaret McElroy, a singer living at 660 Bush street, in a suit for divorce against John H. McElroy, New York and Providence, R. I., club man and multimillionaire. The family is reputed to be worth $25,000,000. McElroy is the son of the former rubber king. Mrs. McElroy charges cruelty. She states that McElroy has an ungovernable temper and that he choked and bet her. She says she has had her husband arrested in the east on one occasion and that his mother bailed him out.

Bandits Shoot And Fell Victims Without Warning

Cries of Wounded Bring Out Police, Who Run Down Pair by Auto.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Two footpads, armed and evidently determined to shoot first and rob afterwards, were captured by the police after an automobile pursuit early today following the holdup of two citizens, one of whom was shot and the other laid low with a blow on the head. The victims, both of whom are at the Central Emergency hospital, are:

ALEXANDER SCHLOEMANN, assistant manager of The Lodge, Yosemite Valley, gunshot wound in cheek, burns of the cheek, lacerations of the face.

The alleged bandits are Harry Wilson and John Maddeox, both of whom are charged with assault with intent to commit murder, attempted robbery and carrying firearms.

Schloemann and Steinmann were walking along Mission street between Fifth and Sixth streets when two men jumped from the darkness of a doorway with pistols leveled. One of them fired pointblank. The bullet grazed Schloemann's cheek, the flash of the powder being so close to him as to burn the flesh. Steinmann was just to one side and the same shot went through his hat. Schloemann shocked fell to the pavement, and Steinmann, unhurt, stopped to assist his companion only to be dropped by a blow on the cheek either from a blackjack or a revolver.

The shot was heard by Corporal Sullivan and Patrolmen Glover and Walsh of the Southern Station, who ran to the scene and found the two victims still prostrate and pointing to two forms disappearing towards Sixth street. An automobile was commandeered and the police pursued the fugitives to a point on Market street where they were overhauled and taken into custody without a struggle. Wilson had a gun with an empty cartridge and four loaded ones.

The robbers got nothing for their pains.

OIL STRIKERS ASK HARDING TO INTERVENE

Appeal Sent to Governor Also by Kern County Workers Asking State to Take Hand and Bring End to Trouble

Conflicting Orders Are Given Regarding Picketers Stopping Autos They Suspect of Carrying Strike Breakers

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 24.—"Picketing of Bakersfield highways by the strikers' law and order committee will continue," Walter Yarrow, official adviser of the striking oil workers, told the United Press today.

"A statement that the pickets had been called in is untrue," he asserted.

"Private cars will not be stopped, but we reserve the right to follow cars we suspect of carrying strike-breakers or booze. The law and order committeemen have as much right on the highways as anyone else."

A telegram signed by Yarrow and E. B. Daniels, secretaries of the District council, to Al Wein, former chairman of the oil operators' committee, and to President Harding and Governor Stephens, was sent today, appealing for a quick and satisfactory conclusion of the strike.

"We have accepted the dollar-a-day wage cut, open shop and non-recognition of the union," Yarrow declared.

PLANS TO RESUME OPERATIONS MADE.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 24.—Word given out at San Francisco last evening that the Oil Producers' Association planned to resume operation in the fields of Kern county despite the strike that halted production in that section for the past two weeks was received in silence by the striking workmen here. They were awaiting some response to indirect overtures for peace made yesterday and from which no reply had been received early today.

OPERATORS TO GIVE PEACE TERMS TODAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The position of the oil operators in regard to a compromise settlement of the strike in the southern fields will be set forth in formal statement within a few hours, according to the word that is issued from the offices of the committee of the California Oil Producers' Association. The findings of the committee have been placed before the executive committee together with assurances of the peace officers in Kern and Fresno counties.

It is known that there is one general proposal and an alternative. The proposal is for a resumption of work that will be unaccompanied by argument or protest and to be based on a new understanding, and the other is to resume operations regardless of existing conditions. David S. Ewing, chairman, has reported that the peace officers of the counties had advised him that to start work now might result in serious damage and loss of life.

YARROW SENDS OUT PEACE FEELER.

Yarrow in a telegram to Al Wein, former chairman of the oil operators' committee, said:

Executives of District Council No. 1 would like to have you use your good offices, if possible, to bring this matter to a quick and satisfactory conclusion. Our version of the situation is as follows:

The oil operators are in a position to conduct this strike indefinitely by virtue of their great wealth. We, the oil workers, by merit of our belief in the principles involved, coupled with the co-operation of both business men and farmers, who are supplying us with both money and food, are also prepared for an indefinitely continued combat. Should both sides continue along these lines, the inevitable result will be the loss of harmony and co-operation that has characterized all but a small majority of us during the past four years.

There must surely be a way in your judgment upon which we confidently rely, to procure peace without victory for both sides, out of such a regrettable situation, bearing in mind the great inconvenience to which the public is being put and the danger to the oil properties, both private and governmental, owing to water infiltration, which inevitably must ruin the oil-bearing structure, not to mention the danger of inadequately supplying the great fleet which is now upon the Pacific coast, as well as other branches of government service. We are open, without further jeopardizing all of these interests, to anything that will bring industrial peace and harmony without victory to both sides. Can you help us?

Operators Would Tie Hands of Coal Union

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—A suit to enjoin the United Mine Workers of America from further efforts to organize the non-union coal fields of Mingo county, West Virginia, and Pike county, Kentucky, was filed in the United States District Court for [illegible] here on behalf of 33 coal mining companies and operators having properties in the Thacker and Williamson coal fields of the two counties.

It is asserted in the complaint that the Miners' Union is an "unlawful combination and conspiracy, acting in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, the Clayton anti-trust law and in violation of sound public policy," and the court is asked to enjoin from further continuing in any way or manner whatsoever its activities and policies against the plaintiff or from seeking further to obtains the objects of said policies.

'Only Weigh 265,' Arbuckle's Reply to Health Query

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Seen and heard in the ante-chamber of Judge Lazarus' court during recess at the preliminary hearing of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, charged with murder.

Personnel: Roscoe Arbuckle, his wife, motherin-law, and a mutual woman friend.

THE COMEDIAN: (Kissing his wife). "Tired, honey?"

MRS. ARBUCKLE: "No, Sweetheart."

MUTUAL FRIEND: "Aren't you getting thin, Roscoe? How much do you weigh?"

MRS. ARBUCKLE (answering for friend hubby): "It's always been 285, hasn't it, dear?"

ROSCOE: "No, I only weigh 265 now."

MOTHER-IN-LAW (anxiously): "How do you feel, son?"

FATTY: "All right, mother." (Kisses her).

ARBUCKLE (to his wife): "Are you going to come up (to the prison) with me after this session is over?"

MRS. ARBUCKLE: "Surest thing, you know, sweetheart."

350 Men Would Go Out at Martinez

MARTINEZ, Sept. 24.—Approximately 350 men in the refineries of the Associated Oil company and Union Oil company will be affected by any general strike order decided upon at the oil workers' conference in Bakersfield, it was estimated today by J. H. Doyle, organizer for the union. Doyle expressed confidence that many men not affiliated with the organization would quit their posts if a refinery strike order is issued. Doyle declared any refinery strike order would not affect the Shell company since that concern has signed an agreement with its workmen.

Oil is still being received through pipe lines by both companies. It is not coming from their own fields, however, Doyle asserted, but is being received from independent operators not affected by the oil fields strike.

Pine Tree Men Open Siege of Los Angeles

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Fifteen thousand veterans of the Ninety-first Division converged upon Los Angeles today for the annual reunion of that world war unit. Every incoming train brought detachments, and the steamer Harvard, itself a veteran of the transport service, conveyed some 600 men of the 363d Infantry from San Francisco, headed by Mayor Rolph.

Division headquarters were opened early this morning in the clubrooms of American Legion Post No. 8, and a corps of local Ninety-first men started the work of billeting the visitors in various downtown hotels.

Receptions, formal and informal, visits to points of interest about the city comprised the program for morning and afternoon.

SEATTLE, Sept. 24.—The cry of "Powder River, let'er buck!" rallying cry of the 91st (Wild West) division, re-echoed again here today as veterans of the division from Pacific Coast and Inter-Mountain States gathered for their second annual reunion and convention. A "flying circus," Coast League baseball game and a "zero hour" banquet were scheduled features.

Entrance of the division into the Meuse - Argonne offensive will be commemorated tomorrow by memorial services for the dead.

FETE HERE TO AID ENDOWMENT FUND OF MILLS

Club Arranges for Benefit Affair At Auditorium On November 19.

The brilliant fete which Mills Club of Alameda county is arranging in benefit to the Endowment fund has been definitely set for Saturday, November 19. The city council has granted to the leaders in the movement to properly finance the only woman's college in the west, the use of the Municipal Auditorium on that date. Women's organizations on both sides of the bay are pledging cooperation to the elaborate preholiday festival, which will combine all the features of a Christmas shop with A pageant of fashion in which will be shown the most charming types of femininity of all periods. Music and drama will accompany the revue, which will be participated in by scores of prominent local clubwomen. Mrs. Minna McGauley is director of the program, and will be responsible for the scenario to be enacted.

Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Potter is chairman of arrangements, Mrs. George Naus stage settings, Miss Zanette Potter, box office and tickets.

The nations of the world will lend themselves to the suggestion for the booths, in which will be assembled the stores of dainty merchandise which the Mills clubwomen have been preparing for several months.

The asset which Mills College is to the community is an argument which the sponsors of the November benefit are putting forth in their plea for general public cooperation. With 500 young women students registered, it is estimated that each expends a minimum of $1700 annually in the bay cities, $700 of which goes into the college treasury for board and tuition. Additional asset is mentioned in the relatives and friends who are drawn here on visits, patronizing the hotels and shops.

Mrs. J. W. Bingaman is president of the Alameda County Mills club. She has named large committees of former students in the Leona Heights institution of learning to assist in arrangements for the winter fete.

Stunt Flyer to Try Out Big Parachute

A new type of parachute, said to be larger than any ever before used, will be tried out tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Durant Field by Price Miller, who has performed many daredevil stunts about the bay district recently. Whether or not the giant "chute" will open, is said to be problematical. The leap which Miller will take in the new parachute will be made from an aeroplane at an altitude of between 2000 and 3000 feet. The plane used will be furnished by the "Chet" Clarke Aerial Service company. The parachute is of linen and has a diameter of 36 feet and a "breathing" hole about a foot and a half in diameter. It weighs 22 pounds and has about 3000 feet of cord. If it proves a success others of the same model will be made, it is announced.

World Traveler Held On Bad Check Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Anatole Gutman, world traveler and remittance man, who presented an imposing figure while sojourning at the Palace Hotel here recently, was arrested today in Salt Lake accused of passing a bogus check, according to advices to the local police. After Gutman had paid his bill at the hostelry, it is charged his check on the London County Westminster and Paris Bank, Limited, was returned as worthless.

Russia Is Facing Another Famine, Kameneff Says

By EDWIN HULLINGER,
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—Russia faces another famine—which will come next year and will reap death among the poor of the provinces with even more swiftness than it did this year.

This was the prophecy of M. Kameneff, the soviet director of famine relief, expressed in an exclusive interview with the United Press today.

Kameneff declared the farmers had been unable to obtain sufficient seed for autumn planting.

"The 1920 harvest was entirely consumed by the middle of October. Thereafter the Volga district gave absolutely nothing. Everything we ate had to be imported from the other provinces of Russia, where the harvests were only 45 percent normal," he declared.

OPEN HOUSE HELD BY FREMONT HIGH

Fremont high school held open house last night for the purpose of giving the parents of the students an opportunity to get acquainted with the teachers. A program of music, vocal selections and skits was staged in a scheduled one-hour entertainment, participated in by the high school orchestra, under the leadership of A. C. Olker; girls' glee club, Miss Eleanor Bush, director; boys' glee club, Miss Alice C. Bumbaugh, director, and Miss Doris E. McEntyre.

Following the program of entertainment Mrs. E. A. Thurston, president of the Parent-Teachers' Association, spoke on the work and accomplishments of that organization and urged the parents to join hands with the teachers and to assist them in every way possible. E. E. Washburn, head of the commercial department, told of the thrift program that has been inaugurated in the school, and H. D. Brasefield, principal, spoke on "The Work of Fremont."

Following the close of the program the various teachers and instructors retired to their respective class rooms where they received the parents.

A feature of the evening was the sending and receiving of wireless music by the Fremont Radio club. A magnovox furnished by the Magnovox company in Oakland, was placed in the science room. The music was sent out by L. de la Montanya, 2330 Eleventh avenue.

"Dante" Presented by St. Mary's Students

"Dante, the Wing Bearer," which was the immediate success upon its first presentation last May, and which has been presented in various localities since that time, was given last night by the student players of St. Mary's college in the Municipal Auditorium opera house. A capacity audience saw the production, of which Father Leo is the author, and which was presented as a portion of the celebration of the sextentenary of the famous Italian poet.

The title role was assumed by Leo Cunningham, well known in fraternal and theatrical circles. The remainder of the cast was the same as that appearing in the first presentation of the piece.

There are three scenes in the drama, the first in Florence, the second in Venice and the third in Ravenna, where Dante died six centuries ago, a complete failure, judged from the worldly standards of his time, but leaving behind him a literary heritage that raised his name to the highest rank.

GIRL WEEPS OVER CONVICTION OF CO-DEFENDANT

Prisoner Compelled to Tell His Sweetheart, Alleged Accomplice, of Fate.

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 24. — Jack McGill of San Francisco was forced to tell his sweetheart, Veda Kosted, today, that he had been convicted of first-degree murder for the killing of John Koplos.

Miss Kosted is held in the women's ward at the county jail, charged with complicity in the murder. McGill, who was found guilty late last night after a jury trial, refused to tell his sweetheart until this morning.

She wept bitterly when she heard the verdict.

McGill and four others, two of them women, were indicted by the grand jury for the murder of John D. Koplos, proprietor of a poolroom and soft drink establishment, who was shot to death by one of two armed men in front of his home early on the morning of June 30.

George Koplos, 17-year-old son of the dead man, who was with his father at the time he was murdered, took the stand and identified McGill as the man who fired the fatal shots.

Following the shooting the slayer and his accomplice fled in a waiting automobile driven by a third man.

Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the assault on Koplos, as he was wearing diamonds valued at $12,000.

McGill was arrested in San Francisco on July 7, together with Meda Trostel, who posed as his wife. Later Anita Diez, Walter Loveless and Owen Rowe were taken into custody. The quintet were indicted by the grand jury as having conspired to rob Koplos.

McGill will be sentenced next Monday, at 10 o'clock. The trials of the other four indicted will follow shortly.

Four Held for Trial On Dry Law Charges

John Barnett of 1376 Eleventh street, who sold, according to members of the "morals squad," the finest brand of illicit liquor ever seized in the city of Oakland, was held to answer on $500 bond today by United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie. The liquor in question consisted of corn whisky, of which one quart was submitted as evidence. The whisky was so near perfect, according to Hardie, that it was an improvement on the real thing.

Others held to answer on charges of violating the prohibition act were Jack Templeton, Patrick Casey and John Johnson, all of Oakland.

SALESMEN MEET TO FORM BRANCH OF ASSOCIATION

Men Engaged in Specialty Lines Take Steps to Organize Local Assembly.

The club rooms of the Merchants' Exchange were crowded last evening at the preliminary organization meeting of Oakland Assembly, National Association of Specialty Salesmen.

Addresses were made by George E. Cummings, Paul F. Ferguson and C. J. Liles, a new local sales manager. A talk was also given by Holmes Ives.

The principal address of the evening was made by J. H. McLafferty, who is himself a specialty salesman.

The objects and aims of the organization were gone over in detail by A. M. Duncan, who attended with Albert G. Burns the national convention of specialty salesmen recently held in Kansas City. At the convention Burns was elected the director of the national organization, with jurisdiction over the activities of the organization on the Pacific Coast.

The temporary officers consist of Ed. R. Allen, chairman; John Corgiat Jr., secretary, and W. B. Snow, treasurer.

Another meeting of specialty salesmen will be held next Friday evening, September 30, at the Merchants' Exchange. All persons engaged in selling are invited to attend this meeting, at which time a permanent organization will be perfected.

Both Restaurant Partners Accused

A second arrest, following charges of purveying impure food against George Pappas, Berkeley restaurant proprietor, has brought a former partner of Pappas before Judge Pulcifer on similar charges. A chicken in a somewhat decomposed state was alleged to have been found in an ice box in Pappas' restaurant on Shattuck avenue. He pleaded not guilty, and said he had just purchased the restaurant, claiming the chicken and certain unsanitary arrangements were due to the former proprietor's acts. Testimony showed that Pappas had been a part owner previously and had purchased his partner's interest.

Judge Pulcifer directed that the former partner, John Voros, be charged with the same offense. Constable Ryan arrested him and took him to court. He pleaded not guilty, his case being continued pending further hearing in Pappas' trial, which will be taken up again September 27.

Count Weeps When, Disabled in Duel

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Count Deporte and Camille LaFarge, according to La Liberte, fought a duel yesterday in the Parc des Princes, using both pistols and swords. The count is said to have received a sword wound through his right arm, which forced him, in tears, to give up the combat.

Victim Failed To Warn, Is Suit Defense

If a man discovers that the water company's pipe has burst and fails to notify the company, can he or his agent collect damages for injury resulting to his property?

Judge Harry W. Pulcifer is confronted with this problem in the suit of Benjamin Maddox against the East Bay Water company for $180.

Maddox was excavating a lot in Richmond to erect a building for A. Winters. The bursting of a main washed down an embankment for more than 50 yards and cost Maddox $180 to clear away.

The testimony showed that Winters had discovered water seeping into the excavation the day before the main damage was done, but did not notify the water company until late the following day. The company claims the negligence of Winters in not sounding the alarm was at least partly responsible for the damage.

Judge Pulcifer has continued the case for the submission of briefs by Attorney Roy Bronson, representing the plaintiff, and Attorney Tasheira and Wahrhaftig, appearing for the water company.

Funeral of Veteran To Be Held Monday

Funeral services will be held at St. Elizabeth's church Monday morning at 10 o'clock for Joseph F. Rusting, former member of the 363rd Infantry, who was killed on September 26, 1918, while he was on a scouting expedition. The body was returned from France, and is now at the undertaking parlors of Freeman & Cox, 2945 East Fourteenth street. A requiem high mass will be sung and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery. Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion will supervise the burial, assisted by officers and members of Oakland Council No. 748, Knights of Columbus, of which order Rusting was a member.

On the day of the final interment of his body it will have been just three years to the day since Rusting said goodbye to his comrades and started on the scouting expedition into No Man's Land, from which he was not to return.

Rusting is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bernadine; four brothers, John J., Frank J., Lawrence J., and Anthony J., and six sisters, Elizabeth M., Clara M., Sister M. Vincentia of the Dominican order, Mrs. Edmund Knoll, Mrs. Walter Oryechowski and Mrs. John Zeiger.

Veterans Give Dance To Purchase Colors

Lieutenant Waterhouse Post No. 319, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will give a dance tonight at Woodmen's Hall, 3256 East Fourteenth street, to raise funds for the purchase of a set of post colors and to add to the fund of the relief committee.

Music has been selected by Senior Vice-Commander William Brown, bandmaster U. S. navy, and the hall has been decorated by post members headed by Jack Gladstone, F. Steffans, Chaplain Rogers and Al Manning. Dancing will start promptly at 8 p. m.

GARAGE IS FIRED BY EXPLOSION OF STILL, SAY POLICE

Woman in Flat Above Leaps to Ground in Fright and Seriously Hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The explosion of what the police say was a whisky still in a garage at 444 Locust street, caused the turning in of an alarm at an early hour today, and so frightened Mrs. Annie Kutzkau, who occupies a flat above, that she jumped from a window receiving painful injuries. When the police and firemen reached the scene they found the woodwork in the interior ablaze and no one about. An investigation disclosed evidences of a still.

While searching for the owner the officers came upon Mrs. Kutzkau lying dazed and bleeding. She has suffered from an injury to her foot and was badly shaken up. She said she had heard the noise and had seen flames and in her excitement had thrown herself from the casement. The blaze was extinguished without great damage, although the garage was stacked with automobiles. So far no arrests have been made, but the police are investigating.

Girl, 11, Travels to S. F. From England

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Eleven-year-old Belle Pearlman, whose mother is dead and whose home was in England, is now in San Francisco after having made the trip across the Atlantic and across the continent alone. She arrived here yesterday with a shipping tag pinned to her clothing. She will make her home with an uncle, Jacob Pearlman, 259 Miriam street, Daly City.

Help That Aching Back!

LAME in the morning! A dull, throbbing backache all day long! Worn out and discouraged when evening comes! And tomorrow—the same old round of suffering! It's little wonder that one is nervous and dispirited.

Yet to endure such misery is both foolish and unnecessary. You want to be well and the quickest way to get well is to find the cause of your trouble and correct it. More than likely it's your kidneys. That dull, nagging backache may be Nature's first warning of some hidden weakness. You may have headaches and dizziness, too, with sharp, stabbing pains, a depressed, nervous feeling, and annoying bladder irregularities. Don't risk gravel, dropsy or dreaded Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys before it is too late. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Oakland Folks Found Relief:

MRS. C. DOLOFF, 1703 Eighty-third Avenue, says:
"I am glad to say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills. I know from experience they can't be beat. A spell of influenza left my kidneys weak and I suffered with a constant backache. My work was a burden and frequent dizzy headaches made me miserable. The action of my kidneys was irregular and caused annoyance. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. It was not long before I was feeling like myself again. The backaches left and I was free from the headaches and dizziness."

M. McDONALD, shoemaker, 2057 Eighty-fifth Avenue, says:
"I gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills and know they are just as represented. My kidneys were out of fix and I had severe backaches. I was lame and stiff, especially mornings. My work was a strain on my kidneys and it was often hard for me to straighten. My kidneys didn't act right and I used Doan's. They benefited me in every way, strengthening my back and kidneys."

MRS. JOHN KING, 817 Peralta St., says:
"I had pains in my back and could hardly straighten at times. When I would work hard and particularly on wash days, I suffered the most. I could scarcely get up when I would bend to pick up anything. The irregular action of my kidneys added to my annoyance. Beginning with the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, I soon had relief. I used three boxes and can say I was benefited in every way."

ACTIVITIE of WOMEN

Betrothal Told at Luncheon

To a group of her most intimate friends assembled at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Harry Williams of Octavia street, San Francisco, Miss Audrey Williams, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alston Williams, formerly of Berkeley, told of her betrothal to Evan C. Evans Jr., of San Rafael and San Francisco.

The interesting bit of news was conveyed to the friends of the hostess at luncheon today.

Miss Williams is a sister of Mrs. Walter H. Radcliff Jr., Mrs. Harry F. Swift, Mrs. Barrien P. Anderson and Kenneth Alston Williams. For years the family resided in the college city, Miss Williams attending a fashionable private school in San Francisco. She was to have made her formal debut to society this season, but this will be determined at a later date. Of recent months Mrs. Williams and her family have made their home at Miss Anna Head's home in Belrose Place, Claremont, giving up the old family home in Piedmont avenue following the marriage of their older daughters. They now reside in San Francisco.

Evans is a Harvard graduate and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan C. Evans, a pioneer family of the bay region. He is associated with his father and brothers in the insurance brokerage business across the bay. No plans have been made for the wedding.

At the home of Captain and Mrs. John Henry Rinder in Berkeley yesterday afternoon Miss Harriet Rinder announced her betrothal to Goldwin Carrington Dinwiddie. The occasion was an elaborate tea given by the bride-elect for Mrs. Walton Hedges (Elizabeth Maltby) and Miss Catherine Virginia Cox, fiance of Lawrence Campbell Merriam.

Miss Rinder is a graduate of Miss Head's school and a student at the University of California. She is a member of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and is an accomplished musician.

Dinwiddie is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Dinwiddie of Claremont. He is a cousin of Mrs. Edward B. Von Adelung and Miss Helen Whitton. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He is a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity. There has been no date set for the wedding.

Assisting the hostess to receive were Mrs. John Henry Rinder, Mrs. William Dinwiddie Sr., Mrs. J. B. Havre, Mrs. Walter Crowell, Mrs. Arthur Piper, Mrs. William Dinwiddie Jr., Mrs. Robert Delanoy Sullivan, Mrs. Elstov Ward, Mrs. Albert George Biehl, Mrs. Philip Elmore Gier, Mrs. Robert Allen and the Misses Constance Monteagle, Mary Frances Porter, Kathleen Kinney, Lorenne Kinney, Hilma Davis and Zoe King.

The police allege the men are professional smugglers.

Rock Ridge Club Women To Hold Fair

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Coincident with the determination to purchase a second lot on Keith avenune adjoining the site already owned for a clubhouse, Rock Ridge Club women determined to put over a Country Fair. Not a modest, small-circled, conservatively planned benefit, but one which will naturally lure dimes and dollars into the treasury by reason of its general community appeal.

So will Hallow'een be celebrated out Rock Ridge way. The oak-studded property which is owned and that which is coveted by the women will lend the setting to the open air festival. Mrs. A. A. Black has been appointed general chairman and the entire membership is being recruited to the committees which will attend to the minute details.

Rock Ridge women are famous cooks. There will be concessions appealing to the epicure. Rock Ridge women are deft with their hands. There will be a preview of holiday novelties.

But there will be more. Hallow'een is to be properly observed and frolic is to prevail. Perchance there will be a nickle dance. Assuredly there will be music, stunts and spellers galore, along with side shows, wheels of fortune, games of chance, and all that helps to pass an idle hour.

Extension and membership will be stressed in the year's program of work of second district, California Congress of Mothers, according to Mrs. W. H. Marston, president. Associations in the outlying communities will receive particular consideration from the executives. Although the season is yet young, Mrs. Marston has already two new groups to her record—the San Anselmo and the Walnut Creek parent-teacher associations.

Formal opening of Ebell's newly decorated auditorium is announced for Tuesday afternoon when John Cowper Powys will lecture on Dante. Mrs. Ralph W. Kinney, who will be receiving hostess, will be assisted by Mrs. John Lynch, Mrs. William Morris, Mrs. H. G. Thomas, Mrs. James H. Wright, Mrs. F. A. Allardt, Mrs. Arthur H. Breed, Mrs. Everett J. Brown, Mrs. Charles A. Dukes, Mrs. H. S. Kergan, Miss Florence Hall, Mrs. Herbert Lang, Mrs. Francis Musser, Mrs. Anton McMillan.

Mrs. Waldo Rucker and Miss Rosalie Harrison will contribute the musical numbers to the after luncheon program of the Oakland Club on Wednesday. Guests at the September function which will take place at Hotel Claremont will be limited to members. In the receiving line will be: Mrs. Frederick E. Adams, president; Mrs. E. R. Tutt, Mrs. E. F. Fenton, Mrs. George Samuels, Mrs. W. J. Murphy, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain, Mrs. George Harrison, Mrs. H. C. Petray, Mrs. John Porter, Mrs. A. L. Conger, Mrs. A. Sigwart, Miss Alice J. Russeau, Miss Mary Lambert.

Claremont Parent-Teacher Association has launched the year with a broad program of activities which includes clothing the child who otherwise must remain away from class; entertaining the students at occasional neighborhood dances, and seeing that the fathers are not overlooked.

The first need is a plentiful treasury. A benefit card party and dance in Rock Ridge Masonic hall is announced for Friday evening, October 7 for this purpose. Fathers' Night has been named for the early November. Mothers are volunteering their services at sewing bees where are made the tasteful garments for boys and girls against any demand which may arise.

Friendship is being stressed this year by Washington School Parent-Teacher Association, which believes principal, teachers and parents may co-operate more efficiently if they are acquainted with each other. On Tuesday afternoon in the Grove street school, the officers and directors will receive at a reception in compliment to the faculty, inviting all mothers whose children are in attendance at the school to be their guests. At 3:30 p. m. a musical program will be offered by Mrs. H. G. Johnston and Mrs. Charles Campbell.

The regular meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m.

Reprieve Sought for Man Doomed to Die

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—An appeal for a reprieve for Manuel Manriquez, sentenced to be hanged next Friday at San Quentin prison for complicity in the murder of two young Chinese in El Centro, was made yesterday to Governor W. D. Stephens. The defense has filed a motion in the superior court where Manriquez was sentenced to set aside the judgment and sentence and, if successful, will take the case to the supreme court.

World Too Cold, He Goes Back to Jail

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 24.—Tom Capener, one of six prisoners who escaped from the local jail Wednesday night, returned late last night and surrendered. Capener said one night in the open was plenty and that he nearly froze. Capener, who was held on a bootleg charge, declared the theory of the sheriff, that the lock had been sawed from the outside by Capener's friends was unfounded. He said the prisoners sawed the lock from the inside.

About Chiropractic

It is a well established fact that the multiform vital processes of the body are not the result of mere chance. That all of its various organs in the normal condition work in the most beautiful harmony producing the different chemical secretions which are necessary to the metabolic processes of nature, and that the several organs are directly under the control of intelligent centers in the brain and spinal cord, so that their normal expression is dependent upon energy generated at these centers and communicated to the organs by means of nerves.

It has been scientifically and clinically demonstrated, as before stated, that interference with the transmission of this energy by pressure upon nerves at the human being's most vulnerable point, the spine, produces diseased conditions in organs at varying distances from the point of pressure, and that by the proper adjusting of the spine by chiropractic methods, such pressure is removed, and the diseased organs return to the normal condition.

Complete Development

No expense has been spared in developing beautiful Maxwell Park as the finest residence section in the Eastbay; wide, well-paved streets a double sewerage system with water mains twice the size of downtown mains already in and wide sidewalks going in. See for yourself. Go out on the 55th Ave. car (No. 7) to 55th Ave.

Don't Stub Your Toe?

ONE dark night—so the story goes—a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth—wiser than the rest—seized the stone and heaved it from his path. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in this paper? Do you read it—consistently? It is a bag of gold to many of our readers.

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert, progressive merchants and manufacturers who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every day business proposition—a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. They make it pay.

It will pay you, too. Read it.

Pastor to Talk On Faith Cures, Medical Science

Special stress is being placed upon the importance of the evening sermon at the First Christian church tomorrow. Rev H. A. Van Winkle, the pastor, who attended several of the healing meetings conducted recently at San Jose by Mrs Aimee McPherson, has prepared a special sermon on the subject, "Is Faith Healing Compatible With Medical Science?" and will give his views on the relation between healing by faith and healing by medicine

In announcing the subject the pastor admitted he was not an authority on medical science, but added that he was probably as well informed on that subject as the average doctor is conversant with divine healing.

"The Temple of Faith," a sermon along the same line of thought, will be delivered tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock

FIELD SECRETARY WILL PREACH AT ST. MARK'S CHURCH

Rev. Robert Patton, who will preach at the 11 a. m. service at St. Mark's church, Bancroft way and Ellsworth street, is field secretary of the Nation Wide Campaign of the Episcopal church, and prior to that was secretary of the provinces of Sewanee and the Southwest. He is a special representative for the American Church Institute for Negroes and has general supervision of industrial schools where negroes are trained for citizenship

The music for the day at both morning and evening services is nearly all composed by Horatio W. Parker, former organist of Trinity church, Boston, and professor of music at Yale University. The hours for services will be as follows: 7:30 a m., holy communion; 9:45 church school service; 10 a. m. University Women Students' Bible class, 11 a. m., morning prayer and sermon by Dr Patton; 6:30 p. m., St. Mark's Club; 6:30 p. m., Young People's Fellowship; 7:45 p m., choral evensong and sermon by the rector, W. R. H. Hodgkin, on the subject of "Horatio W Parker." The following special program of music will be given: Organ prelude from Hora Novissima (H. W. Parker); processional, "O 'Twas a Joyful Sound to Hear" (Parker); Choral Evensongong (Ferial); Psalter, Seventeenth Selection (Anglican); Magnificat in A with quartet rendered by Mrs W. L. Chesterman, Mrs. Franklin, William Emery and John Morrill Foster; Nunc Dimittis with quartet by Mrs Whitman, Mrs. Vernon Franklin, William Emery and John Morrill Foster; "If With All Your Hearts," tenor solo by Earl Williams (Mendelssohn); "In Loud Exalted Strains," hymn (Parker); offertory anthem, "In Heavenly Love," with solo and obligato (Parker) for soprano, Miss Beatrice Sherwood; Vesper "O Rest in the Lord," alto solo, Mrs. Vernon Franklin; recessional hymn, "Our Day of Praise" (Parker); and organ postlude from a Te Deum (Parker).

Melrose Baptist Plans Promotion And Rally Day

Promotion and rally day exercises will be held tomorrow morning at Melrose Baptist church, beginning at 9:30 a. m instead of at 9.45, the usual hour. A parade of Cradle Roll babies, a short crayon talk by the superintendent of the Sunday school will be features of the service. The address of the morning will be given by Rev. T R Gale of the Baptist Publication Society, immediately following a short lesson period.

The chorus choir will render special music

The regular Young People's meeting will be held at 7 o'clock tomorrow night Irene Reed and Mavis Ellsworth will lead the discussion of a missionary topic.

Rev. H. D Zimmerman, pastor of the church, will preach at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening on the subject "Say So." The central thought in the sermon will be that this is the time for each member of the church to show his colors, and to cease pursuit of the various cults which are springing up.

Famous Text to Be N. Y. Orator's Oakland Subject

Visitor to Speak Tomorrow Night On "Millions Now Living Will Never Die."

"Millions Now Living Will Never Die," the statement given forth less than a year ago by Judge J F. Rutherford, president of the International Bible Students' Association, and since that time said to have been translated into thirty languages, will be the subject with which H. A. Seklemon, formerly of the New York Temple of the association, will deal tomorrow night at 7:45 in Odd Fellows' hall, Eleventh and Franklin streets

In announcing the subject, Seklemon stated:

"It is confidently expected from the Scriptures that 1925 will mark the end of wars, famine, pestilence, revolutions, anarchy and general disturbances, and that the restoration of man will progress from that time forward Millions of people now living on earth reasonably expect, in the ordinary course of events, to live ten or fifteen years Those living in 1925 and thereafter, coming in harmony with God's arrangments at that time, will be gradually restored to perfection of body and mind and will live on the earth forever in a state of happiness. The earth will gradually be improved, the deserts made productive, the waste places inhabited, and the whole world become a fit habitation sufficient to support the entire human race with abundance"

Lutz Will Relate Conference Echoes

Rev Milton C Lutz, returned to the pastorate of the First United Brethren church, Thirty-fourth and Adeline streets, by action of the annual conference held last week, has returned from the conference and will occupy his pulpit tomorrow morning and evening At 11 o'clock tomorrow morning he will speak on "Echoes of the Conference," in which he will give a glimpse of the program which will govern the work of the church for the coming year At the evening service at 7:30 o'clock his subject will be "The Hidden Resources of God."

The Sunday school will meet at 9:45 tomorrow morning and the Christian Endeavor societies will meet at 6:30 tomorrow night The monthly meeting of the official board will be held Tuesday evening Prayer and testimony meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 Boy Scout troop No 18 will meet Friday evening.

THE RAWSON CENTER.

Do you know how to pray? Are your prayers answered? Is your God a God of love and justice? These are some of the questions that are answered at the Rawson Center, which is a "society for spreading the knowledge of true prayer," located at 405-406 Pacific building, corner of Sixteenth and Jefferson. Rooms are open daily from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Classes for the study of "Life Understood" are held every Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 and Thursday evening at 8:15. The Sunday evening service is also held at 8 15.

HEALING LEADS IN INTEREST AMONG UNIVERSALISTS

A request for a consideration of more of the topics submitted by Rev. Bernard C. Ruggles of the First Universalist church for popular vote resulted in a second ballot. The first choice was the following: "Will All the Churches Take Up Healing?" This subject will be considered tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

A get together meeting for fellowship and sociability will be given by the social committee of the Women's Association of the church on Monday evening, October 3

Each Friday afternoon a large group of the women of the church meet for a healing service Lessons in Christian healing are studied in a class directed by Mrs John Aikman. The class is open to all women, irrespective of their religious ideas

At the general meeting of the Universalist church in Detroit Michigan, October 12 to 23, R. D Van Tassel, lay delegate from the Oakland church, will give an illustrated talk on Oakland, showing its activities and industries by the use of films and stereopticon slides. Oakland Chamber of Commerce is assisting him in assembling the material. The lecture will be publicity work to center the interest of the convention upon Oakland and the local project for a new church.

Divine Healing to Be Theme At Service

At the North Berkeley Baptist church Rev Albert Ehrgott, the pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. tomorrow on "The Christ for Men of Today," and at 7:30 p m on "Facts About Divine Healing" At the evening service, Miss Elizabeth E. Smythe of All Souls' Episcopal church, who is said to have been restored to health by Divine healing, will tell her experience Miss Smythe will also lead the Young People's service at 6:30 p. m. Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m.

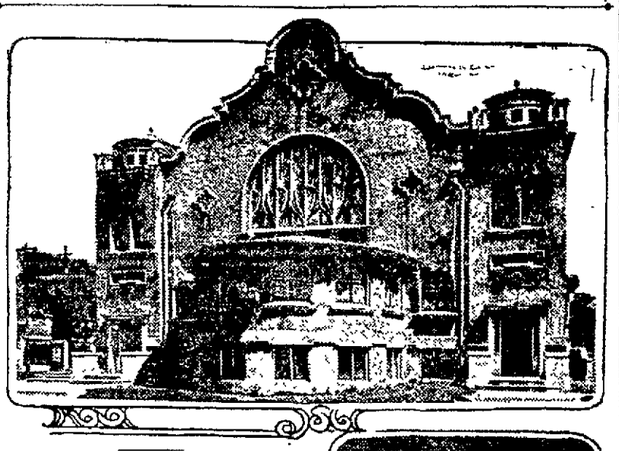

Sunday school at the Albany Baptist mission begins at 9:45 a. m Bus service is maintained to and from the mission to the morning service at the North Berkeley Baptist church.

WILL SPEAK IN DANISH.

Rev. P. Petersen will speak twice at the Danish-Norwegian church, Twenty-fifth avenue and East Fourteenth street, tomorrow. At 11 o'clock his sermon will be in Danish He will answer the question, Do Scandinavian People Need to Be Converted?" The evening services which follow the Young People's meeting at 7 o'clock will be conducted in English. The subject of the 8 o'clock sermon will be "How a Great Statesman Was Saved." The choir will render special music at both services.

First Christian Church Wins Second Place in North State

The First Christian Church of Oakland in which membership has increased more than 200 per cent during the last five years. Below is REV. H. A. VAN WINKLE, the pastor, who tomorrow preaches the first sermon of the sixth year of his pastorate.

Local Congregation Climbs From 16th Position; Pastor Has Anniversary.

"Constant growth in every department of the church has characterized the activities of the First Christian church, and has resulted in the church climbing from sixteenth to second place among the churches of the Northern California Conference in respect to membership, missionary and benevolent giving. This statement was made yesterday by Rev. H A Van Winkle, pastor, who, tomorrow morning preaches the first sermon of the sixth year of his pastorate.

Interesting figures, compiled by the pastor, verify his statement. A net gain in membership of more than 200 per cent is reported Two hundred and seventy wedding ceremonies have been performed and 1026 evangelistic sermons have been preached In twelve minutes one Sunday morning $12,000 was raised to cancel all indebtedness against the church property

WORK GRATIFYING HERE.

Commenting on his pastorate, Dr. Van Winkle said yesterday.

"How anyone can live in the great bay district five years and then feel satisfied anywhere else is more than I can see. My five years' work here has been pleasant and gratifying beyond what I anticipated when I preached my first sermon as pastor of this church the fourth Sunday in September, 1916. Since that time our growth has been rapid, due to the unfaltering faith possessed by our congregation, combined with the splendid harmony and cooperation on the part of the entire membership."

When asked about his former experience as a pastor, Dr. Van Winkle said:

"There isn't much to tell for this is only my third pastorate since graduating from college. The others were for two and three years, respectively. The first was in the community where I was born, and only two hundred miles from where my father arrived on the Pacific coast in 1859, after a five-months trip with an ox team from Tennessee.

"During the first two pastorates, I tried to discover the rleationship of my chosen work and the church itself to the community, and then set about the task in a practical way. We really have to go through two colleges before we can accomplish much as pastors. Everyone knows what the first one is, but the second is the one where we learn how to apply what we think we know when we finish the first one."

NEW CHURCH PLANNED.

Returning to the subject of the First Christian church Dr Van Winkle stated that plans are being contemplated for a new building project. "We cannot put it off much longer," he stated. The crowded condition of our building, especially the last few Sundays, tells its own story.

YELLOWSTONE TRIP THEME OF TALK BY DR. SNAPE

Rev. John Snape, pastor of the First Baptist church, will continue his series of sermons relative to his extended vacation trip during August, his subject tomorrow night being "Wonders of Yellowstone, or Jesus Christ the Inspiration Point of History." A large audience listened attentively to his address last Sunday night, introducing the series in which he outlined the 4200-mile trip. There will be appropriate music in connection with the service.

At 11 a. m. Dr. Snape will speak on "The Holy Spirit and the Minister," thus carrying out the theme of last Sunday morning on "The Baptism of the Holy Spirit." Following the sermon, a memorial window will be dedicated in memory of Rev. J. N. Burroughs, who was one of our best known Baptist preachers in Northern California in years gone by. The window will be unveiled by two grandchildren, Margaret Trewhitt and Jack Currie. The three daughters living in Oakland who are putting in the memorial window are Mrs. James Trewhitt, Mrs. C. E. Hall and Mrs. A. Currie.

Tomorrow is "Promotion Day" in the Sunday school. All the pupils and teachers will assemble in the church auditorium at 9:30 a. m, where a unique program will be given by the graduates going to a higher department, and others. New classes will be organized and the work for the ensuing year started out with much enthusiasm.

Sunday Sermons and Services

ST. JAMES CHURCH ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY TOMORROW

More than forty young people of St. James Presbyterian church, Fourteenth avenue and East Thirty-eighth street, were present last Sunday morning to form the orchestra and chorus choir, which are to be features of all services in St. James church in the future. During the week the orchestra and chorus have been practicing under the direction of Lieutenant Donald Stewart, and both organizations will have a part in the musical program tomorrow night. In addition Mrs. G. F. Spencer and Lieutenant Stewart will give a duet number, "As Pants the Hart," by Danks.

The Sunday [illegible] of which Ira N. Allen is superintendent, is introducing a new song book with choice new music at the regular Sunday school services tomorrow morning. Results of the flag contest which is being carried on between the boys and girls of the school gave the boys the larger per cent of members present, and the girls the larger number of new scholars.

Tomorrow morning communion will be celebrated at 11 o'clock. Rev. John B. Donaldson, the pastor, will consider the topic "Bread and Peace." Tomorrow's service culminates the rally month and will afford the last opportunity for the absentees to register attendance for September.

Presbyterians Plan Rally in October

October will be rally month for the members of Centennial Presbyterian church, Twenty-fourth avenue and Foothill boulevard, according to an announcement by the pastor, Rev. Edward C. Phlleo. A special program is being arranged for the month. One of the features of the program will be a school of missions.

"A Splendid Church That Needs to Repent" is the subject of a sermon which Rev. Phlleo will deliver at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, and in the evening he will speak again, using as his subject, "The Living God."

Christian Endeavor services are held at 6:30 tomorrow night. Both the intermediate and senior branches meet at that time. The study of John's gospel will be continued at the Wednesday evening prayer service at 7:45 o'clock.

MISS LULU CRANDALL, the new director of Religious Education at Union Street Presbyterian Church. Her appointment recently is in line with the community and Americanization program the church and Sunday school are carrying out this fall and winter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TO OBSERVE ITS 20 ANNIVERSARY

Services celebrating the second anniversary of the founding of the Elmhurst Christian Sunday school will be held tomorrow morning. Every member of the church and Sunday school has been requested to be present tomorrow morning.

Rev. George B. Bradford will be the speaker at the Sunday school hour tomorrow, and will also speak at the devotional hour, 11 o'clock. "Stewardship" will be the subject discussed. The class in personal evangelism will meet on Wednesday night in the future. Supper will be served at the church for those who desire to come there directly from work.

October 2 will be Promotion Day in the Bible school. A number of new classes will be formed and four new teachers will be added. The school will be more thoroughly graded than before and will have classes for all ages.

The basketball court is now complete, it is announced, and clubs are being formed.

St. John's Rector Announces Program

Father John Farrell, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Elgbih and Grove streets, will preach tomorrow morning on "The Greatest Question of the Greatest Century." "Wizards of Joy" will be his evening subject.

The large chorus with Mrs. William H. Rost at the organ will sing Eyre's Mass in E flat and the anthem "Seek Ye the Lord" at the offertory in the morning service. The musical features of the evening service will be a soprano solo by Mrs. Castle Lansdale and a full choral service.

St. Michael and All Angles will be observed as a festival day next Thursday with services at 7:30 and 9:30 a. m.

St. Mary's Will Observe Rosary Sunday Tomorrow

TOMORROW is known as Rosary Sunday in Catholic circles and will be observed with special devotions at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Eighth and Jefferson streets. In addition to the low masses at 6:30, 8, 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning, there will be a high mass at 11 o'clock and a low mass at 12:15. At the 11 o'clock service St. Mary's conservatory choir under the direction of Prof. Norman P. Wilkie will sing "Millurd's Mass." Mrs. Florence Gregory will be at the organ. At the offertory Mrs. Millar will sing Dalreigo's "Ave Maria." Portions of this music will be repeated at the 12:15 service. The sermons at the masses will be given by Rev. Edward P. Dempsey.

At 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon St. Rita devotions and benediction will be held. The evening services will consist of the Rosary procession in which the children of St. Mary's school will take part, a sermon by Rev. James O'Reilly and benediction.

BAPTIST BAY ASSOCIATION TO HOLD MEETING

The annual meeting of the San Francisco Bay Baptist Association will be held on Thursday and Friday, September 28 and 29, in Golden Gate Baptist church, Oakland. Rev. J. N. Garst, pastor of the Twenty-third Avenue Baptist church, president of the association, will preside. Delegates from the Twenty-third Avenue church will include Mrs. Natalie Montgomery, Rev. H. G. Jackson, Mrs. L. E. Leaves, Mrs. A. L. Stephens, J. Hillis, Mrs. C. K. Benson, Miss Phyllis Watson, and Dana Bryson.

Morning sessions will begin at 9:30, afternoon sessions at 2 o'clock and evening sessions at 7:30. Interesting programs, featuring addresses by prominent ministers from the bay region, have been arranged.

"Be Still and Know That I Am God" is the subject of the sermon Rev. Garst will deliver at the 11 o'clock hour tomorrow. Sunday school services are held at 9:15 a. m. and the young people will hold their meeting at 6:30 tomorrow night. The evening service of song and sermon will be held at 7:45.

The board of deacons and deaconesses meets in the church at 7:45 Tuesday evening for the last regular meeting before the election of the new board. The annual election of officers takes place on Wednesday evening at 7:45.

'No Summer Slump' Banner' Won By Elmhurst Sunday School

With an increase of 124 per cent in membership over last year, Elmhurst Christian Sunday school won the "No Summer Slump" banner offered by the Oakland TRIBUNE to the Sunday school showing the largest increase in membership between June 19 and September 18. Last year's attendance over the same period was used in figuring the increase.

Mrs. Lorena Coulter is the superintendent of the Elmhurst Sunday school. She attributes the remarkable showing of the school, namely an increase in average attendance of 46 in 1920 to 256 in 1921, to businesslike methods and to the program which the Sunday school has inaugurated in an endeavor to make the services interesting to every member. "It isn't hard to build up your Sunday school attendance when you are building up the church as well," Mrs. Coulter states, and we found that interest in the church was increased by Sunday school activity, and vice versa."

The First Congregational Sunday school, of which the assistant pastor, Rev. Fred Morrison, is superintendent, won second honors with a net increase of 73.9 per cent. Boulevard Congregational Sunday school was third, with an increase of 55.5 per cent. Richard Nothing is superintendent of the Boulevard Sunday school.

The contest came to an end on September 18, but because of the slowness with which the twenty-three Sunday schools entered in the contest sent in their reports, the first meeting of the judges was not held until Wednesday afternoon, in the First Congregational church. Of the four judges originally appointed, only two were present. Rev. Fred M. Morrison, and Rev. Earle Goodman of the First Presbyterian church, Alameda. Harold E. Post is in the east, and Rev. C. C. Pyle of the University Christian church, Berkeley, was unable to be present.

The banner, which was won last year by the church of the Nazarene, Berkeley, will be presented to Mrs. Coulter in Sunday morning, October 2, at the Sunday school hour. Miss Agnes Langton, representing the girls of the advertising department, who made the banners, will make the presentation.

LAYMEN'S LEAGUE SECRETARY TO BE SUNDAY SPEAKER

Carl P. Wetherell of Boston, Mass., who since 1919 has been field secretary of the Unitarian Laymen's League, will be the speaker at the First Unitarian church tomorrow morning. Wetherell, who has been in the west in the interests of the league, which now has a membership of nearly 12,000 in the 250 communities wherein it exists, and will be organized throughout California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia before the fall and winter are over, will be a graduate of Harvard, the University of Berlin, received an A. B. and M. A. degree. He taught for eleven years in New Jersey and for three years was principal of the high school at Wellesley, Mass.

As the result of two previous visits to the Pacific coast, Wetherell had, recently at one of the situations and locations of a desire to spread the liberal gospel in a more definite fashion, he received the appointment as Pacific Coast field secretary, representing not only the laymen's league, but also the American Unitarian Association and the Unitarian Women's Alliance. His offices are at 510 Phelan building, San Francisco.

Dr. Tolson to Speak At Fruitvale M. E.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Harry Pressfield, who is attending the Methodist conference at San Jose, the pulpit of Fruitvale M. E. church will be supplied tomorrow morning by Dr. C. T. Tolson, professor of church history at the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley.

The young people of the church will have charge of the evening service, which begins at 8 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged.

WILL SPEAK ON TRAINING.

The Oakland Graded Union for Sunday school teachers and workers will begin its regular work Monday, September 26, on the fifth floor of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. T. H. Hageman will speak on "Training in the Devotional Life of Children." All who are interested in Sunday school works have been urged to attend.

"Limiting God" to Be Pastor's Topic

Rev. I. A. Reed, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, "The Church on the Firing Line," will preach tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock on "Limiting God." At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon he will conduct a divine healing service in the church, and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock will speak on "Tracking Back."

On Thursday night at midweek prayer meeting, Prof. John Akers, formerly principal of one of Chicago's largest high schools, will speak. His subject will be, "Who Is My Neighbor?"

Beginning October 30 and running through November 13, Rev. A. G. Jeffries of Texas will conduct a special series of evangelistic services. Rev. Jeffries is said to be one of the most eminent preachers of the south.

Plymouth Will Celebrate Return Of Pastor Kloss

A rally of all the members of Plymouth Congregational church tomorrow will celebrate the return of the pastor, Dr. Charles L. Kloss, from a three months' stay in Europe.

Dr. Kloss has just reached Oakland on his return, after a brief stay in New York, and will occupy the pulpit at Plymouth, both morning and evening. He made his trip to Europe and the British Isles at the request of the committee for the international exchange of pulpits and delivered many addresses in England, Ireland and Scotland, including a mass meeting in London and discourses in a number of the most important of the churches of those countries. He also spent some time visiting the various cities of France and Germany.

A reception, during which Dr. Kloss will tell something of his experiences, is being planned for the home of one of the members, Harry Benner, 370 Thirty-fourth street.

SERVICES 11:00 A. M. AND 7:45 P. M.
Consider Nile or Amazon, sweeping from romantic sources, and tapping myriad tributaries from regions far away. Will the great current carry with it evidences of its long, long quest? Foreign accretions, perhaps? Verily, the stain or soils contiguous, a leaf wind-blown, a fallen flower, a fruit exotic—evidences mute but eloquent.
Mark you: In the current, not of the current!
Rising from a rock called Calvary, the Christian current has swept the centuries, and upon its bank today we brood. Foreign accretions? Marks of soil, human and historic? Undoubtedly.
In the current, but not of it.
Plenty of work for those consecrated scholars whom men call "heretics."
But the big thing about the river, thank God! is not accretion, but contribution. On its banks—harvest!
Take away Jesus and history becomes a barren heath. No Handel, Milton, Angelo, Bunyan, Nightengale.
That this wonderful grace of God might touch to life the latent spiritual forces of our age is my prayer and the prayer of my comrades of the Christian ministry. (Signed), GEO. W. PHILLIPS, Minister.

"millions now living will never die"
—Judge Rutherford.

"MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE!"

In less than a year this proclamation has found its way into thirty languages and the message is being heralded to millions of people in thousands of cities in every land of the earth. "Millions now living will never die!" "Who ever heard of such a thing? Preposterous," you will say. So said the scoffers to Noah: they had never seen rain—but the flood came on time. "Millions now living will never die," but will enjoy unending human life on the earth and ascend a highway of righteousness to full perfection of body, of mind, of character, in company with their loved ones returned from the grave. When the kingdom of God is fully established mankind will have no more fear of sickness or accident, old age or death; no more dread of loss of home, or loved ones, or livelihood; no more sorrow or tears.

"MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE!"

You may be one of them. Go! Hear the proof of these most marvelous tidings. Testimony upon testimony, evidence upon evidence, Biblical, historical, scientific—appealing to your reason as well as to your heart—will be presented without cost in the lecture by

LORE TELLS OF BOOM WORKERS IN LOS ANGELES

Delegate Reports On Labor Condition and Progress in Southern City.

That there are as many labor unions in Los Angeles as in San Francisco and as large an organized element of labor, is the report made to the Alameda County Building Trades by Stanton W Lore who has just returned from a trip to the southern city, where he went to investigate labor conditions Lore is a delegate to the Building Trades and Central Labor Councils, and is also a member of the special bond committee of citizens supervising the new Oakland school building program

"I am as good an Oakland booster as anyone," said Lore, "but I could not but admire the manner in which those Los Angeles people go at the work of booming their city Nor could I help contrasting it with some of the boosting that is given Oakland. Down there one sees many sky-scrapers rising in the business section and homes springing up wherever you go. I was especially interested in the labor situation down there I found as many unions as in San Francisco and more than we have in Oakland. There is no fight on against organized labor and they do not tell the world of their troubles They promote the friendship of the worker and make him welcome Los Angeles welcomes everybody who is for that city, and as a result it is growing in population and commerce faster than we conceive of If a material man down there did anything to halt improvements he would be driven out of town

CONDITIONS IMPROVED.

"Making all allowance for the mistakes of labor it must be admitted that the wages and living conditions of millions of workers has been immeasurably improved by the work of organized labor The present vicious and selfish attempt to disrupt labor would, if successful, bring down wages to the barest living point and this Americans will never permit again. Nor will the merchants who depend on the workers for their trade.

"If some of our labor baiters had their way the most common sight in Oakland would be stores decorated with sheriff's locks Los Angeles recognizes this and any element opposed to progress, whether it be labor, material men, contractor, professional agitator of high or low degree, is promptly shown where to head in, and, believe me, he heads in, as told, or he very soon heads out."

WILL SUPPORT EXPOSITION.

A special meeting of the officers of the Central Labor Council and the Building Trades was held last night to consider the request for indorsement of the Manufacturers' Exposition at Idora Park, October 1 to 9. "Labor Day" is to be observed October 5, and a resolution was adopted stating that "organized labor is always working for the development of local manufacturing and the promotion of home trading" and pledging all possible support to the exposition. Instructions will be laid before all the local unions next week requesting that all members attend on Labor day and take their families Edgar S. Hurley, F. H. Pratt, Stanton W. Lore and W. A Spooner were appointed a special committee to arrange an appropriate program.

Girl Students At U. C. Decline to Wear Overalls

MISS OLIVE PRESLER, leader of college women, who says overalls and knickers are unladylike and undignified and who has issued edict against them on campus

Trousers in Every Form Are Disapproved by Leaders in Dress Reform.

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—Trousers in every form have been disapproved by women students at the university. Whether it be stylish knickerbockers or common overalls, the college girls are of a mind in declaring that they won't wear 'em

As a result of the discussion as to the women's part in the coming stadium drive some of the girls declared that they would don overalls and work with the men students in the work But when the time came for the execution of the plan the girls balked

They are willing, according to Olive Presler, president of the association, to wield hammers and saws and to do their share of the labor, but they do not believe that it is necessary to wear overalls And they have stated that they will not sanction the appearance of any girl garbed in any dress that is not conventional

"Unladylike, undignified and unnecessary" are the terms applied to both knickerbockers and overalls by the members of the women's council, who have taken the lead in the dress reform movement And the word has been sent forward by Helen Bell, women's editor of the Californian, and Miss Presler, that no girl shall appear wearing overalls.

Bishop Mazzinlananda will deliver the second of a series of discourses on The Symbology of Ancient Rosicrucianism and the Ancient and Modern Freemasonry at the Church of Universal Truth tomorrow night The lectures which are being attended largely by members of the church and of various fraternal organizations, are illustrated with large hand-painted charts, and are the result of careful research work which the Bishop has carried on in Europe, Asia and Africa

The services are held in Knights of Pythias hall corner of Twelfth and Alice streets The public is invited

WOMAN, SLAYER OF HUSBAND, IS FOUND GUILTY

Verdict of Manslaughter Is Returned, Court Scores Jury for Leniency.

SAN JOSE, Sept 24 - Found guilty of manslaughter, Mrs Mary Vuyacich, charged with aiding Nick Jaramos to murder her husband, Steve Vuyacich, at Palo Alto on the night of May 8, will be taken before Judge Welch in the Superior Court Tuesday for sentence. The verdict of manslaughter means that her sentence will be from one to ten years.

That a more severe verdict was expected was shown when the jury entered the court and addressing Judge Welch the foreman said:

"We find the defendant guilty of manslaughter."

Well, gentlemen," replied Judge Welch in a surprised and sarcastic tone, "it is customary to thank the jury when they return a verdict and perhaps I should do so I have heard a great deal of discussion as to whether a woman should be tried by a jury of men or women, and it is my opinion that a jury of women would have done justice in this case."

When the verdict was announced Mrs Vuyacich, who was sitting directly in front of the jury box, collapsed in her chair and showed more emotion than she has at any stage of the trial.

Jaramos will be taken to court for trial Monday

Mrs. Vuyacich and Jaramos are said to have murdered Vuyacich in order to secure $8000 life insurance be carried, intending then to leave for the old world.

It was admitted by Mrs Vuyacich when she was on the witness stand that they had carefully plotted the murder, and that they had carried out their plans successfully, both she and Jaramos stabbing her husband to death. Jaramos then buried the blood-stained clothing he was wearing while Mrs Vuyacich sat by the body of the dead man. After Jaramos had left the scene she summoned officers and told them burglars had killed her husband

The woman and Jaramos were both taken into custody shortly after the killing, but later Sheriff Lyle released Mrs. Vuyacich, but placed deputies to watch her at her home. Some nights later they arrested her while she was digging up Jaramos' blood-stained clothing with the intention of burning it

While on the stand Mrs Vuyacich testified that her husband had drowned a new born baby, declaring that it was "one more mouth and I cannot afford to feed it." She said that the body had been buried in their yard and officers discovered the child's bones in the grave where she said Vuyacich had placed the body

Congregational Pastors to Meet Next Tuesday

Beginning with the Sunday school service in Calvary Congregational church tomorrow morning, and continuing throughout the remaining services of the day, particular emphasis will be placed upon the idea of progress. A promotion day program will be given in the Sunday school, and will include graduation exercises from class to class. This will be followed by a rally day sermon by Rev. W A Schwimley, the pastor, at 11 o'clock

A question box will be opened at the evening service The following questions will be answered:

Did Jesus ever claim divinity for Himself, or was it only by others?

Do you think that a preacher has to have a special call to the ministry if he is to make a real success?

Do you think that just because the minister has a college education, he will be a success as a preacher?

Who wrote the second tables of stone, did God write them, or man?

Have we any way of knowing what kind of a harp David played on?

Was David's harp like the harps of today?

Mrs M W Maar, choir director and organist has returned from her summer outing at Yosemite and will preside at the organ Miss M. Bauisir will sing for both services.

The Bay Association of Congregational churches and ministers will be held in Calvary church next Tuesday afternoon and evening The public is invited

Wife Sues for Share of 800 Gallons Wine

Divorce from her husband, Robert Romer, together with her community share of 800 gallons of old Zinfandel wine, is asked by Mrs. Mabel L Romer, 1829 Prince street, in a petition filed with the clerk of the court yesterday. Mrs. Romer also asks for her share of $1000 worth of furniture, $5000 worth of property and $3000 cash in the bank, besides other smaller holdings

As cause for divorce Mrs Romer alleges extreme cruelty and cites in support of her allegations certain shortcomings of her husband, such as his remaining away from her for several days at a time, his falsely accusing her of undue intimacy with other men, his accusing her of insanity and constant reiteration of the declaration, "You are nothing to me."

Mrs Romer asks $250 a month alimony and custody of their four children, two sons, Robert Jr., 15, and Verdun, 3, and twin daughters, Marie and Elizabeth, aged 8. The Romers were married on February 1, 1904, and separated on September 18, 1921. Romer is president and owner of Robert Romer & Co., a San Francisco importing house

6000 DELEGATES EXPECTED AT BIG ENDEAVORER MEET

A committee is shaping the details almost a year in advance for the annual convention of the California Christian Endeavor Union to be held in Oakland July 5 to 9, inclusive

The convention will be preceded by a mammoth choral rendition of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah"

The municipal auditorium has been engaged for these dates and 6000 registered delegates are expected by the committee. Provision is being made to handle the largest convention of a religious character ever held in the city

W N. Jenkins, a trustee of the World Christian Endeavor Union, is general chairman of the Oakland committee which will co-operate with the state president, Reese Martin, in arranging the program Other members of the committee are R. C H Martin, vice president and publicity director, Arnold Anderson, vice president, Miss Alice Mellin, secretary, Ben J Small, treasurer, Mrs Reese Martin, registration, Louis Lervik, usher; Dewit Coleman, pages and guides, Andrew Hogan, decorations; Dr R. T. Sutherland, halls, Roy Brown, music; Rev. Frank M. Silsley, pulpit supply, Dr. Oscar McAllister, hospital attendance, Rev. Fred Morrison pastoral councellor. The entertainment and reception committees are yet to be filled.

When the convention was in session in Glendale, during July of this year, practically every interest in Oakland, including the council, the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Exchange, Ad, Rotary, Kewanis and Lions clubs, the Hotelmen's Association and many similar bodies made a concerted effort to have Oakland designated as the convention meeting place for 1922. In addition, Mayor Davie, City Auditor Harry Williams and a score of other business leaders sent personal telegrams urging favorable action.

BICYCLE HITS WOMAN.

BERKELEY, Sept 24 — Mrs Henry S. Villa, Hotel Central, wife of a former policeman, was run down and injured last evening by Joseph Tuomy, 14 years old, 2010 Cedar street. Young Tuomy was riding a bicycle. The accident occurred at University and Shattuck avenues. Bruises on her arm and head were sustained by Mrs. Villa.

ENTIRE PACIFIC FLEET TO MAKE HOME IN S. F. BAY

Naval Officers Hint Southern Harbors Not Adapted to Accommodate Ships.

The entire Pacific fleet will make its home in San Francisco bay, according to word from San Diego, where Admiral E. W. Eberle, Commander W. H. Standley, and Commander G. C. Pegram are making an inspection visit today. According to the intimations of these officers it is naval policy to keep the battle squadron intact. San Diego harbor is too crowded with smaller craft and San Pedro has been eliminated from consideration

The presence of the entire battle squadron in the bay will mean the added trade that comes with the stationing of the thousands of men here and will provide one more feature of interest to visitors from the inland.

CHURCH TO MAKE APPEAL TO PUBLIC THROUGH PICTURE

The First Congregational church will make an entirely new departure in church appeal to the public next week, by presenting through the entire week a six reel film "The Stream of Life" Frankly religious, and said to be clean, wholesome and enjoyable, the picture has been declared by those who have seen it to be a "great sermon" and at the same time" a marvelous picture"

The picture will be shown for the first time tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the church, and will be shown every night throughout next week at the same time Preceding the picture tomorrow night a thirty-minute service of song and worship will be held in preparation. All seats are free

The story, in brief, is that of a farm boy, reared in a Christian home, who goes out to seek his fortune in a large city. Success attends his efforts, until he becomes rich and popular, but forgets the spiritual teachings of his youth. The death of his daughter carries him farther from his spiritual moorings and he cries out that God is unjust Finally he is won back to his former beliefs through the influence of his wife and mother.

At the 11 o'clock hour tomorrow Rev F J. Van Horn, pastor of the church, will preach at the First Congregational church, Berkeley The Oakland pulpit will be supplied by Professor C C. McCown of the Pacific School of Religion of Berkeley, who has just returned from a year's residence in Jerusalem, from whence he brings a fascinating story of the new, old and ever wonderful city.

PROPHECIES OF SCRIPTURES TO BE DISCUSSED

"The Theology of a Man Who Believes in the Coming of His Lord," will be the subject of Rev Frank M Silsley's evening sermon at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow. He will take a New Testament character who wrote letters about the coming and talked about the signs that preceded it, and thought that the coming of the Lord was near at hand. Events in the world of affairs as well as in the religious world have brought this into prominence, according to Dr. Silsley The capture of Jerusalem and other events have stimulated study in Bible prophesy. How shall we interpret the signs of today in regard to His coming? What does McPherson teach about His coming? What does Billy Sunday teach about His coming? What do you think about His coming", will be answered in the sermon At the evening service the Temple quartet will give two special numbers and at the sacred concert Sidney Mazar will play a violin solo. W. B. Kennedy, organist, will give a program of popular music.

At the morning service Dr. Silsley will preach on the subject "The Chosen Circle"

RALLY HELD BY BAPTIST WOMEN

The Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church, Oakland, held its annual fall luncheon and rally last Friday week at the church. One hundred and eighty women sat down to the tables at noon, and the president, Mrs. J M. Davis, presided over the gathering In her introductory talk she outlined the objectives for the year along the lines of doubling up the membership, increased interest in missionary literature, and organizing prayer groups in the "circles" of the auxiliary.

Parodies on popular songs were sung with original words complimentary to the auxiliary officers. A quartet consisting of Mesdames J. H. Peacemaker, E J. O'Bella, S. M. Gardner and Chas A. Reed, sang.

Following the luncheon, the ladies adjourned to the prayer meeting room, where the afternoon program was rendered. Mrs. Geo. H. Smith of Berkeley conducted the devotionals on "Promises of God," and Mrs Geo. M. Thomas of Alameda presided over the missionary program, in which a short pageant entitled "Unchaining the Bible" was visualized by fifteen women Dr Velva Brown, a member of the church, who expects to go to China next year as a medical missionary, gave an impressive talk on "Why I Want to Go to China."

Dairy Is Protested By Nearby Residents

BERKELEY, Sept. 24. — Julius Heide, 1510 Oregon street, keeps too many cows at his dairy, according to members of the Longfellow Community association in a protest to the council. In a letter by George Rudd, secretary of the club, Heide is declared to be violating city ordinances regulating the keeping of cows as well as ignoring sanitary regulations.

The matter was referred to Chief of Police Vollmer for investigation.

QUESTION BOX IS CHURCH FEATURE

New features, designed to create interest in the services at St. John's Institutional Baptist church (colored). Thirty-second and Linden streets, have been adopted since the coming of Rev. J. Gordon McPherson, the new pastor. The popular midweek service has been strengthened by the addition of a question box from which Rev. McPherson answers the popular questions of the day.

The Sunday afternoon Bible forum is also proving popular, Rev. McPherson says, for at this hour, 3 o'clock, the scriptural themes believed to be the most important to the world today are discussed.

Services tomorrow are as follows: Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., Mrs R. E. Ruffins superintendent; preaching service at 11 o'clock, on the subject, "Vision of God's Glory;" Bible forum at 3 p. m., subject of discussion "The Baptism of the Holy Ghost With Fire —What is It;" popular Sunday evening service at 7:30, with a sermon on "The Scarlet Cord in the Window." The evening services open with old time congregational singing led by a chorus of jubilee singers. The public is invited to all services

Stolen Car Is Found Abandoned On Street

ALAMEDA, Sept. 24.—The automobile of W. A. Sloane, 10 Yosemite avenue, stolen several days ago, was found last night by Detective Bert Conant and Policeman Grant Hicks, in Buena Vista avenue, where it had been abandoned.

Will These Features Appear

Relief for the unemployed in America, one of the most vital problems now confronting the nation's leaders, will be taken up tomorrow by the board recently appointed by President Harding. Harden Colfax, noted Washington writer, undertakes, therefore, to diagnose the situation for The TRIBUNE'S readers. The prime object of the conference, he explains in an illuminating article, will be not so much to increase the number of jobs for the idle—although that phase also will be discussed, and efforts will be made to increase employment—as to distribute more equitable among the workers of the nation the present work to be done.

German industries, agricultural and commercial, want to borrow $100,000,000 on their tangible assets. Their plan, explains Maximilian Harden, is to mortgage their properties to help in the payment of the reparations fixed by the allies and thus relieve the government from the necessity of further diminishing the already badly depleted gold reserves and further increasing inflation, with its consequent further reduction in the value of the mark.

England regrets that Lloyd George, engrossed in the Irish question, definitely has given up all idea of attending the Washington disarmament conference. He is needed at home, George N. Barnes, M. P., writes from London, either to continue the negotiations with the Sinn Fein or to direct the desperate operations that will follow a renewal of civil war in Erin. England is struggling with the problem of the unemployed, with no real solution near at hand.

Though only a few days have elapsed since Congress resumed its sessions, the farmer "bloc" has shown that it has lost none of the aggressive spirit that marked its activities during the spring and summer. Despite administration condemnation of "government by group," asserts Ralph Burton, Washington political authority, its members stand ready to carry on vigorously until the end of the session their campaign for legislation of which, they claim, the farmers of the nation are urgently in need.

Jessie Henderson, under the heading of "Seven Days in L'il Ol' New York," amusingly describes thousands of New Yorkers tying up traffic in Columbus Circle while they chased a stray squirrel, besides other interesting happenings in Gotham

The approach of the parliamentary sessions in Paris finds the French political situation much confused. Premier Briand does not represent the views of the majority in the chamber of deputies, but has been receiving the support, as well as the abuse, of that body, principally because the members are so inexperienced politically that they do not understand the problems confronting the nation, and, furthermore, do not want to be responsible for a ministerial crisis. Altogether the situation is one of many paradoxes and Andre Tardieu, former French commissioner to the United States, explains these for American readers.

Russia is the land of the jailed, writes William Bird from Paris, in relating the experiences of Captain Emmett Kilpatrick of America, recently released from prison in Moscow. There are three classes in Russia, he says, those who have been in prison, those now in and those about to go in. As to the food there —well Kilpatrick tells of the delight with which he ate lard and raw bacon

Industrial and financial developments during the past week were the best in any weekly period during 1921, according to Stuart P. West, Wall street expert. The banking position is stronger than for four years and money rates indicate that the financial houses realize that in the East at least deflation has run its course.

The disarmament conference at Washington is to be nothing more nor less than an "acid test" of the sincerity of the world powers. Thus Robert T. Small of Washington sums up the forthcoming conclave. America, he says, is ready to put all her cards on the table and expects the other nations to do exactly the same.

Who is winning between the prohibition enforcement officers and the bootleggers? William Marshall was unable to get any of the Washington officials to answer his questions in the matter, so he puts it up to the readers

With President and Mrs. Harding and all the others of Washington's official and diplomatic colony back from their vacations, and with the disarmament conference looming on the horizon, the nation's capital stands on the brink of a brilliant season. Betty Baxter, writing principally for the women, tells about the social plans for the coming winter.

Special sport features, each one by an authority in his line, will give the "fans" the latest in their favorite realm.

Booth Tarkington's fascinating new story of the rising generation, "The Oriole," is the new serial-a-week offering of The Oakland TRIBUNE magazine. This story, a liberal installment of which appears Sunday, will be followed Monday and through the week by the remaining installments, ending Saturday.

"Nooning at the Devilbrew," one of Holman Day's best, is the color page subject in the Sunday magazine. This story is complete in The Sunday TRIBUNE.

"From Now On," Frank L. Packard's great new crook story, carrying with it the idea of regeneration, which he made famous in "The Miracle Man," continues to run in the Sunday magazine.

"Are You Lookin'," the dope's password, is the subject of George C. Henderson's latest article dealing with narcotics and their victims about San Francisco bay. Some startling new facts are divulged by The TRIBUNE staff writer.

"What Do You Know About Your Telephone?" is the subject of an interesting article. "Do you know that your voice does not travel?" asks the writer. Then he proceeds to tell something not generally known about the simple telephone.

Geraldine discusses the question: "Should a wife pay alimony?" Ridiculous, on the face of it, many will say. Yet Geraldine makes out quite a case, although all will not agree with her that a man is as much entitled to alimony as a woman.

"Mystic Isles of the South Seas," the "Bride of Mission San Jose" and other features make up the Sunday magazine section.

The Knave has something new to offer this week in the way of comment on obscure things and affairs in his own inimitable way.

WORKERS SCORE EVICTION OF MEN BEHIND IN RENTS

General Conference Indorses Appeal to Government by Oil Laborers.

Resolutions endorsing the stand of the oil workers in asking the federal government to underwrite the working conditions in the fields, protesting against the reduction in the pay of firemen and policemen in Alameda, and advocating the suspension of rent during periods of unemployment were adopted last night by the General Conference of Workers at a meeting held in Machinists' hall.

The meeting was largely attended, the iron workers being out in special force. Action of the international union in collecting the charters of various iron workers' locals is said to have directed the attention of a number of these men to the "rank and file" organization.

The resolution protesting action of landlords who evict men who are out of work follows:

Whereas, there are in the city of Oakland and vicinity many thousands of workers who have been out of employment for many months, and

Whereas, owing to this long period of unemployment they have spent their meagre savings and borrowed and bought upon credit to the limit, and

Whereas, many workers are unable to pay their rent, which in many cases is months overdue; therefore, be it

Resolved, that we vigorously protest any action taken by landlords and agents to evict any workers from their present quarters on account of nonpayment of rent; and be it further

Resolved, that the working people refuse to pay any rent during unemployment.

Copies of the resolution protesting the reduction of pay in the Alameda departments were ordered sent to the city clerk of that city.

Harold Bell Wright, Hearst, U. C. Writers

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—Harold Bell Wright is a member of the freshman staff of the California "Occident," and George Hearst is reporting for the "Daily Californian."

The two new students of the university have selected the campus publications for their college activity in order to follow the lines of work in which their fathers gained success.

Young Wright, who is the son of Harold Bell Wright, author of many novels, has had several of his stories selected for publication in the campus literary magazine.

George Hearst, the son of William Randolph Hearst, was named a member of the "Californian" staff in today's announcement of reporters' appointments. Both men are freshmen at the university.

900 UNEMPLOYED PUT BACK AT WORK IN THREE WEEKS

Industries of Richmond Gradually Restoring Payrolls of Former Times.

RICHMOND, Sept. 24.—Nearly 900 employees of the various industries in this city have been called back to work after weeks and months of furloughs. The change in the employment tide commenced about September 1 and has been constantly moving since that time. Master Mechanic E. H. Harlow of the Santa Fe railway shops says that he has nearly a normal force employed and that the old employees have gradually been returned to work until he expects within thirty days to be back to normal.

The Pullman shops, Certain-Teed Products company and the Standard Oil company have all called back furloughed employees and with the resumption of building operations the business conditions in this city are better than they have been since the holiday season of 1920.

The high school board announces that bids will be opened October 10 for the $60,000 domestic science building, to be erected in Twenty-third street.

Adolph Winters states that plans for his $75,000 two-story business block at Macdonald avenue and Eleventh street will be ready for bidders on October 23 and Architect J. T. Narbett expects to have the plans for the $200,000 junior high school, to be erected at Bissel avenue and Ninth street, ready for bidders on October 20.

The brick work is being completed upon the $150,000 Turner & Dahnken theater at Macdonald avenue and Ninth street, and with the many permits for houses and smaller structures the building business is almost back to its old time activity.

Two Lads in Fight Accused of Battery

ALAMEDA, Sept. 24.—Warrants for the arrest of Alec Bernasque, 10 years old, and Thornton Nelson, 11, on charges of battery, were sworn to by J. W. Mosier, 1416 Everett street, this morning. According to his complaint the two lads attacked his son Barker and gave him a severe beating. According to the police report Barker, Mosier and the Bernasque lad engaged in a fist fight in which the ofrmer came off second best. The Nelson lad is said by the boys to have been the referee in the encounter. Thetwo arrested boys were taken to the Juvenile Detention home by Policeman O'Keefe.

Health Club to Hold Dance on Monday

The Heah club of the fire department will hold its annual dance in Jennie Lynn hall, corner of Twenty-third street and Telegraph avenue, Monday evening. The members have been requested to invite their friends. Refreshments will be served. The music will be furnished by a jazz orchestra. Henry Barlow is the chairman of the commitee in charge.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

"What length is a cubit, a measure mentioned in the Book of Kings?" queries a TRIBUNE reader.

A cubit is a linear unit derived from the length of the forearm. The natural cubit used for measuring cloth probably originally the length from the end of the thumb nail to the elbow, though no cubit so short is known. This measure was employed in the construction of the Pyramids of Gizeh, perhaps 3500 B. C. From a number of Egyptian measuring sticks found in the tombs this cubit is ascertained to be equal to 20.64 English inches, or 524 millimeters.

"Has sawdust any value as a fertilizer?" queries another reader.

Sawdust has no value whatever as a fertilizer. It is used to lighten heavy adobe soils and make them more workable, but otherwise has no value.

Bequests Are Made By Mary E. Horton

The Horton school of Oakland, besides home and foreign missionary enterprises, and Mount Holyoke college are remembered in the will of Mary E. Horton, which has been filed with County Clerk George E. Gross.

The petition for probate declares the estate is worth more than $10,000. The will directs that $2000 left by a sister, Ellen M. Horton, to the Congregational church of Barrington, Rhode Island, which never has been paid, be turned over and that $3000 be added to the amount to provide a memorial for their father, Rev. Francis Horton.

Mrs. Lucy H. Anthony, a sister, is given the interest from the estate and $600 a year during her life, following which the balance of the estate, after tokens of remembrance are provided for friends, is to be divided into four parts and given to the Horton school of Oakland, the alumni fund of Mount Holyoke college of South Hadley, Mass., the American board of commissioners for foreign missions and the Home Missionary society. The bequest to the Horton school is on condition that the name of Horton be retained.

Customs rules that there shall be no children born on the island of Miyajima, Japan, and any moth giving birth to a child on the island is exiled for thirty days.

PROSPERITY WAVE TO SWEEP STATE, BANKER DECLARES

Jonathan S. Dodge Predicts Era of Good Times; California Conditions Sound.

California is on the high road to new wealth, widely distributed and soundly administered, in the opinion of Jonathan S. Dodge, superintendent of banks, who delivered an address before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco yesterday.

"It is my very serious belief," said Dodge after he had reviewed conditions, "that we are on the threshold of unexampled prosperity. The wonderful resources of California are yet to be exploited and our savings banks have a great work to perform in assisting in that task which has as its objective the organization and realization of our natural resources.

"Our banks and our people have recovered from the illusion that Europe is our only market. We have an immense trading wealth in our food products and raw material. North and South America, the Orient and Africa need what we produce and both our bankers and our people are sensible of this very vital fact."

Dodge presented figures from banks with which he was familiar to show the gains made and proved with statistics that California is in the soundest condition of any state in the union.

Wounded Men to Be Legion Guests

All wounded ex-service men who are at present convalescent in hospitals and all vocational training students in the Eastbay district will be guests of Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion tonight when the post will stage a barbecue, entertainment and dance at Nelson's Nursery, Twenty-fifth street and Foothill boulevard.

A program of entertainment, consisting of some of the best amateur and professional vocalists and musicians to be secured in the Eastbay district, has been prepared. The program will follow the barbecue. The barbecue will be served army style. Wounded men will be served at tables. Following the entertainment there will be a dance. Wives, sweethearts and families of the men are also invited.

Delay of Stranded Sailors Explained

ALAMEDA, Sept. 24. — Explanations were made last night to Mayor Frank Otis by Chairman Lasker of the United States Shipping Board as to why the board had been unable for some time to do anything for the boys that were stranded on the steamer Monongahela. The board had sold the ship to the Victor H. Fox company. When the Victor H. Fox company went insolvent the board was not in a position to take over the debts and other obligations of the insolvent company. This, the chairman of the shipping board explained, was the reason why it took so long to return the boys to Alameda, from which point they had shipped.

PEGGY, 14, TAKES BOBBY; FOR JOY RIDE; GAS GONE

Adventure ended for Peggy Anderson, age 14, and Bobby Malone, age 1, in San Leandro yesterday when the gas in the machine Peggy "borrowed" from her aunt, Mrs. H. L. Malone, 2111 Buena Vista avenue, Alameda, was exhausted, and a service station man telephoned the Oakland police.

"Bobbie cried, and I took him for a ride to make him stop," is the explanation Peggy gave of her escapade, according to the authorities.

When Mrs. Malone went shopping she took her niece and small son along. They remained in the automobile while she entered the shop. When she returned children and machine had disappeared. She reported to the police. Visions of kidnapers floated before the minds of the sleuths. An hour later Peggy drew up to a gas station in San Leandro, with empty gas tank. She ordered it filled. The hitch came when she could produce no money to cover the charges. Bobby wailed. Later Malone went to the rescue of his niece and young son.

INTELLIGENCE TEST VALUE IS SHOWN AT U. C.

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—As proof of the practical value of the Thorndyke intelligence tests which were given to the students entering the university last semester, Professor J. V. Breitweiser announced today figures concerning the group of entrants.

"All who made less than 34 points in the test," he says, "failed to pass their first semester's college work, and were dropped from the rolls. All who passed with a grade of 80 points or better out of the possible 153, with one exception, succeeded in securing enough credits to remain in the university."

Fugitive Bad Check Suspect Is Caught

BERKELEY, Sept. 24. — Erwin Rendall, working under a half dozen aliases, "gentleman" burglar and bad check passer suspect, who escaped from Inspector A. R. Mehrtens in Sacramento last week, is reported booked under the name of George E. Cappin in the Marysville jail. His arrest in that city followed an attempt to pass a bad check.

Rendall's identification was made through fingerprints sent out from the office of Clarence Morrill, State superintendent of identification. Rendall will probably be brought to Berkeley for trial. Rendall was taken into custody a fortnight ago after attempting to cash a check bearing the name of Herbert Jones, at the First National Bank. He confessed, the police say, to entering a half dozen Berkeley homes, where he stole documents bearing signatures and jewelry, later copying the signatures to pass bad checks. He said he made almost $3000 in this manner, the police say.

Program Attractive For Closing Concert

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—As the crowning event of Berkeley's Music Festival, composers of the Bohemian club will present a program tonight in the Greek theater.

This afternoon more than 2000 school children of the city participated in a concert which was acclaimed as a triumph in musical endeavor among children. A record audience was on hand to enthusiastically applaud the elaborate program of vocal, instrumental and other musical features.

Excerpts from the grand opera, "Egypt," the latest composition from the pen of William J. McCoy, will be offered as an attraction tonight. Two noted artists personally directed by McCoy will take part. Mrs. B. G. Rettallick will play the role of Cleopatra and Charles Bulotti that of Anthony.

Two other features of the concluding concert will be the presentation of fantasias from two Grove plays. A festival orchestra and a specially-trained chorus will assist in the numbers.

SLAYER SUSPECT HELD.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 24.—A Chinese, believed to be Wang Tuck Jick, indicted in Fresno on a murder charge, is held in the city jail here for identification. He is alleged to have killed Fook Kee June 7, and relatives of Kee have offered $1,000 reward for his arrest.

FIRE CAPTAIN NAMED.

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—Lieutenant J. J. Fallon of the Berkeley Fire Department was elevated to the rank of acting captain yesterday by the council to fill a vacancy caused by the granting of a leave of absence to Captain Stephen Kenny. F. J. Sullivan, member of Engine Company No. 2, was granted a leave of absence for two months, beginning October 1.

CARRARA, GENTLE TAKE HONORS IN SINGING OF 'AIDA'

Verdi's Opera Is Presented Before Large Audience by Scotti Company.

"Aida," Verdi's great opera, with its resplendent setting of ancient Memphis, was sung last night at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco by the Scotti Grand Opera company before a huge audience.

With its martial airs, brilliant coloring and large choruses, "Aida" is always popular with the public. The huge dimensions of the Civic Auditorium seem especially adapted for this production, though evidently too large for some of the operas that preceded last night's.

Olga Carrara gave a splendid vocal and artistic interpretation of the title role. As the Ethiopian princess, in captivity and exile, who strives for Rhadames' love in rivalry with the regal Amneris, the role of "Aida" is a tragic one that calls for expert acting, as well as perfect rendering of the great arias, and Miss Carrara has accomplished both.

PALET MAKES DEBUT.

Jose Palet made his debut as Rhadames. He seemed slightly nervous during the first act, experiencing some difficulty placing his voice in the auditorium, but as he sang he gained confidence, and the audience was enabled to judge a full, dramatic and firm voice of great possibilities.

Alice Gentle, dignified and scornful, made a supreme Amneris—beautiful and firm in her role. She sang splendidly, and with inspiration.

Greek Evans made a decided impression as the barbaric King of Ethiopia, a role he interpreted sonorously. Italo Picchi took the role of Ramfis, and Louis d'Angelo acted the Pharaoh. Pulgenzo Guerrieri conducted the orchestra score.

THREE OPERAS TODAY.

This afternoon the grand opera company will give "La Boheme," adapted from Henri Murger's great "La Vie de Boheme," with Puccini's music. Tonight Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana," the ever popular opera of Sicilian love and jealousy, will be given, to be followed by Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci," when once again "Canio" will sing: "For is not the clown a man with a heart?"

All thre operas have been popular for years, and are likely to remain among the evergreens. "La Boheme" was first sung in 1896 in Turin, the Cavalleria in 1890, in Rome, and Pagliacci in Milan, 1892.

WOMAN ASKS DIVORCE.

MERCED, Sept. 24.—Mattie Triplett Thompson of Dos Palos has commenced divorce proceedings against Paul S. Thompson, charging that defendant abandoned her in November, 1918. They were married in May of that year.

THIEF RETURNS TO TIE STOLEN WATCH TO DOOR

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—After stealing a $25 watch from Mrs. Gordon Robertson, 3228 Adeline street, a daring daylight burglar returned yesterday to tie the watch on the rear door of the partment. The watch bore the name of Mrs. Robertson, and its identification marks evidently frightened the burglar.

William F. Krahn, theater owner, of 3226 Adeline street, suffered by the return of the burglar. Jewelry valued at $300 was taken from the Krahn home. Besides the watch, several pins and a locket and chain were taken from the Robertson apartment.

Dr. Fenton Resigns From Charity Body

The resignation of Dr. Susan J. Fenton from the presidency of the Associated Charities yesterday was followed by the election of Benjamin E. Shapro to the executive office. Dr Fenton retires from active direction of the important organization to devote herself to leadership in special lines of welfare relating to the children's department of the society. She will become chairman of the children's committee. Tribute was paid Dr. Fenton in recognition of her valuable service with the Associated Charities by her fellow directors.

Shapro, who succeeds to the presidency, has been prominently identified with the organization. Directors are: Roscoe Jones, Judge J. J. Allen, F. D. Moyer, Miss Annie Florence Brown, A. Jonas, R. A. Leet, Miss Elizabeth Sherman, Dr. Sarah Shuey, Father Robert Sampson, C. S. Morse. Miss Elizabeth Skeele is executive secretary.

Piedmont Fire Chief On Way to Victoria

PIEDMONT, Sept. 24.—Chief Walter E. Culver of the Piedmont Fire Department is on his way to Victoria, B. C., as a delegate to the twenty-eighth annual gathering of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs, which will be held in that city September 27 to 30 inclusive. From Victoria, Chief Culver will go to Atlanta, Ga., to attend the national fire chiefs' convention there from October 11 to 14 inclusive. Before returning home, Chief Culver will visit the fire college in New York, where instruction and training are given in scientific and up-to-date fire fighting methods. Chief Culver will also stop off in Chicago with a view to studying fire fighting methods and conditions in that city.

Hunter and Cox to Go to Convention

Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter and Assistant Superintendent E. Morris Cox will depart today for the southland to attend the annual convention of superintendents of Schools of California, to be held next week at San Diego. Hunter will deliver an address at this convention.

Cox, who has been president of the State Council of Education, will open the convention of this organization at Los Angeles on Saturday.

TRACTOR FLEET WILL BE FEATURE OF INDUSTRY FAIR

Merchants Offer Windows for Display of Products of the Eastbay Exhibitors.

Oakland merchants are to loan their windows to Eastbay manufacturers to exhibit their products during the first annual industrial week and exposition to be held at Idora park, October 1 to 9, inclusive, under the auspices of the Associated Manufacturers of the Eastbay cities.

A. S. Lavenson, vice-president and secretary of the H. C. Capwell company, today informed George Hamner, chairman of the executive committee of the manufacturers' group, that his firm would donate the use of one of its largest windows for the display of some Eastbay product. Other firms have followed Lavenson's initiative, and it is expected that during the period the exposition is being held that a hundred or more down town display windows will contain local manufacturers' products.

George Sheldon, chairman of the parade committee, today announced that one of the features of the parade to be held the afternoon of October 1 would be a fleet of tractor "cruisers," both six and 36 horsepower, from the C. L. Best Tractor Co. Sheldon asserted today that indications are that the manufacturers' parade, which will be in four sections, will be one of the most successful of its kind ever staged in Oakland.

The executive committee announced that the huge tent which is to house the exposition will be put in place at noon, September 27, and exhibitors can begin the installation of their exhibits on that date.

It was announced that an unusual exhibit is to be installed by the Bay Counties Radio club. This is an organization of more than 150 members. B. F. McNamee, chief engineer at the Morehead Laboratories, is president, and R. W. Carroll is secretary. The exhibit will be in charge of S. C. Houston.

EASTBAY WOMEN URGE ONE OF SEX ON PARLEY BODY

Resolutions Asking for Consideration of Matter to Be Wired President.

A plea for the appointment of a woman to the disarmament conference to meet in Washington, D. C., November 11, was authorized addressed to President Harding by the executive board of Alameda district California Federation of Women's Clubs, this morning. The action was taken at the request of Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, state president.

Mrs. Fitzgerald suggested that the name of Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, be nominated. Miss Jane Addams was mentioned as a woman whose appointment would be equally favorable to her sister women. The resolution omitted any candidate.

The screen production of "California—the Land of Dreams," the pageant presented in Yosemite valley last summer by the California Federation, will be given its first showing in Alameda district probably early in November.

Should the American Legion find feasible the project of dedicating a Redwood grove in honor of the California dead, co-operation of the club women was pledged.

Consideration was given to questions of employment, citizenship, civics, child welfare, Indian welfare, and other departments of club activities.

Shooting Follows Bout At Drinking

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 24. — Joe Pasador, Mexican laborer, is in the hospital here near death and Jack Fox, an acquaintance, is in jail as a result of a quarrel as to which man should go home from a drinking party first. Fox is said to have shot Pasador with a small caliber revolver. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Bob Dickson and is being held without definite charge until it is determined if Pasador will recover.

Old Oakland and Oaklands Oldest Bank

MOSES CHASE, the first white settler in Oakland, pitched his tent along the shores of the estuary in 1850. Later in the same year he was joined by the three Potter brothers, and together they leased 400 acres of land from Vicente Peralta, founding the town of Clinton, now East Oakland. One year later, Messrs. Moon, Adams and Carpentier squatted at the foot of Broadway, assumed ownership, and advanced the scheme of incorporating a town. The city's first banking institution,

The Oakland Bank of Savings

was opened sixteen years after, in 1867, and from the earliest days has played a vital part in accelerating the growth and development of Oakland. The bank was started with a very modest capital, and one year later was advertising a Capital Stock of $150,000. From this modest beginning the bank has grown to its present proportions, with deposits totaling over forty-three million dollars.

WOMEN WHO CANNOT WORK

Read Mrs. Corley's Letter and Benefit by Her Experience

Edmund, S. C.—"I was run down with nervousness and female trouble and suffered every month. I was not able to do any work and tried a lot of medicines but got no relief. I saw your medicine advertised in a little book, and I had not taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I could see it was helping me. I am keeping house now and am able to do all of my work. I cannot say enough for your medicine. It has done more for me than any doctor. You may print this letter if you wish."—ELIZABETH C. CORLEY, care of A. P. Corley, Edmund, S. C.

Ability to stand the strain of work is the privilege of the strong and healthy, but how our hearts ache for the weak and sickly women struggling with their daily rounds of household duties, with backaches, headaches, nervousness and almost every movement brings a new pain. Why will not the mass of letters from women all over this country, which we have been publishing, convince such women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help them just as surely as it did Mrs. Corley?

FIFTY BALL CLUBS NOW PRACTICING FOR TRIBUNE LEAGUE

HARRY KRAUSE TURNS IN THE BEST PITCHED GAME OF BALL SEEN IN S. F. THIS SEASON

MANAGERS ARE URGED TO SEND IN CONTRACTS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

Rule Barring Professionals Will Make Tribune League More Evenly Balanced.

By EDDIE MURPHY

With only two more weeks in which to complete plans for the opening of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE Midwinter League season, officials of the league will work at top speed for the next few days preparing the schedules and picking the umpires for the different games. With an even fifty teams holding membership in the three divisions of the league, the officials have a hard task on their hands. The Class "A" division has two sections, the American and National, each consisting of eight clubs. In that division alone there is a job for a few men in mapping out the schedule. Then in the Class "B" division there are three sections, the Eastern, Western and California, caring for twenty-six ball clubs. Then there is the Class "C" division with eight clubs in one section which all means some job for Fred L. Krumb, George Hans, William (Doc) Moskiman and Lou Kennedy.

Reports from all the managers are that they are rapidly signing players and by the middle of next week all contracts should be signed and in the hands of the secretary, although managers have until a week from next Tuesday to get the full roster of their clubs in. Most of the class A managers have followed the advice of the league officials by sending in their signed contracts as soon as possible, to have them passed upon by the advisory board and The TRIBUNE sporting department. No player who has served more than three months under a contract of the National Association of Professional baseball clubs is permitted to play in the league. That is why the contracts are wanted in as soon as possible.

The ruling barring any pitcher over thirty years of age is making quite a hit with younger pitchers, and The TRIBUNE League promises to develop several promising youngsters for faster company. The TRIBUNE League is practically rebuilding now that all the professionals have been barred. It means the developing of the youngsters, and even with the old timers gone, the league figures to give the fans the same fast ball as other seasons. In fact, the games should be better contested than in the past as the teams will be better balanced with the old-timers out of it.

Calatone Club Has Fine Lot of Young Players.

Herman Harice is the latest class A manager to send in a batch of signed contracts. Harice is leading the Calatone Water Co team and it looks like he is doing his bit to make the race for the class A championship a hot one. Although he had two high class chuckers in "Lefty" Sanberg and "Chic" Mafey, he has stepped out and secured the signature of Earl Jones to a contract. Jones is not the lad who chucked such a brilliant game for the Clements last Sunday. He has been pitching for the Oakland Fire Department nine, and anybody who has watched his work with that team will no doubt back Manager Harice in his claim that Jones is not only one of the best amateur chuckers in the game, but one of the smartest. Harice may decide to carry only two of the pitchers, which will be plenty if they live up to their records.

Harice will retain practically the same team he had through the summer months, and one cannot blame him for every youngster was on the job for every game, and delivered the results that Harice looked for. It would be a difficult job for Harice to line up a better club.

Two of his regular outfielders—Hoffman, who looks after center and Sinclair, who chases them around in left—have signed contracts. Van Cleek will probably sign tomorrow if Harice intends to carry him. The infielders are already signed. They are Sam Fafey, third base; Maurice O'Connell, second base; Alfred Garcia, shortstop, and Leonard Turney, first base. "Chic" Mafey has also signed so all that Harice needs now is his utility infielder and outfielder, as he also has his catcher in tow.

Managers are again asked to send in their signed contracts as soon as possible to the Sporting Department of The TRIBUNE, so the advisory board can pass on them.

Krause Hurls Great Game of Ball for Oaks

He Also Helps to Win Own Game by Hitting Out a Double.

Honus Mitze and his Oaks are proving themselves to be very good animal trainers these days. If Cal Ewing, Del Howard & Co. are not careful, they will wake up some day to discover that some circus manager stepped in and grabbed Mitze and a few Oaks away to tame some of their wild animals. Harry Krause, the Oakland southpaw, will probably be among them for Harry, this year, is proving as good an animal trainer as any of the flingers in the league. Last week Mitze and his gang met Charley Graham's Seals, who were wild-eyed with the thought that they were going to have a feast of Oaks, but when those Seals decided to head for Portland, they were very much tamed. Not being satisfied with knowing what had happened to the Seals, the Sacramento Coyotes came to town, hoping to fatten up on the Oaks, but so far they have met with little success. They have done no better than did the Seals in their first four games. The Oaks won their third game out of the four, when Harry Krause was on the hill for them yesterday and let the Coyotes down with four hits.

The big southpaw pitched his best game of the year, not allowing a man to reach second base until the ninth inning, and that was not his fault. Louie Guisto booted a ball when a runner was on first base, and had he not done that he would probably have gotten the runner going to second. But that man reaching second base took none of the class off Krause's pitching, and even the Coyotes were praising him for his great work. The first hit was made off him in the fifth inning. For the first seven innings only twenty-one men faced Krause, just three an average inning. Of course Krause was helped along with some brilliant chucking by his teammates.

The Oaks were also helpless before the shoots of Kunz for the first six innings and they almost went out in order. But in the seventh the battery got in a few damaging wallops and the Oaks put over their runs for a 4 to 0 win. With Miller out of the way Knight drew a walk and Guisto singled. Orr's error of Brubaker's infield rap filled the bags, and Koehler punched out a single to score Knight. Harry Krause hit a double that scored Guisto and Brubaker, and Babe Pinelli laid down a bunt to score Koehler from third. Wille popped out to retire the side, but the Oaks had the game tucked away tight there.

Baseball Gossip

The Seals were given an awful setback at Portland yesterday afternoon when the Portland Beavers staged an eight-inning rally and put over four runs to win the game 6 to 5.

Johnny Couch was called upon in that inning to relieve Roy Crumpler, the Seal southpaw who had his usual bad inning. There was two on the bags at the time, nobody out and the score 5 to 2 in favor of the Seals. Couch managed to get the count of two and three on Dick Cox when the little Beaver busted a ball out of the lot for a home run and put his club in front. Couch got charged with the defeat, and it was a tough one.

Herman Pillette pitched for the Beavers and outside of the third inning when the Seals nicked him for five hits and as many runs, he was invisible.

The defeat cost the Seals a full game and a half in the pennant fight for while they were losing, the Angels were handing a double beating to the Seattle Indians. The score of the first game was 7 to 6, and that of the second 5 to 0.

The Angels are now but a half game behind the Seals.

The Vernon Tigers were defeated 2 to 0 by the Salt Lake Bees at Los Angeles. In the tenth inning Stubby Edington broke up a pretty pitching duel between Kallio and Dell by hitting a home run with Smith on the paths.

AFTER A TRIBUNE PENNANT

The Goodrich Rubber team, managed by Ray Luttrell, had a successful summer season playing the best city and out-of-town teams, and now Luttrell is looking forward to an other big season for his boys in the Class A division of The Oakland TRIBUNE Mid-winter League. The Goodrich players, lined up from left to right are: DOLAN, pitcher; DALY, third base; SHUMAKER, pitcher; McDONNELL, left field; GATTER, shortstop; LUTTRELL, manager; CAPTAIN MOORE, first base; VINCI, pitcher; BARTOLI, catcher; NELSON, second base; BRAZIL, center field.

BUSHERS OWN CORNER

By MAURY PESSANO.

Fifty clubs holding berths in the Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter league will be seen in action tomorrow, and from 9:30 in the morning until sundown the baseball fans will be treated to some snappy playing by the "Little Joe Bushers" of The TRIBUNE League. In the Central California league but two games remain to be played. The Merced Bears are in the lead over Lodi by a full game, while Manteca is third. Manteca will travel to Merced, while Lodi plays the Stockton Sperrys at Stockton. By winning Sunday against the Visalia club Madera will be the club to tackle the Hanford "Kings" for the championship. The series will start next Sunday.

MELROSE MEETS SCIOTS.

The best local games on tomorrow's bill of fare will be staged at Melrose, Allendale, Hayward, the Bay View and Bushrod playgrounds. Several of the other playing fields of TRIBUNE league clubs will attract the fans. The Melrose Merchants, who are ready to start out in The TRIBUNE league, will be at home tomorrow and should find little trouble in copping their game. Manager Paul Edstrom has a fine team. The game will be called at 2:30. The Merchants will play the Sciots. At Allendale playgrounds Zenith Mills and the Allendale Merchants will hook up at 2:30. Frank Smith and Roy Dreisbach, managers of those two clubs, are lining up strong teams for the league. The Allendale fans have always loyally supported a club in that district and tomorrow should see one of the biggest crowds of the season. Frank has several surprises to spring on the Millers.

CLOTHIERS AT ALAMEDA.

The Mel Anderson Clothiers play their first game tomorrow at Lincoln park. They will tackle the Halton-Didlers. Manager "Doc" Silvey of the Tailors will use Clarence "Lefty" Sprinkle and if right the big southpaw will give Kues' club a hard tussle. Al Harmon, who has signed to pitch for the Del Montes in The TRIBUNE league, will work for the Allendales. Another feature game of the day will be played at Alberger field, where the Goodrich Rubber club hooks up with the fast Popular Candy boys. As a preliminary to that game the Avenue Barbers and the Knights of Pythias will battle. This game will be called at 12 o'clock. The Goodrich boys will probably use Schumaker or Litza against the Candy kids.

PACKERS AND CLEMENTS.

The Whelan Market club travel to Avon. At the Bayview playgrounds in the afternoon two feature games are on the program. At grounds No. 1 the Del Monte Packers No. 6 tackle the Clement Drugs. The Packers sprung a surprise Sunday by beating the Goodrich Rubber boys. Manager Ben Garibotto has signed several good boys for tomorrow. One of them is Al McCord, who played with the Alameda Beths in The TRIBUNE league last season. Al will be seen around the third sack. Walter Hurley is another new addition to the Packers, and will also make his debut against the Clements. Johnny Francis will twirl for the Del Montes, while either Dayton Jones or Williams will work against him. The Oakland Natives No. 50 and the Calatone Water club play at 3:30 at diamond No. 2. Gene Van Houtte will pitch for the Natives, while Hafey will work for the Water boys.

The Fruitvale Natives play the Central Oakland Merchants at Hawthorne at 1:30. "Shorty" Hinds is at the head of the C. O. M. and hopes to see his boys cop The TRIBUNE league pennant. The S. J. Sodality and the S. J. S. Athletic club play at Fruitvale at 2:30. The Oakland Art Pottery plays a double header at the Twenty-third Avenue levee, the first game against the Fruitvale W. O. W. at 10 a. m. In the afternoon, they play the Twenty-third Avenue Merchants. Manager Perz of the Merchants is getting a fast bunch for the league. This game is scheduled at 2:30. The K. U. club plays at Golden Gate park against the Southern club. The Morris Tailors and the Forest Camp W. O. W. play at Allendale in the morning.

ARCHIES VS. LLOYDS.

The Hudson Lumber club travels to Bay Point. The Oakland Sciots play at Bushrod at 1:30. Following that game the fast Fioro-Figoni club will take on the Athens team. The Delphi and the Emporium play at Bushrod No. 2 at 3:30. At Bay View No. 2 at 1:30 the East Lake club plays the Laundry team. The Risdon Bakery team will travel to Hayward Natives and play a pair of games. The first contest at 12:30 will be against the Hayword W. O. W. The Hayward Natives will play them in the second contest. The Lloyd Repair Shop and the Archie Cigars Class B clubs play at Sixty-ninth avenue at 2:30. The Glen Athletic club travels to Golden Gate park, where they will battle against the Golden Gate Tigers.

New Coursing Club Opens October 2

With Phillips Higgins as judge and Jim Grace as slipper, the Contra Costa Coursing club will open its new park at San Pablo on October 2. Drawings will be held at 1497 Eddy street, San Francisco, next Thursday night.

Stanford Boys Put Through First Tryout

Mare Island Marines to Meet Cardinal in First Game.

By S. N. PIERCE.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 24.—After a week of preliminary work Coach Gene Van Gent put the Cardinal Varsity football squad through their first scrimmage. The candidates for the team made a fine showing in their first heavy workout.

Yesterday the coaches gave the squad work in calling signals. Passing the ball, tackling the dummy, blocking, and all other elementary phases of the game have been given the men at their twice a day sessions during the past week. The result is a squad in fine physical condition. More scrimmage work next week should give Gent a team that will be able to go through the Mare Island Marines easily next Saturday in the first game of the season.

Harley Carter, who is expected to star at tackle this season, will be on hand Monday. Carter played with the first year team last season and it is thought that he will give Dudley De Groot and Dick Pershing, veterans, a strong contest for one of the tackle stations. "Red" Betts, of the 1919 varsity, is also expected in camp Monday. He is needed as the team is lacking in a great number of experienced candidates for this position. "Scotchy" Campbell, backfield man on the 1924 Freshman team, arrived here yesterday and is trying out for a place at guard. Campbell has the build and fight necessary for a linesman.

THREE END CANDIDATES.

Will Fawcett, "Shorty" Mertz, and "Kewpie" Sproull are contesting for end jobs, and they appear to be capable of filling the gap caused by the loss of Bob Pelouze and Fred Adams.

Although a late arrival, Fred Ludeke, who is being groomed for center, is fast getting into shape. Dudley De Groot, who played tackle last season, can be called upon to fill in at center also if it becomes necessary.

The Cardinal backfield looks very promising. Captain Jack Patrick, Art Wilcox and Bob Shlaudeman, of the veterans, are showing up well. Morris Kirksey, the Stanford sprinter, is out for a half-back job. His leg, which went bad on him during the track season last spring, is still bothering him and is keeping him from getting into the best of shape.

The varsity has some good backfield reserve material in Doughty, Cliff Mev, Bud Woodward, Norman Cleveland and Hamilton.

Old timers declare that the seventy-five candidates for the Freshman team who have reported are the likeliest looking bunch of material for a first year team that has been seen here for ten years. Coach Duffy Seay has such an abundance of talent among the members of the class of 1925 that Graduate Manager W. D. Fletcher is arranging games for a second Freshman eleven. The first of the contests will be on the local gridiron with the Berkeley High school eleven on the morning of October 8. Mularkey, a former Oregon man, has been added to the Cardinal coaching staff to aid Seay with the first-year team.

WITH THE FRESHMEN.

Among the babes who are showing up well in practice is Norman Dole of Riverside, a nephew of the members of that family of the same name who made athletic history at Stanford in football, track and crew. Among the members of the family were Norman Dole, who held the world's record in the pole vault back in 1903, and Kenny Dole, who was a captain of the Cardinal football team in 1911 when rugby reigned supreme. In all there were six Doles who distinguished themselves in athletics at Stanford. The newest recruit is the son of Walter Dole, a Cornell man who was fullback on the football squad and rowed coxswain on the crew for three years.

Cuddeback, of Polytechnic High School, Los Angeles, is a promising candidate for fullback. He knows the game well and handles himself like a finished player. Other good backfield men among the Freshmen are Guy Dennis, Gilielan, McCroirie and Melick.

Besides Dole, Janssen, Van Hook, Shipke, Moplasky, Helser and Widdaman are likely linesmen for the first year team. The frosh open their season next Saturday against the Lowell High School eleven.

Franklin Morse to Coach at Princeton

Franklin B. Morse, former Princeton university football star and one of the best known authorities on the gridiron sport on the Pacific Coast, leaves for Princeton October 8 to assist head coach Bob Roper in coaching the institution's varsity squad. The Princeton team last year went right down the line in the conference championship, defeating both Harvard and Yale. Morse will instruct the Princeton players in the handling of the ball, punting and passing and tackling.

COLLEGES ALL OVER COUNTRY WILL OPEN GRID SEASON TODAY

Andy Smith Again Has His California Bears Lined Up for Another Banner Season.

By DOUG MONTELL

Today marks the opening of the 1921 football season among numerous colleges and universities throughout the country. The Pacific Coast is backward in starting as compared to the East, for with eleven games of interest on the card for today, but one of these takes place on the Pacific slope, that of California vs. St. Mary's at Berkeley. No other teams of the Pacific Coast Conference swing into action until next Saturday, while in the east a number of the larger institutions are taking on games today with teams of lesser importance. The main interest attached to the opening day of the season centers around the teams in each section of the country that are expected to be the leaders in the respective divisions toward the end of the season.

Here in the West the consensus of opinion favors Andy Smith's Golden Bears of California to go forth and repeat their performance of last season. Inasmuch as the Bears have practically a veteran team and little difficulty has been encountered in the few days of practice in filling in the two spots left open by the graduation of stars, the Berkeley eleven looks to be the class of the coast at the start of the year. Everyone is looking tonight to see what the Bears have been able to do to Coach Madigan's rejuvenated St. Mary's collegians. Unquestionably the Saints present the easiest game on the nine-game schedule that California is playing this year and estimates of the score have fluctuated between 28 and 49 to 0 with the Saints grabbing the goose-egg.

Yale and Harvard Open Season Today.

In the east both Yale and Harvard, who are playing nine-game schedules, open against weaker institutions. Harvard drew the tougher of the two games when she lined up Boston College. These Bostonians are not the easy marks that they were a few years back and having once set Yale on its ear by tieing a knot in the tail of the New Haven Bulldog in a 5 to 3 contest within recent times, the Crimson are not looked to have as soft a go of it as Yale will have against Bates. Comparative scores in the two games will indicate nothing as to the relative strength of these two of the Big Three. Princeton with but a seven-game schedule is marking time today and will open next Saturday. The dope shows the Tigers to be the favorites of the Big Three this year and unless Yale has strengthened she will find herself at the bottom of the heap. It is still too early to do any figuring and today's games will indicate what Yale appears to have.

Little Competition On In Early Eastern Games.

Dartmouth, Pennsylvania and Penn State, three formidable teams among the so-called lesser lights of the far East, are also in action today. Dartmouth plays Norwich, Penn State tackles Lebanon Valley and Pennsylvania hooks up with Delaware. These three rate about the same as St. Mary's does against California and shut-out scores are to be expected in all cases unless the unexpected happens. Brown takes on Rhode Island State and Maine invades New York to meet Fordham. Not much interest is attached to these games for Brown is conceded to be head and shoulders above the other smaller institutions and Fordham and Maine will not cut any ice in the championship race whichever way the game goes.

Middle West Watching Notre Dame Closely.

Football in the South opens with Georgia Tech, the one powerful eleven of the land of cotton, swinging into action against the weak Wake Forest eleven. Georgia Tech will have an opportunity to meet a representative team of the North later in the season and her schedule will be followed with interest. Notre Dame opens the season in the Middle West against Kalamazoo. The Notre Dame institution takes on more work than any other college in the country and inasmuch as the St. Mary's coach hails from this institution, fans in the West will be interested to follow the doings of the old Alma Mater. Little Center College, made famous on account of the shock she handed to "deah old Harvard," will indulge in a session of the popular pastime against Kentucky Wesleyan, an institution known only in the land of the colonels.

These games present a schedule that allows little chance for anything other than the expected to happen. In practically every case the outcome is certain, except for the final score, and in the cases where it isn't no one cares about it in this neck of the woods. Next week will find many more of the teams opening their work, particularly here in the West, and with California stacking up against the crack Olympic Club eleven the fans will have an opportunity to see whether the Bears are going to be as good as dope shows them to be. The Winged "O" will be the toughest game on the schedule for the first month for the Bears will have had but two weeks and only one game while the Olympians, with a powerful lineup, having played three games, will be in shape to give the Berkeley collegians the battle of a lifetime and they are out to do it.

Judge Landis Supreme Boss of Baseball

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—World's series of the future will have to suit Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, for he can stop the series and award the championship to which ever club he desires. Copies of the new book of rules defining the authority of the commissioner have been distributed and their contents became known today.

Under a specific rule the commissioner has the right, whenever he deems it in the interest of baseball, to terminate the world's series and to declare one of the contesting clubs the winner regardless of previous performances. In other words, a club might have won more games than its opponent and still be deprived of the title should it be guilty of any performance contrary to the best interests of the game.

The new rules also prohibit members of pennant-winning teams in either league from engaging in barnstorming tours. Judge Landis is given final authority to fix prices for the world's series.

Cleveland Club Will Fight to The Last Ditch

Gray-Haired Leader of the World's Champions Is Optimistic.

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Tris Speaker has a bunch of fighters. Otherwise the Cleveland Indians could be counted out of the American League pennant race right now.

Having dropped the first game of the "crocial series" with the New Yorkers, and with Stanley Coveleskie, the first man of the pitching staff defeated the Indians ought to be in a sad plight.

After he had lost the first two games in the world's series last fall in Brooklyn, Speaker said.

"What is a little thing like two games? Just wait!"

The gray-haired leader of the world's champions fell back on the same doctrine today with a short "just wait." There are three more games.

The first battle yesterday was witnessed by a crowd of 33,000 and the second conflict today promises to draw a crowd of 40,000.

Huggins was expected to call upon Carl Mays, the submarine hurler, to go after the second game of the series, but Speaker's selection was not so sure. The Indian chieftain had Mails ready, but he gave no indication of his choice.

Coveleskie's defeat is not a body blow for the Indians as the Chunky Pole has been meat for the Yankees all season. He has won only one out of six slates for the champions against the New Yorkers this year.

Hayward High Wins Over Mission Team

HAYWARD, Sept. 24.—The first football game of the season, held on the field at the local high school grounds here yesterday afternoon between Mission high of San Francisco and Hayward high, resulted in an overwhelming victory for the home team, 12 to 0 being the final count. Although the Hayward squad has been in training but three weeks the game proved a good one and was more exciting than even the score indicated. Walter Kavanaugh, Hayward left end, was carried from the field suffering from a bruised and sprained ankle.

Following are the Hayward lads who helped in the victory yesterday: S. Williams, B. Abrot, S. Donero, Cordry, H. Smyth, A. Montahue, G. Bosso, C. Burr, W. Ten Eycke, M. Coffee, W. Kavanaugh, A. Tickson, C. Macabee, L. Pankey and M. Richmond. Hayward scored two touchdowns, but was unable to convert.

Billy Blackhall Starts Golf School

Billy Blackhall, prominent California professional golfer, and former president of the Professional Golfers' Association of California, has started an open air golf school at the Oakland ball club park in Emeryville. The school started by Blackhall is similar to the one operated by Bill Bradley at Ewing Field in San Francisco, only Blackhall has much more room.

The school is open every day except Thursday and Sunday, but it is the hope of the genial professional to maintain the school seven days a week following the closing of the Coast League ball season.

NEW MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE PLANS ARE BEING RUSHED

LITTLE JOHNNY BUFF WINS WORLD'S BANTAMWEIGHT TITLE FROM VETERAN PETE HERMAN

WORK ON MUNICIPAL LINKS TO BE RUSHED BY ORDER OF COUNCIL

Site for New Municipal Golf Course to Be Purchased Before Oct. 15 As Option Expires.

By RALPH HOSLER.

Plans for the construction of a municipal golf course on the 244½ acres of land on the old Vargas ranch will be rushed now that purchase of the land has been assured by the city council, Jay B. Nash, head of the Oakland Recreation Department, and Frank E. McGurrin, chairman of the general investigating committee appointed by the Mayor, announced today. Already various engineers and architects have inspected the site so as to get a general idea of the problems confronting the golf architect in the building of the course.

The city holds an option on the property until October 15.

For many years, business men of the city, and golf enthusiasts, realizing the value of a municipal course to a city, have worked to fill that need for the city of Oakland, but always opposition of the city officials was encountered. At the meeting of the council yesterday with Mayor John L Davie and Commissioners Frank Colbourn, Albert E Carter and W. H Edwards in favor of the measure, the resolution was quickly passed and the years of effort on the part of a certain group of progressive citizens were rewarded

Commissioner William Baccus was absent at the meeting but announced that had he been there he also would have voted in favor of the passage of the resolution.

Situated in the midst of the picturesque East Oakland hills between Lake Chabot and the Sequoyah Country club, the Vargas ranch, the site of the proposed municipal golf course, will rank, when finally completed, with the most beautiful of the many municipal golf courses in the United States. Bob Black, professional at the Sequoyah Country club, John Black, professional at the Claremont Country club, and Dan Brown, professional at the Berkeley Country club, all have inspected the site for the municipal course and pronounce it "real golf country."

Experts Think Well Of Municipal Course.

Harvey Lindsay, the man who constructed the Sequoyah course, and recognized as an authority on such matters, declared that the property offered the best possibilities for a golf course in the Eastbay. Lindsay's declaration came after an inspection of the site with Jay B. Nash, superintendent of the Oakland recreation department. Robert M. Fitzgerald, president of the Claremont country club, has also made an inspection of the site and he too declares it to be ideal for a municipal course.

In his recommendation to the City Council, as a supplement to his general report, Nash, supported by F E. McGurrin and Major A P Crist, asked that the city do the following, in addition to passing the resolution for the purchase of the land:

1. Definite being up by ordinance of the Vargas ranch

2. The procuring of options on small tracts of land adjoining the site for purposes of expansion in the next few years.

3. Investigation of the rights of way leading over the head of Jones avenue to the property, which will cut off two and one-half miles of travel.

4. The making of a preliminary investigation and the construction of a ten-foot contour map by a golf architect.

6. Expenditure of money for the necessary water supply and distribution system for eighteen holes

Municipal Wood Yard May Provide Labor.

8. Use of labor from the Municipal wood yard in the construction of the proposed course

7. Naming the first dues paid for fees on the course, payable in advance so as to provide a working capital for equipment purposes

Few people realize how many play golf. Into the Oakland Chamber of Commerce have come inquiries from tourists, from Easterners who wish to locate in the Eastbay permanently, asking whether the city owned a municipal golf course Negative replies have turned many a future resident from the Eastbay shores to other cities.

Now that a municipal course is assured for Oakland, the Eastbay residents may play in their own city instead of traveling to San Francisco almost to the Golden Gate to play on the Lincoln park municipal course. In a check made at the Lincoln park links last spring, more than 347 Oakland residents teed off during one week and in the second 351 paid playing fees

With a sufficient amount charged for playing fees on the new Oakland course, city officials need not fear deficits at the end of each year Reports from all large Eastern cities show that the municipal courses are crowded from early morn until late at night and still there is no room Chicago has five courses, all municipal, over which 300,000 persons played during the last year, or 12,000 daily. At Los Angeles more than 75,000 people played during the year or an average of 450 daily.

People of All Classes Are Now Playing Golf.

Such statistics are unrefutable. People of every class and description are playing golf. Interest in the game almost demands a municipal course In a check made at the Claremont Country club, Robert M. Fitzgerald, president, said that 40,000 games had been played there, and the club has only a limited membership. In addition $28,000 in caddie fees was paid to the boys acting in that capacity. The Claremont president declared he knew three boys who were working their way through college by caddying at his club

Taking it all in all, the purchase of a municipal golf course site by the city is a good investment It will provide employment for many small boys and health for a large number of persons who play golf because that is the only game they are capable of playing—and in the past have had no course on which to play, because memberships in the country clubs named a price which was prohibitive to the average business man.

First round of match play in the Sequoyah Country club birthday tournament will begin today and will be played in two flights Drawings were made this week and the survivors of the qualifying round are paired off for the first round today. Dr. Charles W. Walter, club champion, and the Sequoyah club golfer who so distinguished himself in the recent state amateur championship tournament at Del Monte, has withdrawn from the tournament along with J. A. Young.

With Dr. Walter gone, J P. Smith holds high score with a card of 78, and E J. Hadder and Dr C. F. Jarvis with a 79. Frank E. McGurrin follows with an even 80. One match which will be watched with interest is that between Jack Millar, who turned in a 93 in the qualifying round, and Norman de Vaux, who turned in a 91 The two are paired off in the first round matches today. The contest should be interesting

Jay B. Nash is paired with M H. Turner and Milton Bernard will play F. L. Wright

FIRST FLIGHT.

J. P Smith (11) plays F. L. Wright (15).
M. Bernard (12) plays J. H Stineman (8)
J R Buck (16) plays C. P Hubbard (10).
H. M. Lee (22) plays C. F. Jarvis (8)

A. P. Crist (12) plays H. W. Edelin (18).
H. B. Lindsay (8) plays H W. Beard (10).
W. H. Scott (16) plays F. E. McGurrin (8).

SECOND FLIGHT.

J. B. Dusenberg (18) plays S. E. Biddle (10)
H. R. Blanton (18) plays H. F Broste (20).
D. H. Foote (18) plays M. R. Johnson (18).
C. G. Knight (24) plays F. L. Dettman (18).
A. T. Brock (15) plays George Q. Chase (12).
Henry Crosby (20) plays M. T. Minnep (10).
J. R. Millar (18) plays N. De Vaux (20).
M. H. Turner (19) plays Jay B Nash (23).

The second and third rounds of the birthday tournamet will be played next Saturday and Sunday.

Boxing Notes

"Cyclone" Gavvy, the Newman welter, will bear watching when he meets Race Horse Roberts at the Auditorium next Wednesday evening. Before an admiring audience composed of his home town folks last night the Cyclone gave Red Williams an artistic lacing, knocking the Rodeo battler down for the count of nine in the third round This is more than Borba or any of the other local welters could accomplish Here is Promoter J. R. See's telegraphed account of the scrap:

"Newman, Sept. 23.

"Bob Shand, Oakland Tribune,
"Oakland, Calif.

"Cyclone Gavvy decisively outpointed Red Williams in the main event of the Newman Athletic club's show tonight Williams was knocked down for a short count in the second and for a count of nine in the third, lasting through the fourth by holding tactics.

"J. R. SEE."

Dreamland rink, San Francisco, was reopened last night with a lot of eclat and considerable good fighting. Harold Emmal, the Olympic club heavyweight, did not appear for thhe main event, but Al Delmar substituted and gave Jimmy Dugan a lacing The other results were:

Jimmy Dunning vs. Joey Fox, draw.

Cliff Kremer decision over Floyd Johnson.

Jack Lowrey vs. Eddie McGovern, draw.

George Rivers stopped Jack Hennesey in the first.

Frank Bradley stopped Jack O'Rourke in the first.

Frank Farrell stopped Bob Mullins in the first.

MITCHELL MAKES MATCH.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. Sept. 24. — Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee lightweight boxer, broke his right arm just above the wrist in the third session of a ten-round, no-decision bout with Ernie Rice of England last night. The state boxing chairman stopped the bout in the middle of the fourth round when it was seen Mitchell was using only his left arm.

Flyweight Adds Another Title To Collection

Bantam-Weight Champion Is Outpointed by a Much Lighter Boy.

NEW YORK, Sept 24 — Little Johnny Buff the father of a flock of little Buffs, was showing the bantamweight crown to the family this morning

Buff won the title from Pete Herman last night in Madison Square Garden in a 15-round bout, in the early rounds of which Buff was roughly handled.

Herman acted just like he did when he lost the title last winter to Joe Lynch He was never on the aggressive and the judges were forced to give the decision to the American flyweight champion, who was always forcing the fighting

HERE'S THE FIGHT ROUND BY ROUND

ROUND ONE.

They met in the center of the ring and exchanged light body blows Herman landed two light rights to the body Buff missed a right for the head but connected with a light left. Buff landed a right in Herman's stomach at the bell

ROUND TWO.

They sparred for an opening and Buff sent a left to the body They fought lightly in a clinch. Buff caught Herman on the jaw with a left and came back with a right to the head Buff missed a left to the body. Herman's left eye was bleeding Herman missed right uppercut and they were sparring at the bell

ROUND THREE.

ROUND FOUR.

They exchanged hard rights and lefts to the body Herman landed two hard rights to jaw, then peppered Buff's body with rights and lefts He floored Buff with a right to the jaw but the New Jersey boy was soon on his feet. Buff crashed two lefts to Herman's jaw

ROUND FIVE.

They exchanged light body blows and clinched. Herman slammed right to the jaw and followed with rights and lefts to stomach. Herman's right then found Johnny's jaw twice and they exchanged left hooks. Herman sent right to body.

ROUND SIX.

Herman started with a right to body and Buff sent right to the jaw in return Buff landed right to clinch and followed with hard right to body. At close quarters they exchanged rights and lefts to jaw.

ROUND SEVEN.

ROUND EIGHT.

ROUND NINE.

They exchanged rights to the stomach. Buff sent a left to the jaw, followed by hard rights to the body Herman landed a right to the jaw and Buff countered with a right to the head. Both landed hard lefts to the jaw at the bell

ROUND TEN.

They staggered each other with rights and lefts to the head Herman missed right to the jaw and Buff landed left to the body. Buff missed two rights and Herman a left for the head.

ROUND ELEVEN.

Buff staggered the champion with a right to the jaw, following with uppercuts. Herman landed a right to the body Buff missed a right for the head. Herman hooked Buff with lefts, following with hard rights to the jaw, and staggered Buff with rights and lefts at the bell.

ROUND TWELVE.

ROUND THIRTEEN.

ROUND FOURTEEN.

ROUND FIFTEEN.

Last Night's Fights

AURORA, Ills., Sept. 24.—Pal Moore of Memphis easily won a newspaper decision over Midget Smith of New York in a ten-round bout here last night Mike Dundee of Rock Island outboxed Gene Watson of San Francisco in a ten-round semi-windup, flooring the coast fighter in the first round.

FARREN, FRANCE DRAW.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 24.—Frankie Farren of San Francisco and Earl France of Los Angeles fought a ten-round draw here last night.

"CYCLONE" GAVVY WINS.

MODESTO, Cal., Sept. 24.—"Cyclone" Gavvy of Newman received the judges' decision over "Cowboy" Red Williams of Rodeo in the main event on the Newman card last night.

JOE COFFEY BEATEN.

LOS ANGELES, Sept 24. — Young Brown, an imported battler from New Jersey, upset the dope at the Hollywood Post of the American Legion fight card last night and gained a decision over Joe Coffey of San Francisco, after four rounds of fast scrapping, in which Brown apparently had the best of it all the way.

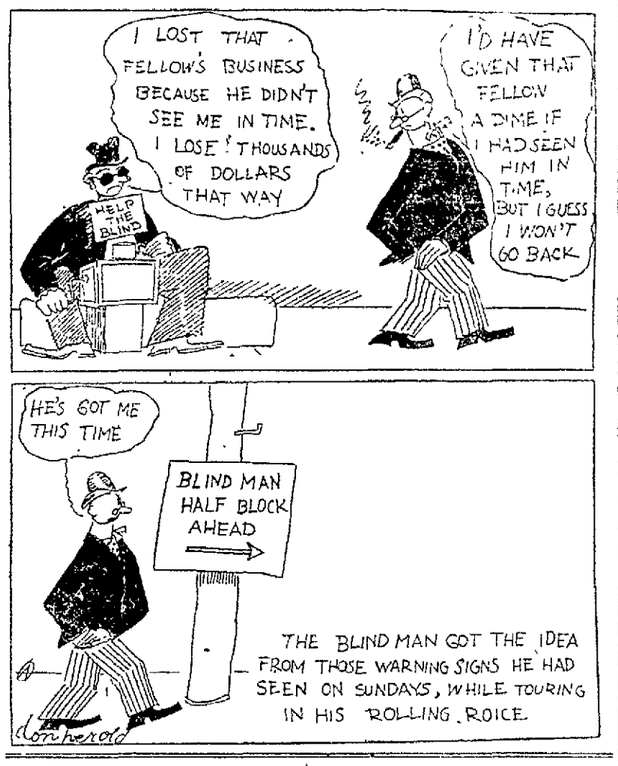

In the semi-windup affair, which was announced as a bout to decide the bantamweight championship of the Pacific coast, Georgie Marks, of Seattle, succeeded in copping the decision from Frankie Dolan, of Los Angeles

BOGASH WHIPS EAGAN.

BOSTON, Sept 24. — Louis Bogash of Bridgeport, Conn., gave Joe Eagan of this city a fine walloping in their ten-round bout here last night. Bogash took practically every round by wide margin.

MIKE YOKEL, FORMER WRESTLING CHAMPION, COMING TO OAKLAND

Eastern Papers Agree Johnny Kilbane Deliberately Fouled Dann y Frush in 1st Round.

By BOB SHAND.

Mike Yokel, former middleweight champion wrestler will make his first appearance in Oakland next Friday night when he meets Al Karasick, local champion, at the Municipal Auditorium. Joe Khoumrian, the Oakland promoter, closed for the match by long distance telephone last night and Yokel, who is in Salt Lake, will leave for this city at once.

Khoumrian is quite certain the wrestling game can be put on a paying basis in Oakland and he has been game enough to rent the Municipal Auditorium for the match. The other matches promoted were staged at the Shrine pavilion, Twelfth and Harrison Sts., but with the former champion of the middleweights on the card Khoumrian came to the conclusion that the biggest bulding in town was necessary and he closed for the Auditorium this morning.

Karasick is a strong local favorite. He resides here and works every day at the Southern Pacific shops in West Oakland Khoumrian is also an Oakland man and puts in his eight hours daily at the S P shops

Paul Vaughan is being sought to meet the winner of next Friday's match and if the movie star can make the trip the fans will get two high class matches in succession Bull has just been selected by Richard Neville to appear as the champion in "Keep Off the Grass" Lord Lyttell's new picture now being filmed, and the movie job may keep him off the mat for some time.

Khoumrian is now busy lining up three preliminary bouts for next week's show

Johnny Kilbane got away with something in his recent bout with Danny Frush according to unofficial accounts that appeared in the Eastern papers The experts agree that Kilbane deliberately fouled Frush in the ring in the first round sending Danny to the floor writhing in pain Here is one story of that first round

The fight developed into one of the roughest and most exciting contests ever staged in the featherweight division It came near being ended in the first round when Kilbane deliberately hit Frush had landed low.

In retaliation for a punch that Frush had landed low

Kilbane his face reddened with left jabs protested to the referee, Walter C Kelly who paid no attention to him As he fell into a clinch Kilbane brought his knee up sharply and Frush fell to the canvas, apparently in pain. Referee Kelly allowed him to lay there Kelly walked to the edge of the ring raised his hand for silence and announced.

REFEREE EXPLAINS.

"I am not going to let this fight end in a fluke You came to see a fight and you're going to see one."

Kelly then ordered Frush's handlers to carry him to his corner, and after a few minutes' rest, the second round started as if nothing had happened Frush carried the fight to the gray-haired Kilbane and staggered him with a left hook to the chin. It was the only time that Kilbane was in danger during the fight

Kilbane received $62 000 as his share of the purse He was guaranteed $60 000, win, lose or draw, and was given an additional $3000 as a bonus for signing Frush got $2500, merely enough to cover his training expenses Kilbane did not weigh in for the fight, but his handlers said he was about 128 pounds Frush was obliged to make 126 pounds half an hour before ringside

The Kilbane incident goes to show what a champion can get away with in his home town with his own referee and judges officiating A deliberate foul such as Kilbane committed would have called for his immediate disqualification by an impartial official even if it was a championship bout. Ad Wolgast lost his title to Willie Ritchie on a foul that nobody ever proved was deliberate although the general opinion was that Ad was looking for the easiest way out of a bad situation. But in the Kilbane case the foul was committed with the knee and could not have been otherwise than deliberate Kilbane went on and won the fight in seven rounds, but Frush must have been in bad shape after being fouled

Matchmaker Tommy Simpson has strengthened his card considerably for next Wednesday night. Georgie Marks, the Los Angeles bantam who has been quite a sensation at Vernon, is coming to box Terio Vargas Soldier Day, who was matched to meet Cyclone Gabby, has been taken off the card and Joe Roberts substituted The other bouts are:

Joe Ketchel vs Joe Herrera.
Joe Herman vs Jack Quinn.
Joe Healy vs Joe Mendina.
Frankie Thomas vs Tommy West.

There are a lot of "Joes" on this card but not the kind of stangy Joes Harold Brown talks about. It looks like one of the best fighting cards T Simpson has yet offered.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24.

John Marshall, the great chief justice, was born in 1755. Zachary Taylor, called "a patriot rather than a partisan," was born in 1784. He was the twelfth president of the United States. Way back they were racing yachts for cups. John C. Stevens, who was born in 1785, owned the America, which won the America cup. It was in 1789 that Richard Wilde, who wrote "My Life Is Like a Summer Rose," first bloomed to feel the thorns of life. "Black Friday," one of the worst that ever hit Wall street, was on this day in 1869.

The man who has not been held up on the Berkeley campus by a woman student who would sell tickets or tags has been saved one of the most effective pocket-emptying experiences that our Eastbay has had to offer. And now the masculine minority at the university that has stood up under the drives until it is driven to desperation has asked the girls to quit. We will leave it to the department of mathematics to estimate the financial saving in a semester and at the same time will instruct the composing room that they may throw away that old heading which used to read, "Pretty Co-eds Sell Tags on U. C. Campus." On second thought, they may save the first two words, for it will doubtless be a number of years before anyone has the courage to separate them.

WATERFRONT DEPARTMENT

Bill Bones came bustling into the office today with the news of a strange craft anchored in the bay. "By all the laws of my calling," he said, "she should be a low rakish one, but she isn't. She rides high and carries a beautiful coat of green paint." The reason she is mysterious, Bill says, is because every night a fleet of rowboats stick to her sides while something is lowered. There is a rumor she is a French ship and that she is straining at her corks to be off. Bill reports he is keeping an eye on her and that his throat is parched. Sea-going Almanackans file reports before Tuesday.

City officials who plan to attend a convention in the south wish to know how they are to spend a week in Los Angeles on an allowance of $32.20. The answer is, when in Los Angeles do as the Los Angelenos do.

The latest report from Battery E, which is still lacking the requisite number of trousers, is that whenever an officer yells "hip, hip," someone takes it personally.

CORRESPONDENCE

We are constantly receiving letters from Almanacians who offer suggestions, register complaints, or (bless their hearts Jerry loves them!) have words of praise. Because there are so many of them, we are so lazy, and most do not sign their names we cannot answer. That is the reason that right now we are filling up a space that threatened to bother with an attempt to express appreciation of the soft-voiced lady who telephones jokes and to all the rest. A few seem to demand answers:

M. G.—He addresses us "most kind sir" because we print his stuff.

H. K., L. & F. and others—You are not the only ones who ask, "Where is Corisande?" every time she takes a rest. We don't know who she is, not even a clew.

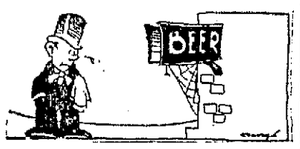

F. E.—You guessed it.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World

I am going to sing a song. There are so many songs today. Songs of hate and rebellion, songs of uncomfortable freedoms and perilous loves. My song will be of none of these things. It will be an old, old song, almost forgotten in the crash of worlds, the welter of raw, crowding life. It is the Son of my Home and the Work that I do in my Home.

I love that work.

I love the cheer of my small kitchen—the glow of brass and china—the friendly homeliness of range and chairs against the wall and table with its bowl of fruit.

I love the crisping of the curtains at my windows—the muslin billowing in fresh morning air—the panel of the moving skies across which brown birds flash, or white cloud galleons sail upon their pirate way.

I love the smell of cooking—all the spicy flavors, or the good, strong warmth of soup on winter nights. The great preserve pot bubbling slowly, with the treasure jars amassing on my store room shelves. I am as greedy as a thief in gathering fat crocks or funny little jars for jelly. I've known great adventures in my life—tragedies, comedies, a little of that thing called Fame. Yet, somehow, no adventure brings such chuckling content as searching through old books of cookery to find some quaint recipe for peach conserve or green tomato pickle.

I love my babies—those shelves of dear, old friends, shabby but comforting. My books lie everywhere—beside my darning basket, next to my drawing board, and almost in the soup. I love my pictures that have grown to be a part of all my strength and joy. The low black bowl I fill with marigolds—the deep, worn chair in which I read and dream, the ink stained desk at which I work—I love it all.

This is my Home—my place obscure, apart, in which I live a little while and serve and love. To others it is but a place of walls and rents and boring duties. But to me, it is the nearest Heaven that I know.

Sometimes an irate older member of the gang complains because Jerry published "kid letters" to the possible exclusion of more mature contributions. As a matter of fact these "kid letters" are often the most significant letters we receive. They touch upon conditions which the adults overlook. Take this one for instance:

Dear Miss Gerry:

I was an interested reader of your article about "Passing the Buck." I certainly think you knew what you were talking about when you explained just what that phrase means.

But what I want to talk to you about is something that your column brought to my mind. Miss Gerry, I wonder if you have ever noticed how the young girls and fellows are gradually drifting apart? Did you ever walk down Broadway, for instance, and notice how many fellows are walking around or standing talking together? I don't know if you ever go to any of the dances in town, but if so you would also notice that fully two-thirds go by themselves and dance with the girls that come the same way.

I was in a popular playhouse here one night, and while waiting for the show to commence, I saw two complete rows filled up with young men, with the exception of two girls. There was no theatre party or anything of that nature on. They merely came in by one, twos and threes. Do you know why this is so? Please believe me when I say that I am speaking from a purely impersonal point of view.

My opinion is that they are "Passing the Buck." How many young men have written to you lately and said that most of the girls nowadays are not fit to associate with the really decent young men? They have repeatedly said that the girls wear their dresses too short, their neck too low, and their hair combs too extreme. What difference does that mike if the girls are good, and most of them are, despite the fashions they wear. A girl can be just as good in short skirts, high heels and ear muffs, as she could in long trailing dresses and bonnets of yesterday.

So, Miss Gerry, I am asking if you know why this condition exists? And I know that it doesn't exist only in my imagination. The young girls and boys of today have to get together and live happy contented lives in order that when the future generation grows up this world will be a better place to live in.

Respectfully,

M. R.

Difting Apart

Yes, Pal, I have noticed that the young people are "drifting apart." I have also noticed that the older men and women are drifting apart—drifting apart so seriously that in many cases marriage is thrown into the discard and some sort of an irregular alliance substituted in its stead. And I think it arises from the following reason—EXPENSE. I do not mean by this the obvious cost of things during a period of hard times. That is, of course, responsible for the reduction of a certain amount of entertaining. I mean, however, something deeper than that—something I have learned from conversations with hundreds of men in every walk of life, and from every part of the country. MEN ARE BEGINNING TO THINK THAT WOMEN COST TOO MUCH. They cost too much to entertain as sweethearts—they cost too much to support as wives.

This does not apply to the great number of women who are still doing their share or more than their share. It does apply to the parasite class which, at present, is in its full flowers.

The old-fashioned home with its manifold manual duties has passed. That's probably a good thing, if the energies released be turned into equally loving, equally useful service. But at present those energies haven't been turned into such service and the parasite woman and girl are the result. They are practically non-producers—but they are consumers on an enormous scale. They must be beautiful and must stay amused at all odds.

Men are beginning to think that the results are not worth the odds. They are thinking this the more strongly because on every side they see women who do work, who do pay their own way, who are in every way as efficient and independent as men. A baby doll is a lovely sight—but when it comes to paying for her orchids and her taxi, Johnny prefers to go it alone.

So there's the significance of your men-filled seats and your partyless theaters. It's well to take it seriously—for it's also the significance of many a breaking home, many a divorce, and many a loveless life.

Offers An Ice Pack

Comes now a Pal who thinks Jerry is due for the padded cells.

Dear Jerry: I am alarmed at the brain storm you are getting into regarding love as a motive power for marriage. The French plan, as you know, has produced a decadent nation and the Zulu plan never has got very far as yet; besides, if you keep on growing in that direction we would finally land in the barn yard with a rooster and a hen, for their marriage is the simplest and the most peaceable that is known.

I will come running with an ice pack and hold it to your brow if you will let me know when the next one is due.

Sincerely,

MRS. B. JAGGERS.

Thanks, for the offer Pal, and when I begin to foam around the mouth I'll let you know. At present they're still letting me loose without guards. And don't you worry about me an' love. I'm strong for it. But I'm also strong for common sense and fairness and virtues which we're apt to sniff at in our "romantic" marriages and which the older nations use to such great advantage. Where do you get this stuff about the French being a decadent nation? They blew that platitude to smithereens at the Marne. There is very much to be said for their attitude concerning marriage. There is also much to be said for those barnyard alliances which you mention in jest. They form much better working partnerships than many a human one I know. The wife and mother instincts of an ordinary little Plymouth Rock Hen are often in far better working order than those of her human sister—and I've known hens of every variety. Don't ever forget, girl, that primarily, marriage is intended to be a working partnership and tha you can't buck the ends of nature without paying a sad price.

Ownership and Love

Here is one of the most beautiful explanations of why we "don't own each other in marriage" that has been sent to us. Also it's a graphic statement of what some folks think of Jerry. Is Jerry worrying? Not by a jugfull of home brewed gruel, she isn't! The less some folks like me the more I like myself—and I was already pretty good friends with Jerry. Seriously, though, Big Family, I wouldn't be much of a help to you all if I let a few snorts and sniffs stop our working together, would I? So let 'em rave. As long as the stars go on twinkling, I can twinkle too.

Dear Geraldine:

I greatly admire the way you handle things and everyone I meet is asked by me, "Do you read Geraldine?" One old lady came down on me all fours for reading it. "Things are discussed in that column that are best kept quiet," she said. Gosh! it came hot and fast, but I managed to rise for the third time and gasp that she couldn't get rid of the garbage by clamping down the lid on the garbage-can—and then she sank out of sight. The last thing I heard was an indignant snort.

I have been reading "The Life of the Spirit by Hamilton Wright Mabie, and came across these words under the heading, "The Loneliness of Life":

"In all deep affection there is a passion for possession which is never satisfied, because there is something sacred and incommunicable in the personality of one we love.—If we could perfectly possess one another, there would be no divinity in love; that which makes it possible for us to serve and sacrifice for one another, to exchange help, strength and sweetness, makes it also impossible for us to merge into one another. The richer the power of loving, the clearer the distinction of individuality between the lover and the loved;—it is through our differences even more than through our similarities that we aid and enrich one another."

Don't you think that helps to explain the reason why we cannot "own" each other in the marriage relation?

Well, Jerry, I'm still going to sing your praises, even if I do get the calling down, as heretofore mentioned, you are worth fighting for because you can hold your own so well, being perfectly able to produce an alibi where none grew before.

By the way, "Aussie" was "taking a rise out of you" all right. Your "cobber" (Aussie for "Pal.")

What Does Your Husband Do?

Lucrezia Bori on BEAUTY

WALK WITH TRUE GRACE AND BEAUTY.

A graceful carriage is one of the greatest charms which one can possess. Yet many women slouch along without any regard to the manner in which they hold themselves.

LUCREZIA BORI

If you would have a graceful bearing, the first thing you should do is to stand erect. Rest your weight on the balls of your feet with your heels just touching the floor. Draw in your abdomen as far as possible, and at the same time raise your chest. If you draw a deep breath you can force your chest still higher, and you can expand it an inch or so by your muscular effort.

You should draw your elbows backward and bend them slightly, and your shoulder blades should feel as though they were meeting at your back. After doing this have some one place a book very carefully on the top of your head. If your neck is in the correct position and your head properly poised the book will not fall from your head when you walk.

In days of old the Grecian women, who were famous for their beautiful carriage, swayed their heads lightly with every step they took.

If you follow the foregoing suggestions and practice them, graceful movements naturally will follow.

Of course, at first you may feel very "set," and this will be reflected in the stiffness of your movements. You will achieve better results if you will practice before a mirror. Repeat the exercise day after day, and soon you will be able to swing along gracefully with the book upon your head.

This exercise is put into practical use by women in other countries who think nothing of carrying heavy baskets upon their heads. When these baskets are removed such women walk with a delightfully easy gait, which others in a higher station in life might well envy.

When learning to attain poise, no movement of your shoulders should be noticeable.

As you stretch forth your foot your hip will move forward. You should remember that when you move your knee you are not merely pushing forward, but, in lifting your foot from the ground, it performs a slight rotary motion.

Of course, you may consider that there is nothing to learn in achieving a graceful carriage, and that such suggestions are unnecessary. Perhaps in your case this may be so, for you may have the poise which comes from carrying yourself well. If, however, you will pause for a few moments as you walk along the street, or spend a little time at your window watching the passers-by, you will be surprised to discover how few persons hold themselves well when walking.

Indeed, you will find it is the exception rather than the rule to find a woman with a swinging, graceful carriage. But when you discover one who walks well you will realize what an asset it is and doubtless your first thought will be to emulate her.

If you will take the little time needed to carry out the foregoing suggestions you will be delighted with the difference that soon will be apparent in the way in which you hold yourself.

Life Insurance $400,000

by William Almon Wolff

"Look here," he began abruptly. "I've got an awful lot to tell you. Promise to keep quiet, now, till I've finished. You can have your house, you can have all the houses you like. You were absolutely right all the time—especially when you guessed that I had some reason I wasn't telling you——"

"Do you suppose I didn't know that?" she interrupted calmly, but with evident triumph. "Why—I'd never have spoken to you again if I hadn't known that. I knew you couldn't help it, and the only reason I was so horrid to you was to make you tell."

He looked at her and grunted.

"But I hoped you wouldn't," she went on in a rather small voice.

Prentice, you see, wasn't being careful. His eyes were telling her all sorts of things that he managed very well when they tried to force themselves through his set teeth. They spoke to her just as the portrait had spoken, but even more vehemently. The things that had been happening in the last few days had stripped away most of the coverings that Prentice, like all Anglo-Saxons, wore over his emotions, and they were peeping out, naked and unashamed. He was a little—tey? Is that just the word? He was facing a great thing, you see, and most of the conventions and reticences of life had ceased to have any meaning for him.

Still, he remembered what he had come for, which was not to make love to Prudence. And so he went on, in a rush of words, to tell her what had happened. She didn't interrupt again, not very much that is. Obviously, she sympathized tremendously with him. When he explained that he had decided, when not income wasn't enough for her needs that the income would have to be increased, she made it perfectly plain that that was exactly the way she would have considered the problem. And when he told her of the awful day when Cramner had come with his tale of disaster, she was so pitiful, so contrite, that it was all he could do not to take her into his arms and comfort her.

"And it was just about then that I began to bother you about the house," she said. "Oh, Myles!"

"The very same day," he told her. "But——"

"Oh, why wouldn't you tell me?" she cried. "I'd have——"

Then she stopped. And he finished his story.

"How magnificent!" she said. "I want to meet Mr. Cramner—only I think I'd have to call him Bill, the way you do. He must be a dear!"

"He is, I guess," said Prentice, mentally making adjustments for the word. "He's rather more of a man than any one I know. Well now you've got the whole story. You've got only your original $400,000, but when you think of what might have happened, it's come out pretty well, after all. And by the time you and Hartley get married you——"

He stopped then, partly because of what he saw in her face, and partly because he realized what he had come so near to blurting out. He had been on the verge of telling her that pretty soon, after they had killed him, she would have his $400,000 to play with as well as her own. He just stopped and stared at her, and she stared back.

"But—but," she said, in a very small, uncertain sort of voice, "but I'm not going to marry Tommy, Myles. Not ever. I can't. I—I sort of thought I would, but I found I couldn't, and I told him so just a little while ago."

And Prentice, seeing the color come and go in her cheeks, seeing her eyes falter and then come pluckily back to his, couldn't say a word. He just sat and stared at her, and his nails pressed into his palms.

"Once I was almost sure," she said. "When you were so—so ugly to me about the house, Myles. But——"

PRUDENCE belted her name. She always had and she always would, bless her! It was so plain that even Prentice understood. And it wasn't a bit indelicate, really, or forward, or any of the other things that Prentice's unpleasant conscience would have said it was. Suppose he never had proposed to her in words? There was the portrait, if she needed an excuse.

He got up and he moved toward her—just a step. And she just waited. And then he started back, because, of course, he remembered. And he had a flash of inspiration, too, that showed him the only course that a man who was even halfway worthy of the name could take.

"For heaven's sake!" he said brutally. "I'm ashamed of you, Prudence. You've got no right to treat as decent a chap as Hartley that way. You've encouraged him, led him on. You've made him and me and every one else think you were engaged to him. I—I'll disown you if you turn him down now."

"Myles!" she said. "Myles!"

He heard. Her voice stabbed him, went right through him. But he went on, out of the room, out of the house. He had to hurry, because there was still one thing to be done before they got him. He had to see Judge Burton and make certain arrangements about Prudence and her affairs. And this promised to be a delicate business, too, because the judge had the inquisitorial habit.

The judge received Prentice rather stiffly. He still resented Prentice's attitude. So naturally Prentice forgot his tactful speech, carefully prepared in the subway, and made a flying leap for the bull's horn, with the hope of taking that animal firmly.

"I—I've decided to give up being Miss Walton's guardian," he said. "I want you to take the job."

"Er—ahem!—er—umph!" said the judge. "There are, it may be well for you to remember certain formalities to be observed. May I ask your reasons for this astonishing request?"

He would much rather have lied had he been able to think of a lie that was at all convincing. But one doesn't invent good passable, praiseworthy lies when the eyes of a Judge Burton are upon one.

"Why—er—that is, I mean to say I'm not up to the job," he blurted out. "I've made an awful ass of myself, judge Mr. Bradford didn't mean, I guess, that I ought to attend to everything myself. He thought I'd have sense enough to take the advice of men like you, who are experienced in such matters. Well, I've found out that when it comes to finance, I'm probably a pretty good painter.

"I tried to make a lot of money for Prudence, and I nearly lost all she had. After this, I want to make sure that her affairs will be properly looked after. So that's why I'm bringing them to you."

This was due to sheer nervousness, but it might as well have been the product of a diabolical cleverness. He got right under Judge Burton's guard with that attack. The judge surrendered at once and began to beam. And he agreed to take charge and accepted the keys and powers of attorney that Prentice forced upon him. And, what was more, he asked no more questions. And as Prentice went uptown to the studio he took no precautions at all. The sooner the better, now.

He noticed that the bodyguard had vanished. He rather imagined that they would get him when he entered the studio, and he didn't care. But nothing happened when he let himself in. The telephone was ringing, though, and he answered it resignedly.

"Hello!" said a vaguely familiar voice. "I was afraid you were out, Mr. Prentice. This is Prescott. I wanted to let you know that you are perfectly safe now. Your evidence won't make any difference. I'm so sorry if our—er—methods disturbed you. And I'm very glad, for your sake, that things are as they are. I didn't enjoy the prospect——"

Prentice went from the telephone with his brain reeling. And in a minute it rang again. This time it was Cooper, in the district attorney's office, exultation, triumph, in his voice.

"I owe it all to you, old chap, so you're the first one to hear the news," he said. "Dugan broke down this afternoon and made a clean breast of everything. He's implicated people I never dreamed of being able to touch. I've been worried to death about you—afraid they'd get rid of you somehow. But you're safe now, because they'll all plead guilty to second degree murder, and we'll let them escape the chair for the sake of what they can tell. So you won't even have to give your evidence."

Whatever the record from the studio to Prudence's apartment may have been, Prentice broke it. Mrs. Dayne received him.

"Prudence won't see you," she said flatly. "She's in her room, lying down."

"She will see me, too!" said Prentice. "You go tell her that if she doesn't come out, I'll break the door down! I don't care whether she's dressed or not!"

Mrs. Dayne looked at him. And she decided that even if he was quite mad, he meant exactly what he said. Plainly she made Prudence think so, too, for in a few moments a Prudence who hadn't taken the trouble or the time to effect one of those marvelous changes of hers from tears to laughter came to him. She stood in the doorway.

He crossed to her in two strides and took her, amazed, angry, struggling, into his arms and kissed her. And she kissed back; she couldn't help it. And then, because he knew that all was very well with all the world, he took the time to tell her everything.

And there is nothing more to tell, because what happened after that wouldn't interest any one.

Uncle Wiggily STORIES

by Howard R. Garis

"Give me candy!" howled the Bear.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE NUT CANDY.

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh Uncle Wiggily! Could you please come over to our house?" chatted Johnnie Bushytail, the little squirrel boy, one day as he scampered up to the hollow stump bungalow where the bunny rabbit gentleman lived.

"Come over to your house?" Why, what's the matter? Is the chimney on fire or has your brother Billie fallen into the well?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Nothing as bad as that!" laughed Johnnie, showing his teeth, which were strong and white for cracking nuts. "We are going to have a good time over at our house, Uncle Wiggily, and I thought perhaps you and Nurse Jane would like to see it."

"What is it going to be?" the bunny wanted to know.

"We're going to make nut candy," explained Johnnie. "Mother is boiling up the molasses, sugar and chocolate while I'm here. As soon as I get back I'll help Billie crack the nuts, taking off the shells, and we'll put them in the candy."

"What's that?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Put nut shells in candy? I never heard of such a thing! I don't call that fun!"

"Oh, no! I mean put the nut meats in the candy!" laughed Johnnie.

"Well, in that case I'll come over," promised Uncle Wiggily. "Hello, Nurse Jane!" he called. "Don't you want to come with me over to the Bushytail squirrel house and have some nut candy?"

"Thank you! But I can't go," explained Nurse Jane. "I have to wash the face of the clock and see that its hands are clean, as I expect company this afternoon. But you hop along, Wiggily."

"And I'll send you a piece of nut candy," called back Johnnie, as he and Uncle Wiggily hopped over the fields and through the woods on their way to the squirrel house.

Long before they reached the place the bunny rabbit gentleman began twinkling his pink nose.

"I can smell that candy boiling now, Johnnie," said Uncle Wiggily. "I know it will be good!"

"It will be better when it has the nuts in," said the squirrel chap.

A little later Billie and Johnnie were cracking nuts in their strong, sharp, white teeth, while Uncle Wiggily sat near them, picking out the meats and putting the hard, dry shells in a bowl by themselves to be thrown away later.

Mrs. Bushytail, the mother squirrel, was very good to her two little boys. She often boiled sugar, molasses and chocolate up for them to make candy, as she was now doing.

"Well, boys, it is nearly finished," said Mrs. Bushytail, as she stirred the boiling sweet stuff on the stove. "All you need to do is to put in the nut meats. I'm going next door to see Mrs. Twistytail, the pig lady."

"I'll help them finish the candy," said Uncle Wiggily.

By this time the nut meats were all picked out and put in a dish, ready to be mixed in with the sugar, molasses and chocolate. But just as Uncle Wiggily was ready to do this, suddenly the door of the squirrel house opened.

"You didn't stay very long, Mrs. Bushytail," spoke the bunny, as he poured out some of the candy. Then he picked up the plate of nut meats and by this time he had looked around and saw that it wasn't the squirrel lady who had come in. It was the bad old Bushy Bear!

"Wuff! Wuff!" growled the bear. That means, in bear talk, "I'm hungry! I want something to eat!"

"Oh!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Did you—did you want anything, Mr. Bear?" The two squirrel boys ran and hid in a closet, leaving Uncle Wiggily to do the best he could by himself. "Did you wish anything, Mr. Bear?" asked the bunny.

"Yes!" growled the shaggy creature. "I want some of that candy I smell cooking, and then I want to nibble your ears!"

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose very fast. He always did when he was thinking hard. And he was thinking now.

"Very well," said the bunny. "I suppose you'll take the candy first, Mr. Bear? Nice, sweet nut candy?"

"Yes, give me the candy!" howled the bear. "Then I'll nibble your ears!"

Uncle Wiggily poured out more candy and began to stir it up.

"This is to mix the nuts well," he said.

"Hurry!" grumbled the bear. Uncle Wiggily handed over a plate of candy. Hardly waiting for it to cool, the bear took a very large and impolite bite. And then a funny look came over his face. Hidden as they were in the closet, Billie and Johnnie heard the bear's teeth gritting.

"Oh wow!" suddenly yelled the bad chap! "I've broken my teeth! That candy you gave me was full of hard, nut shells!"

"Oh, was it?" asked Uncle Wiggily, softly like. "Why, so it was!" he went on with a laugh. "I must have made a mistake and put the nut shells in the candy and left out the meats! How funny of me!" he said as the bear ran away with his broken teeth. But I think that all the while the bunny gentleman intended to play a trick on that bear, don't you?

Anyhow, the bear didn't nibble any one that day. Uncle Wiggily soon made some good candy, with nut meats in and no shells, and the squirrel boys liked it very much. And if the tooth brush doesn't shoot talcum powder at the mosquito and make it turn a somersault, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the molasses.

MARION'S ADVENTURE (PRIZE STORY.)

One day a very pretty young girl was out in the woods. She lived in a small cottage on the edge of a large lake. This girl's name was Marion. Every morning she would go out into the woods after berries.

This one particular morning she went further into the woods and she suddenly stopped for she thought she heard someone talking. She listened but she didn't hear anything. She went on picking berries. All at once someone crept up behind her and bound her hands and feet and gagged her. She tried to get away but she couldn't. She was put on a horse behind a man who from his looks appeared to be a Mexican. She knew no help would come as she lived alone, and no one would miss her, so she didn't try to get away now.

The Mexican whose name was Zorro, told her that some rich tourists were over in the Shadow Valley and they were going to wait until night approached and then sneak up and hold them up, for the tourists were on their way to the governor's home and they had some important papers.

At about 4 o'clock they reached the edge of the valley they were going to. They stopped here until it was dark. They let Marion wander around. All at once several shots rang through the air and the men heard someone shout "Come on, men, surround them!"

Then the robbers were addressed again. "Face the cliff and put up your hands and stand still!"

They were then bound hand and feet, one at a time. When all were tied Marion began to laugh and told the men what she had done. She had gone off a ways and then shot off her gun several times to make them believe that several people were there. She then had called out, he words the men had heard and pretended a gang of police were the , and then she had bound the men and captured the nine men herself!

She went to the nearest town and got several men. They took the robbers to jail to be tried. Marion got a large reward and went home. She put the money with other money for the orphanage, for she wanted to live in her old home.

THE PINK RIBBON.

One day Fanny was out playing. She had her dolls and a pink ribbon. Her mother called her and she went in the house. When she came out the pink ribbon was not there.

Fanny looked everywhere, but could not find it. It was winter now. And the birds had gone south.

One day Fanny was climbing the apple tree. And what do you think she saw? The pink ribbon!

Holding a Husband

A TRYING SITUATION.

"A vision of your mother-in-law's face if you had taken that properly flashed before me," she whispered, as I bent above her, and I found it difficult to repress my own smiles at the idea.

But Mr. Jones evidently found no humor in anything. His mien was positively lugubrious as he bade us a formal good-by. Lillian waited only till the car had rounded the corner before exploding:

"I believe that old lad would never have peeped about those schools on either side of that property if the boys hadn't happened to come out just at that minute," she said. "Your lucky star must have been hovering over us, scattering violet rays or something. But then, you wouldn't have thought of buying the thing anyway, would you?"

"Not at that figure," I retorted. "Fifteen thousand dollars for a scant half-acre of land and a house that would have to be restored to make it attractive! I want a home of my own, but not at that price."

"And that other city lot front" thing was seventeen thousand," Lillian said thoughtfully. "It strikes me, my dear, that we're in for a hard winter, and the baby has small chance of getting new shoes."

The same premonition of trouble in finding a place to live had occurred to me before I came North—it had been revived and intensified by my experiences of the afternoon. I think Lillian noticed the sudden gravity of my face, for she patted my knee encouragingly.

"Don't you worry, old girl," she said. "We'll find something, somewhere, if it's out on the high seas past the three-mile limit. But I would like to suggest to you that we ought to telephone Dicky pretty soon that we're not going back tonight.

"So we ought," I agreed. "Shall we stop at a drug store, or wait till we get to Mrs. Durkee's?"

"Don't!" she began explosively, then altered her tone and manner. "I'm selfish enough to advise the drug store, for I feel in a most ice-cream-soda-ish mood. And I want to get some bonbons to take to Her Fluffiness. She has the sweetest tooth on this planet, probably on several of the others, if candy is known on the other members of the solar system."

"That will be splendid," I agreed rather absently, I am afraid. "I want to take Marion something also."

But my mind was far from Marion, dearly as I love the child. Every bit of my mind not concentrated on my driving was engaged with that explosive "Don't!" of Lillian's.

For some reason she did not wish me to telephone Dicky from Mrs. Durkee's home. Was it because of Edith Fairfax?

Dicky was distinctly resentful at my telephone message that Lillian, Marion and I meant to stay in Marvin all night, leaving him sole dominion over Lillian's apartment and old Betty.

"Why the sudden change of plan?" he asked, crossly. "I thought you were going to be home by dinner time. Nice way to treat a fellow, waiting till this hour to spring the fact you're not coming home."

"But Betty'll have your dinner ready just the same," I urged. "Lillian gave her instructions as to dinner before she left, and she's going to telephone her now, so that she'll know only you will be there."

"But I wasn't coming home to dinner anyway," Dicky explained impatiently. "Holmes insists that I dine with him at his club tonight. He has a lot of new stuff he wants to talk over with me."

"Then what——" I began and stopped short.

IS IT HYPOTHETICAL?

Mr. Martin Madsen, representative of Governor Stephens, went to the Kern County oil fields to investigate conditions. There he found that patrols of the "law and order committee" of the striking workers are maintaining control of public and private property, interfering with travel, transportation and the peaceable work of other citizens. He was informed, according to news reports, by a leader of the workers, that before the business of protecting life and property was permitted to be transferred to the regularly constituted authorities, "we will dig trenches around the county."

This episode, if there were no others, should be sufficient to convince the governor of California that the abdication of government in Kern County is not "hypothetical." The experiences of his representative should clear the governor's mind of the illusion that lawlessness, defiance and usurpation of the functions of law officers by a group of men many of whom are casuals and itinerants is a mere hypothesis.

The threat of rebellion above quoted only reflects deeds of recent commission in the Kern district. In view of the experience of West Virginia, and of the inability of Governor Stephens longer to plead ignorance of conditions in the oil fields, surely he must realize the danger of inaction and the briefest tolerance of acts of rebellion and organized lawlessness.

A MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE.

Unqualified commendation in generous measure is due the recreation commission of Oakland, Mayor Davie and the city administration as a whole for the action taken toward acquiring a municipal golf course. It is timely for the people to congratulate themselves over the good fortune of securing a tract of land splendidly adapted for a municipal golf course and park comparably near the center of population at a cost so reasonable that the deal can be financed out of current appropriations without any increase to the tax levy.

The site for the golf course will be the 214½ acres known as the Vargas ranch, just to the north and overlooking Lake Chabot. Leading amateur and professional golfers have expressed the unanimous opinion that there can be created here a municipal golfing field which will compare favorably with any in the country. The price at which the city is to acquire this property is approximately $112 an acre, or a total of $27,000, to be paid for in five years.

The city council yesterday, after hearing the unanimous recommendation of the playground commissions and committees of citizens and experts on golf, passed a resolution instructing the city attorney to draw up contracts for the transfer of the property to the city. Inasmuch as all other sites considered would cost from four to eight times as much as the Vargas ranch, while containing less acreage, there is no question as to the good business sense of the council's decision. The only question which ever properly existed was whether the property could be adapted to a golf course. That has been answered favorably and definitely. Not only is there room and suitable ground for one eighteen-hole course but for probably two eighteen-hole courses and a supplemental course of nine holes.

There has been a constantly growing demand for a municipal golf course in Oakland during recent years. Only a limited number of citizens, and those of means, can afford to belong to private golf clubs. The common folk must be denied facilities for this popular and healthful outdoor recreation unless a public course is provided, where the game may be enjoyed at a very small cost. Many Eastbay citizens have been in the habit of going to the municipal course in San Francisco to play, but the ever-growing demand for playing privileges makes it next to impossible for even a small portion of those who want to play to be accorded the opportunity. There is no question about the Oakland golf course being self supporting after it is opened to the public.

Mayor Davie and the other city officials have long been cognizant of the insistent public demand for a golf course where the common folk can play and they have acted properly and wisely in adopting a plan which will give the people of this city such a splendid recreation field as will soon be available overlooking the beautiful hills and canyons around Lake Chabot. THE TRIBUNE is heartily in favor of the plan and hopes there will be no unnecessary delay in bringing it to complete fruition.

PEACE TREATIES APPROVED.

Only one member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee stood against a favorable report on the ratification of the treaties concluded with Germany, Austria and Hungary for terminating the war. He was Mr. Borah of Idaho. He objected because the new treaties mentioned the treaty of Versailles and secured for the United States certain important advantages and privileges covered in the Versailles agreement. Senator Johnson of California, who joined with Mr. Borah in irreconcilable opposition to ratification of the Versailles agreement, did not follow him in opposing the recently negotiated treaties with the former enemy countries.

Senator Borah seems so full of antipathy for the Versailles agreement that even the mention of its name arouses him to bitterness and anger. But this is not to show statesmanship quality.

The three Democratic members of the committee, Swanson of Virginia, Pomerene of Ohio and Shields of Tennessee voted to recommend ratification. This would indicate that the minority group in the Senate are without any plans for organized opposition to ratification. If criticism is uttered, as doubtless it will be, it will come from the designated naggers of the Democratic side whose sole purpose will be to lay the foundation for subsequent attack upon the Republican record. The proposed reservation may draw some serious debate but the present prospect is for early ratification of the peace pacts.

POOR PUNCTUATION.

When the American tariff law of 1864 was being printed some British manufacturers bribed several employees of the government printing office to alter the position of a comma in the printed schedule of customs, with the result that "tinned sheet iron" paid duty at the rate intended for ordinary sheet iron only. The trickery was not discovered until seventeen years later, by which time the loss of revenue to the government was $50,000,000.

This little incident of the fifty million dollar comma is a lesson in the importance of small things. It would not do to place too much stress on it, for then too much time might be wasted on small detail. But it is well to understand the importance of writing so that the meaning may not be misunderstood.

Perhaps American school children never wrote as badly as they are writing today. Never before, perhaps have the schools placed so little emphasis comparatively on the importance of correct construction in writing, and particularly on punctuation. It is discouraging to note the pathetic ignorance of even high school and university students regarding punctuation.

The business colleges that train young men and women for work as stenographers and secretaries cannot possibly be proud of their product as to punctuation, and the reason is largely due to the fact that the education of the student prior to entering business college was neglected as to this important subject. If the record of life had to be written by common school and college students without special training in writing, it would be utterly unintelligible.

The only certain thing about teaching war history in the public schools is that each French town will be given about 8,764 pronunciations.

There are no part-time classes in the school of experience.

DEFAULTS IN TAXATION.

That many citizens have found it necessary to notify the government that they cannot meet their September income tax payments is in no sense surprising. The spring and summer have been bad for business and great numbers of individuals are out of work, or at least have had their earnings reduced in one way or another. This is true of those who work for wages, but it is also true of the professional man as well as the business enterprise.

The situation calls attention to one of the minor defects of the present system of taxation. This is that return is not made until three months after the end of the period to which the tax relates, while payment may not be completed until a year after its close. True, a very far-sighted individual will establish a "reserve" for taxation, but it is probable that not one-tenth of one per cent of individual payers do so, and that the plan is followed only by a small minority of businesses. With borrowing conditions as they have been, the idea of putting aside cash which is needed in current operations merely because of a future contingency is not likely to be adopted.

Terrible hardship is inflicted by the present plan upon the families of men of fair income but small savings who die suddenly and whose microscopic estates are eaten away by the necessity of paying back taxes. Serious embarrassment is caused to the small business in a like way. As for the larger concern, the fact is that it can never get confidence from the government, no matter how much it may pay—that it has always a potential liability overhanging it. Even when Congress, moreover, has set a date of expiry of the obligation the fact that tax authorities may request voluntary extension, with implied threat of severity if it is not granted, constitutes one of the most outrageous and oppressive phases of an inquisitorial and obnoxious infringement upon private rights, and exceeds anything ever before practiced in this country. The Bolshevistic attack upon property which was initiated under the Wilson administration by the Kitchin group in Congress is being continued and maintained.

Will this situation be indefinitely tolerated by the business community and by the public in general? The present difficulties of tax collection merely call attention to evils which have existed ever since the beginning of the present tax system and will continue so long as it is allowed to last.—New York Journal of Commerce

NOTES and COMMENT

From the Stockton Record, exemplifying San Joaquin Valley journalistic amenities: "The Fresno Republican lets it be known that Stockton is a commonplace name. It takes a man from another section to put his finger on what ails us. We thought Stockton was a be-a-u-utiful name until this man from the east said that."

The Governor's personal representative in the Bakersfield region, there to investigate, has been halted and quizzed by a force which has no lawful or legal—or at least rightful—authority to interfere with travel on the public highways—which in itself would seem to be quite enough for a report on which to base action

Since the eighteenth amendment went into effect there have been many accounts of the mysterious evanishment of liquids, great drayloads of filled barrels and casks disappearing almost in a twinkling, which is strange enough in itself, for it has heretofore been difficult to conceal such ponderous plunder. But the Illinois robbers who broke into a jail and "escaped" with five stills and a large quantity of moonshine whisky have set a mark that has so far been unapproached.

The Enterprise tells how an Oregon City maiden finds it at Berkeley: "Miss Callista de la Fortaine is back at Berkeley and writes of the university life: 'The entire atmosphere is not pervaded with didactic heaviness and academic sport colors. The amenities down south have now taken this form (quotation from the San Diego Union): "Los Angeles is becoming a city of factories. The fund of $100,000 raised for the widow of Franklin K. THE MAGIC WORDS

THE FORUM

The Editor of The TRIBUNE disclaims responsibility for opinions and statements expressed in this column. Brief contributions on current topics of general interest are welcome. They will not, as a rule, be printed unless accompanied by the name of the writer, which, if desired, will be withheld from publication

OUR EARLIER YEARS.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

And now comes the startling news that the publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce has made the discovery that "trusting tourists and ignorant Easterners" are having palmed off on them postal cards one of which shows "a nice, contented brindle cow placidly chewing her cud by the sun-kissed waters of Lake Merritt" as representing "My City Oakland" of 1921. Others show Oakland's main street as being traversed by its prominent citizens in one-horse shays and bicycles.

Of course this is shocking and must be stopped at once, as these poor trusting tourists and ignorant Easterners are too blind to notice as they perambulate our "main street" (we have only one, you know, according to the publicity committee) that automobiles have taken the place of the one-horse shays, while the bicycle (except those given away by The TRIBUNE) has been replaced by the motorcycle.

To protect these poor trusting, ignorant (also blind) tourists and Easterners the publicity committee is planning ways and means of putting these humiliating cards out of sight.

Do you remember the story of Mary Ann, who was entertaining John Henry, who hailed from Hoboken, Kalamazoo, or some other Eastern center of culture, and how mortified she was when he picked up the photograph album from the center table and beheld the picture of pa and ma taken when they were first married; ma seated on a carved chair wearing a silk dress skirt four yards around, flounced to the waist; pa rigged out in his best Sunday store suit, with a spotted low-cut vest. His right hand rests on ma's shoulder while his left supports a tall plug hat of the vintage of '49? On the opposite page is a photo of the young lady herself as she looked when "waterfalls" and "bustles" were in style. Of course she had to join in the laugh that John Henry indulged in, but when he next called the album was out of sight.

Now, if this publicity committee is ashamed of Oakland as she was in the days of old, let me inform them that there are others who are not, and if they will attend a meeting of the Oakland Pioneers they will find that these old views of our city, which gives them a pain, gives the pioneers much pleasure.

I have a number of these cards and every one of them has printed on it the period when it was taken, so it is not plain how the purchasers have been duped, and if they want pictures of later dates, there are plenty to be had of our two-million-dollar city hall, our one-million-dollar auditorium, all of the prominent church buildings, the university buildings, etc.

It seems to me that this committee, like Mary Ann, is ashamed of their antecedents and would have visitors believe that Oakland had no childhood period, but was always a big, bustling, full-grown city as it is today.

There are two places here that all citizens, including the publicity committee, have reason to be ashamed of. One is the museum and the other the quarters occupied by the Chamber of Commerce, and if this committee is looking for work, they might use their efforts in bettering these two places, as I am sure neither will impress even an "ignorant Easterner" or a "trusting tourist." Let them do this instead of wasting time in trying to hide a few cards that do no harm to the city, but will show by contrast that Oakland has not been asleep, even if we have to steer our guests clear of our museum and Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

A PIONEER.

There's some who think that he is glum, some think he travels with a drum an' some before he'll ever come They'll die as like as a not."

"Well, what think you?" to him says I, "on him I've never put an eye, he's one I don't expect to spy, Though much I wish I might."
He grinned a curious sort o' grin, looked solemn like an' stroked his chin, an' then said he, "I'll start right in
To talk of Billy White."

"He surely struck it rich," says I. He looked me squarely in the eye an' says, "he did, but how an' why
Came he to gather pelf?
There was no stranger fair to see, a-boostin' him. It seems to me, this fellow Opportunity
Was really Bill himself.

"There was no special luck to it, he got a job an' stuck to it an' brought a world o' pluck to it,
He simply wouldn't quit.
"This job ain't much," says he, "I know it doesn't pay a lot of dough, but it's a chance for me to show what I can do with it."

And then an' there he waded in, determined that some day he'd win; when things went wrong he kept his grin and didn't whine or sob.
He worked his way to wealth an' fame. His opportunity I claim was but a high-toned fancy name
For what was just a job

MATE GROWING IN THE UNITED STATES.

Mate trees have been successfully grown in the southern part of Florida by the United States Department of Agriculture from seeds imported for experimentation. "Yerba mate," as it is called in South America, is native to Paraguay and adjacent countries. The leaves were cured and used as a sort of tea by the native Indians before the arrival of the Spanish settlers.

Mate is the most important beverage in Chile and Argentine, where at least 15,000,000 people drink it. The production of mate consequently has developed into a large commercial industry in those countries. A small amount is now exported to the United States, where it can be purchased in many places from those who specialize in unusual foods.

The fact is now fully demonstrated that mate can be grown from seeds in this country, contrary to the long prevalent theory that the seeds of the yerba mate could not be grown until they had passed through the body of a bird. Private individuals in Florida who received plants from the Department of Agriculture to try out have been curing and using the mate leaves from trees in their own gardens and are recommending the beverage to their friends.

Mate contains the same alkaloidal or stimulating properties as tea, but develops less tannin. The flavor is similar, but owing to the process of curing it has a slight suggestion of smokiness, which is enjoyed by those accustomed to it. The importance of mate as a beverage in competition with tea is worthy of consideration, as all the leaves of the tree can be used and as the curing process is far less expensive than the proper manufacture of tea.

The experiments tried by settlers in south Florida, while they demonstrate that the mate tree will grow there, have not gone far enough to indicate that any attempt to grow mate commercially will be successful there. It is, however, an interesting fact that certain of these settlers have dried the leaves in their ovens and brewed a mate which they declare is a very palatable drink.—Department of Agriculture Press Service.

NEBRASKA'S PRODIGAL SON

The way of the Middlewest with its prodigal sons may be hard for outsiders to understand when they hear of the brass band and the tumult of ecstatic voices that welcomed Frederick Claridge, wrecker and former president of the State Bank of Blair, Neb., back to his home town.

Since last February, when his bank closed its doors as a result of lending $800,000 on doubtful securities, Claridge has been a fugitive from justice, working at odd jobs to earn a living. Not a cent of the vanished money seems to have lined his own pocket.

When hard times struck Nebraska he couldn't bear to see his friends and neighbors go under, so he lent them what they needed to keep them afloat. They came through the crisis but the bank went under.

Now he is, back and his fellow-citizens weep on his neck, vying, in the courtroom where he is arraigned for an opportunity of going on his bond. "I love you people, so I could not leave you," Claridge explained; "I came back as soon as I had enough money. I have $175 and want to start life anew." The fact that he is under indictment doesn't prevent his fellow-townsmen from loving him as much in return. There is no drawing away of skirts, no averting of eyes. "Fred is back," and Fred is a good fellow.—New York World.

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Well-Being Depends On Clean Hands and Tongue.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Some persons wash their hands a dozen times a day and on this account imagine they're clean.

They are like the folk who blacken the toes of their shoes and forget the heels.

It is commendable, of course, to take pride in clean hands. But washing the hands is only the beginning of cleanliness. Unless the face and all the rest of the body are frequently scrubbed, there cannot be good health.

I haven't a word to say about the use of a little rouge and a decent amount of pure powder. But I do believe that if the stuff had never been invented, there would be an increased incentive to live the sort of life which gives natural glow and coloring.

Assuming that it is permissible to employ these cosmetics during the day, I am here to say that any girl who goes to bed without thoroughly cleansing her skin and removing every vestige of paint and powder is not clean.

To be healthy and to insure long life, every man, woman and child must take a clean body to a clean bed in a clean room, with clean air to breathe.

No body is clean whose nostrils are filled with dust and whose fingernails are lined with dirt.

Our outer garments pick up filth and germs. Cultivate the habit of cleaning your body of all impurities before you say your prayers. Perhaps this is what the Good Book means:

"Clean hands and a pure heart, O God, thou wilt not despise!"

Outside cleanliness isn't sufficient. You must be clean inside.

There is an unfailing index of your internal cleanliness. "The tongue is the mirror of the stomach." Your tongue will tell whether you are abusing or neglecting your digestive organs.

If the bowel is filled with fermenting waste, if you are overeating rich food and chocolates, your tongue will be coated.

Of course, you can scrape the coating off your tongue, and, if you prize a clean breath, you should do this every day. No toilet is complete until the teeth have been scrubbed and the tongue scraped.

But removing the debris from the tongue doesn't remove the cause for its accumulation. The bowels must be kept active, and, to this end, there must be the right kind of eating. You cannot have perfect digestion and function unless you learn the relative values of foods.

To avoid body odors and to have your skin sweet and clean, elimination from the bowels and kidneys must be uninterrupted. Lots of pure water should be taken daily. Some persons forget the internal cleansing qualities of water. Elimination is promoted by drinking water in abundance.

The health of a community can be estimated by the per capita consumption of water. When the water department complains of the frightful waste of water the health department is joyful over the low death rate.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

A Washington despatch states that the Schley court of inquiry was brought to a sudden termination for the day shortly after convening today by the announcement of the sudden death of Judge Jeremiah Wilson, senior counsel for Schley.

Arrangements are being made for the Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church to be held here next month.

Ribbons and flowers will be among the fashionable trimming for hats this fall.

COUNTRY FAIR SEASON.

Few become too sophisticated to enjoy the pleasures of the country fair, for which September and October are the open season.

The old boys whose memories go back to early days on the farm treasure recollections of these excursions after the grain had been threshed and when there was a letup before fall ploughing and the saving of the root crops began. Perhaps mother had a log cabin quilt in the Crystal Palace or samples of her preserved fruit in the big hall with its rows of good things to eat so temptingly arrayed that one could scarcely wait for noon when dinner was served in the big tent at 25 cents a head.

On occasions father showed a favorite roadster or a team of steppers to a red-wheeled wagon, or Buddy had in the county trot a colt from the old bay mare that took nobody's dust. Those whose tastes did not run to horses had cattle, sheep, swine and poultry to stimulate their interest, and it was a proud boy whose entry won a prize or even an honorable mention.

Those were the days when work was accomplished under pressure with fewer aids from the implement man. If the wheat was in the field ready for garnering and rain threatened, nothing accelerated things like a promise to be taken to the fair. It was a meeting up place for all the youth of the countryside, and events of moment were reckoned by it; it was so many days before the fair or after it.

The modern fair may be more progressive than the older type, which did not have the vaudeville and circus acts which are now a part of fairs held in even remote districts, but none of the newer style will never have the appeal which thrilled the boy of the period when red lemonade cost a nickel a glass and every peanut was a double barreled mammoth.—New York Sun.

COLLEGE OF PACIFIC GOES TO STOCKTON

Valley City Selected As New Home of Institution Now Located At San Jose; Gift of Tract to Be Accepted

SAN JOSE, Sept. 24.—The College of the Pacific, established and maintained by the Methodist-Episcopal church of California, and said to be the oldest college of the State, will be moved from San Jose to Stockton. This decision was reached this morning at the 69th annual session of the California Conference of the Methodist-Episcopal church, meeting here this week. The vote was practically unanimous and came as the result of a discussion which has been going on for two years relative to a suitable location for the college, it is stated.

Oakland, Fresno, Los Angeles, Sacramento and Santa Rosa, have all been considered as likely locations, and have all bid for the college, it is reported, but Stockton's offer of 18 acres for a college campus, and a guarantee of $200,000 toward the $750,000 necessary for the construction of the first unit, resulted in the choice of the valley city.

FUND TO BE RAISED.

The vote of the conference this morning was to instruct the board of trustees of the institution to make plans to raise $3,000,000 for the construction of buildings at the new location, $750,000 of which, it is estimated, will cover the costs of the first unit to be raised in the district between Turlock and Sacramento.

Dr. J. W. Hancher, national financial secretary of the Methodist church, is expected here in October to confer with the board of trustees of the college relative to the financial campaign.

DRIVE TO BEGIN.

It is planned to launch the campaign at once, it is stated. Dr. Tully C. Knoles, president of the college, announced this morning that the first unit will be completed by two years from this fall.

Lack of co-operation upon the part of the citizens of San Jose, and the inducements offered by other cities, are said to have resulted in the change of location of the institution. More than 750 students, representing all denominations with Methodist predominating, are attending the institution at the present time. Music, which is one of the main features of the present course of study, will be continued as a specialty, and plans are being made to make the college curriculum equal to any within the State.

Berkeley Dancer Comes Home

MISS BETTY THORLEY, talented co-ed, whose art won her honors at the hands of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn in the South.

U. C. GIRL DANCER WILL ENTER CAST OF RUTH ST. DENIS

BERKELEY, Sept. 24.—Chosen by Ruth St. Denis and her husband, Ted Shawn, to dance in new productions in the southland, Miss Betty Thorley, talented student at the University of California, has just returned from Los Angeles where she spent the summer perfecting her dancing art.

Miss St. Denis selected her for a part in Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," which was given a private presentation at a studio tea preliminary to public performances. Miss Thorley was also chosen for a solo number in an exhibition program given at the Denishawn Studio at the close of the summer's work.

In addition to her college studies, Miss Thorley plans to take over the dancing classes of Miss Violet Richardson, physical education supervisor in the Berkeley schools, this winter, having been a former pupil of Miss Richardson. At her studio, 2073 Allston way, she plans to continue her preparations for a professional career when her college work is completed.

Committee in Charge Discouraged by Slowness of Contributions. Still Hope to Raise $7000 Before Closing

ALAMEDA, Sept. 24.—With but one day more left to go the Boy Scout drive to obtain a fund of $7000 to carry the organization through the next year is only half met. Last night the drive committee reported that $3305 had been collected to date, and that $3894 yet remained to make up the required sum. A strong plea for stronger support has been made by the committee.

Although the drive comes to a close this evening, the funds are not expected to stop their inflow into scout headquarters for several days. The contributions placed in the collection boxes throughout the city and the promise slips left at the various homes by the boys themselves are still to be heard from. A couple of entertainments are to be held for the benefit of the scouts.

With these facts in view the drive committee is certain that if the city does not go over the top in its contributions at least the collections will come close to the $7000 asked.

The committee consists of president, Dr. W. B. Stephens; vice-presidents, Maj. C. L. Tilden, Geo. W. Scott, G. E. Furbush, F. S. Greenlee; treasurer, E. F. Wist; scout commissioner, E. Albert; A. C. Craig, D. A. Eberly, J. N. Eschen, A. W. Porter, W. C. Sharpsteen, J. H. Wilkens, Hon. E. K. Taylor.

NEW BLOCKS FOR BUSINESS ARE PLANNED

Franklin Street to Be Improved; Berkeley Corner Will Have Building; Sand Prices to Be Cut 25c Yard

Plans for three new business blocks, one to be erected in Berkeley, are announced today along with another piece of construction information that is expected further to stimulate building progress. On Monday the price of sand, rock and gravel will be reduced approximately 25 cents a yard.

The three new buildings are:

Two story and a basement, Class C loft structure, on Franklin street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth, to cost $42,856. The contracts have been let and work is soon to start. Dr. W. H. Wakefield is the owner.

One-story mezzanine building of stucco type to harmonize with surroundings, to be built on Fifteenth street, between Franklin and Broadway, and to adjoin the new building of the Oakland Title Insurance and Guaranty Company. It is to be erected by Stuart Hawley to house the offices of the Hawley Investment Company. The plans, which were drawn by M. I. Diggs, call for a $20,000 building of handsome design.

Store building at Durant and Telegraph, Berkeley, to cost $61,000, Frank J. Woodward builder. A modern cafeteria and a number of stores will be housed in the structure, which is to be built from plans drawn by M. I. Diggs, architect. The site was formerly occupied by the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Work on the foundation for the Oakland Title Insurance and Guaranty Company building at Fifteenth and Franklin streets will start at once. A building permit, calling for the expenditure of $65,000 on a three-story reinforced concrete store and office building of what is known as the "bank" type, was secured today.

A two-story flat building to contain twelve rooms and to cost $11,000 will be built by Agnes R. Swift at 80 South Forest street. Permits for three homes in Oakland and three in Berkeley have been granted in the last 24 hours.

PRICES TO FALL.

The long-awaited reduction in building material prices will come on Monday, according to the word that has been passed out to the contractors and builders. It is understood that the rock price is to be cut from $2.90 to $2.65 the yard. Various dealers today said that they could not be quoted on the matter until Monday, but that they understood that the reduction is to be made.

The decision of Stuart Hawley to build on Fifteenth street adds one more investment and real estate building to those that are making the district a center in their lines of business. It is not announced what business house will lease the Wakefield structure, although it is said that the arrangements have been made.

A building permit was requested today by Contractor F. W. Maurice for the erection of the $70,000 Rock Ridge school at Clifton street, near Broadway. It will be a two-story, ten-room school.

FUNERAL SHIP SAILS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The British cruiser Dauntless, which brought home for burial the bodies of the 15 American victims of the ZR-2, sailed yesterday for London.

Schools Will Run Full Term on Economy Plan

The Oakland schools will run their full 200 days, but it will mean "very close shaving," in the words of Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter, and the program of economy must be followed "without deviation."

This was decided last night by the board of education after receiving a complete summary of the financial condition of the schools together with an estimate of the amounts which shall be allotted to each department and each phase of education.

Efficiency Expert Cook, who has been a week working up the figures, insisted that while the school department can slip through the 200 days by following the economy program as outlined, the economy program is stretched to the limit and is not elastic enough to allow one extra expense.

WILL MERGE CLASSES.

Cook and Hunter were given the task of working out this program. They say in their report:

"We wish to reiterate our previous statement that the estimates contained herein are designed with the object in view of providing a plan which if followed without deviation will enable our school system to operate throughout the entire year on the schedule previously adopted, with very little curtailment to courses of study. We have not, however, made any provision for possible contingencies or for additional second semester teaching positions, it being the intention to handle the increase in enrollment for the second semester by consolidating classes."

APPROPRIATION METHOD.

The whole program is based on the amount obtained from all sources of revenue for this fiscal year, a total of $3,629,011.54. This amount will be appropriated as follows:

A.—General control, overhead	$ 99,797.31
B.—Expenses of instruction—
Teachers' salaries	2,790,402.20
Supplies	64,671.11
Evening schools	66,500.00
Free text books	30,000.00
All other expenses of instruction	3,195.93
C.—Operation of plant—
Janitors' salaries—
Day	130,263.00
Evening	8,500.00
Heat, light, water, gardeners, etc.	83,256.00
D.—Maintenance of plants	58,375.84
E.—Auxiliary agencies —libraries, health dept., playgrounds, research and guidance deaf class, Chabot Observatory, etc.	107,137.15
G.—Fixed charges—
Rent and insurance	25,875.00
H.—Other payments—
Tax abatements and interest	10,120.00
O.—Outlays—
Buildings, alterations, equipment	150,419.00
	$3,629,011.54

In analyzing the appropriations and their causes and results, Hunter and Cook say:

"General control or overhead is maintained at the same figure as last year, made possible by the elimination of several positions which counteracts the effect of salary increases and contractual obligations in that division.

"In the instructional division we have provided a sum viz: $2,790,402.20, which will be adequate to provide every person in the teaching force with a full year's compensation based on the present salary schedule.

SAVING ON SUPPLIES.

"It is possible to effect a saving in cost of supplies and text-books due to reduced prices and decreased quantity, every person in the department having already been advised of the necessity for rigid economy and the co-operation necessary to carry out the board's policy.

"The board is already aware of the efforts so far made to bring about eliminations and consolidations in the organization as it stood at the beginning of this year. These savings already accomplished are as follows and represent deductions from last year's expenditures:

Attendance department	$ 8,800
Night schools	43,105
Supervision assigned to teaching positions	19,030
Eliminations and positions not filled	3,100
Teaching positions consolidated	47,050
Total	$128,135

"In fixing the amount to be available for maintenance of school plant we realized the impossibility of being able to take care of many necessary improvements; therefore we provided a sum only sufficient to handle emergencies and arrest deterioration.

"The appropriation for insurance demands an increased allowance for this year due to the fact that the list of expirations is considerably larger.

"Savings have been effected in the bureau of research and guidance and in various other functions of the system, the object being to provide adequately for the instructional division even though the activities of other divisions were deeply curtailed.

"The allowance for outlays, which covers the cost of new portables, equipment, alterations, additions and land has been maintained at the minimum requirement. In this connection we wish to advise the board that the greater portion of the amount set apart has already been expended or reserved and that careful scrutiny must be given every new project before additional expenditures can be allowed."

FIRST BAPTIST PROGRAM.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 24.—"Why God Permits Pain and Sickness" will be the topic preached upon by the Rev. A. P. Brown at the First Baptist church, Santa Clara avenue and Stanton street, tomorrow evening. In the morning his topic will be "Our Children's Heritage."

WATER USED AT SCHOOLS GIVEN TESTS

Chemist Takes Samples From Various Institutions for An Analysis; Purpose to Check the Outbreaks of Epidemics

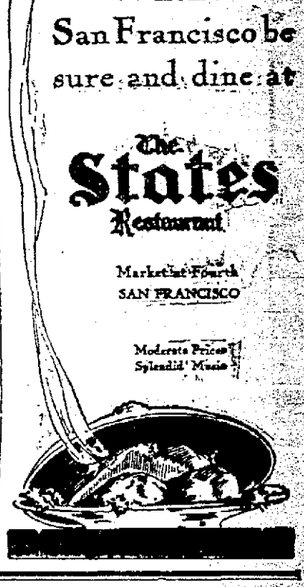

A survey of the water supply of Oakland, with examinations of samples taken from the faucets of various schools, is now under way by the Oakland health department.

At each school a sample of water is taken and analyzed, and the result compared with the showing of the previous month. In this way, according to Health Officer Harry Foster, typhus or any other disease in any district may be traced.

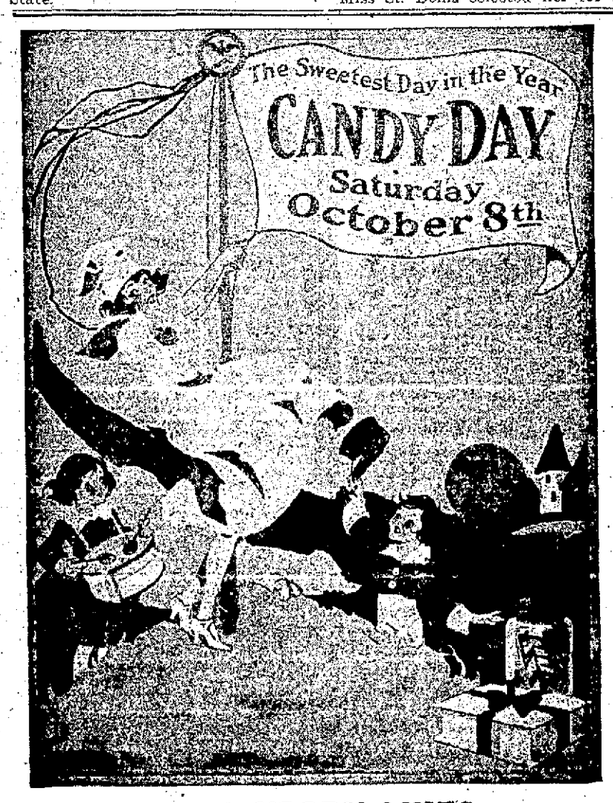

The survey, it is admitted, is a complicated affair, especially as water comes from several sources.

It has been found that there can be contamination even with an enclosed pipe distribution. The water supply of Oakland is held to be reasonably pure at the source. The survey is intended to investigate this condition.

The Truth About Herb Production

By far the greater part of the medicinal herbs of China are produced in Sze Chuan, a province in Western China. Others come from the neighboring provinces of Kwong Tung, Yunnan and Kwangsi. However, the rest of China is not noted for its herb production.
The herbs exported to the United States are shipped from Hongkong to San Francisco. The Fong Wan Herb Specialist not only conducts a etail business at 548 8th st., Oakland, where he dispenses fresh herbs of all varieties, but he also has an interest in a wholesale herb company in Oakland, known as Man Fook Hung.

STUNG BY LANDLORDS

I was stung for rent by landlords for 15 years. I made a gift of over $4300 of my hard earned wages as a carpenter to rent profiteers in this period. At 6% interest this would figure over $6700. I paid $30 a month for my last place and it wasn't fit for a Jap. When we went out on our strike my "generous money-hating" landlord raised my rent to $35 and I, forthwith told him where to go to.

Then I went out into the upper Fruitvale district of Oakland paid $10 down on a lot and put up a 2-room shack. I added a bath room and another bedroom later by working nights and Sundays and finally sold out at a profit of $680.

Then I bought an old house, fixed it up and after living in it 8 months sold at a profit of $930.

That was 3 years ago. Today I can cash my check for eight thousand dollars. When the first of the month comes around no grafter sticks a rent bill under my nose.

Any man or woman willing to work can do as I did.

I have arranged with a square, reliable man to take care of 70 families. He will let you start a temporary home on any lot if you pay him $10. He is the man I started with and he is no grafter. If you have a little more money he will build for you. In fact he has loaned as much as $2000 for a house and deeded an $800 lot and only asked $150 down. He has put in street work, sidewalks, sewers, gas, electricity and telephone lines. He is a good square guy.

If you want to know more about this call at my house, corner 38th ave., and Hopkins st., Oakland. I am always home day or night. I am a carpenter by trade but right now my trade is fighting greedy landlords and believe me I'm helping a lot of people to save rent money. Come out and talk with some of them.

Osborne's Slayer Held to Answer To Higher Court

MARTINEZ, Sept. 24.—Jack Pappas, pool hall proprietor of Bay Point, must stand trial in the Superior Court on a charge of having murdered John Osborne, whom he shot on August 18. Pappas was held late yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace E. P. Jackson after a preliminary examination, which required two days.

Attorneys Rodgers and Bray, counsel for Pappas, sought a dismissal of the charge on the ground that all witnesses summoned had testified that Pappas had shot Osborne only after the latter had made as if to draw a gun. Their motion denied, the attorneys then sought to have the charge reduced to manslaughter, but this met strenuous objection from District Attorney A. B. Tinning. All witnesses in the case were Greeks and use of interpreters was necessary.

All witnesses testified that Osborne was intoxicated on the night of the shooting and that he precipitated a quarrel with Pappas, calling him a stool pigeon and accusing him of efforts to have him ordered from Bay Point. Pappas sought to avoid a quarrel, it was claimed, but Osborne persisted and struck at him. When Osborne made a move toward his hip Pappas fired at him, the witness declared. Claims have been made that Osborne was coatless and that if he carried a gun it could have been seen. This, however, was not brought out at the hearing.

Pappas fired four shots at Osborne but one taking effect. Osborne died at the hospital here four days after he was wounded.

San Leandro Men to Sub-Divide Land

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 24.—Announcement was made here today of the purchase of a subdivision site near Centerville, consisting of 32 acres, by J. E. Faustina, local real estate dealer, and Alan Pelton, present mayor of San Leandro.

The property is located along the highway between Centerville and Alvarado. It will be divided into building lots, states Pelton.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

FOUR MARRIAGES MORE AND PASTOR IS IN 1000 CLASS

Cleric Deprecates Tendency of Modern Young Folk to Rush Into Matrimony.

Only four more weddings, and Dr. F. J. Van Horn, pastor of the First Congregational church, will have tied one thousand nuptial knots, he told the members of the Optimist Club at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

Dr. Van Horn made the announcement in the course of a round-table discussion of the question "Why should not women propose as well as men?"

Dr. Van Horn gave it as his experience that couples nowadays rush into matrimony with an appalling lightness of heart. Frequently, he told the Optimists, couples would casually call on the telephone, saying they intended to get married. Dr. Van Horn also said that the bridegroom often appeared before the altar with a breath eloquent of his having had recourse in the last minute of bachelorship to the doubtful consolations of strong drink. These, he said, were some of the reasons of the many divorces.

J. H. McLafferty addressed the gathering on behalf of the local Y. M. C. A., which, he announced, will launch a membership campaign next month.

Alta Mira Club Luncheon Opens Winter Season

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 24.—All arrangements are complete for the first social event of the Alta Mira club this season, according to an announcement here today. The event planned is a luncheon to be given by the newly appointed officers of the club to the members. The luncheon will be held Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Following is a list of the officers of the Alta Mira Club who will act as hostesses Monday: President, Mrs. Susie Dalziel; first vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Muntz; second vice-president, Mrs. H. B. Marlin; third vice-president, Mrs. Elgin McNab; recording secretary, Mrs. J. J. McCarthy; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. C. Kracaw; financial secretary, Mrs. J. J. Egan; treasurer, Mrs. F. B. Granger; assistant secretary, Mrs. R. B. Wright; clubhouse director, Mrs. W. B. Moskiman.

During the luncheon vocal selections will be rendered by Mrs. Helen Green and Mrs. T. M. Grant.

Turlock Masons Plan Ceremony At New Temple

TURLOCK, Sept. 24.—The new Masonic temple on West Main street is on the verge of completion, and the magnificent building is to be officially declared open on Tuesday next, when the Masons will entertain visiting brethren at a banquet. The hall was built by O. C. Holt and was completed in just one year from the time the contract was signed. The temple will be dedicated by Most Worshipful Grand Master George F. Rodden, assisted by Grand Lecturer Thomas J. Baker and past masters of the lodge. Upstairs there are lodge rooms, club rooms that will be available to the members of the fraternity in the afternoons, and evenings, ladies' rooms, a banquet room that will accommodate over 350, and numerous offices which have all been rented. Preparations have been made for the entertainment of hundreds of visitors who will congregate here from all over the state.

Petaluma Notes

PETALUMA, Sept. 24.—Two attempted holdups were reported to local police headquarters Friday. Thursday night Oden Smith, of San Rafael, encountered an automobile standing across the highway near Novato. Surmising a holdup he stepped on the gas and rushed by, just as a tall man holding a revolver stepped from behind the machine and ordered him to halt. His machine brushed the fellow aside and Smith made his escape.

The same night Mr. and Mrs. Ikhorn, of Wilson district, were returning home from Petaluma in their auto when they saw two men rush from the roadside and attempt to hold up the occupants of a machine preceding their own. The driver of the machine shot ahead leaving the men standing in the road. Ikhorn immediately turned back into town and notified the local police who at once proceeded to the spot, but found no trace of the bandits.

During the past week Petaluma shipped 381,294 dozen eggs and 3502 dozen poultry to San Francisco. Other shipments as follows: To New York, 6 cars, containing 3090 cases; to New Jersey, 4 cars containing 1810 cases; to Connecticut, 1 car, containing 450 cases. Smaller shipments were made to Arizona, Los Angeles and San Diego.

At a meeting of poultrymen held at Novato Thursday evening John Lawler, assistant general manager of the Poultry Producers of Central California, was present; also S. D. Cassidy, manager of the plant of the corporation in Petaluma. Dr. Buscher of the Novato organization was unanimously chosen as a director from that district.

On September 16 the British steamer Gothic Star arrived in San Francisco with 238 tons of frozen eggs and 20 tons of dry eggs in the shipment from the Orient. This shipment was consigned to a San Francisco firm and was largely distributed in that city; a portion being sent east.

BAD CHECKS CHARGED.

NEWMAN, Sept. 24.—A warrant for the arrest of N. ("Scummy") McGree has been sent to Oakland, charging "Scummy" with issuing bad checks. He was recently given a floater from this place on a vagrancy charge, but bobbed up at Los Banos, where it is now claimed he passed some worthless paper. Then he returned here just long enough, the officers claim, to issue two checks for $64, receive cash and depart.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

NEARLY $200,000 may be saved by the Eastbay Water company in its purchase of the Union Water company of Oakland and the Union Water Development company, supplying consumers in Alameda and Contra Costa counties if the deal can be put through on a cash basis, which had the approval of the State Railroad Commission today.

The commission granted authority to the East Bay Water Company to issue $825,000 first value 5½ per cent first mortgage bonds and $275,000 Class A cumulative preferred stock to buy the two corporations. It had previously agreed to the sale at a price of $1,100,000.

It was revealed today that the East Bay Company had come to an agreement with the officers and stockholders of the Union to accept the stocks and bonds to the value of $1,100,000 valuation, and that the selling corporations had consented to give the East Bay Company an option to buy back the stock turned over in the deal at $74 a share and the bonds at $85 on the hundred, plus accrued interest.

This would mean that if there were a cash transaction today, the total cost to the East Bay Company would be $904,750 and that a large reduction in the total cost will be possible if the securities could be bought back within a reasonable time.

WEEKLY BANK CLEARINGS OF CALIFORNIA CITIES.

Bank clearings as reported to the California Development Association by the several clearing house cities for the week ending September 22, show the amount of increase or decrease from the amount reported the corresponding week last year, as follows:

Modesto, $866,312; decrease, $331,174.

Whittier, $182,563.

BERKELEY RETAIL TRADE STILL EXPANDING.

Noticeable increases in the retail trade of Berkeley are largely responsible for the constantly increasing earnings of the city, E. A. Brown, vice-president of the First National Bank of Berkeley, says in the Weekly Business Summary of that institution today. Retailers interviewed during the week report turnovers highly satisfactory, 90.8 per cent reporting business "better than normal," while 9.2 per cent reported "fair." "Very good" was the statement of 36.3 per cent of the retailers while 54.5 per cent reported "good."

Real estate operators were 100 per cent in their statement that business is very good. Comments of the realtors included "quite an improvement," "more inquiries for property than has been experienced for some time," "starting an aggressive building campaign," "very good demand," "building increasing."

Wholesalers and manufacturers interviewed 30 per cent reported good business, an equal number "very good" and 40 per cent "improving."

Lumber and building material men reported large increases in the volume of business during the past week. Bank clearings ending Thursday, September 22, 1921, amounted to $3,213,413, a decrease of $44,979 from last week. The total for the corresponding week a year ago was $3,379,746 showing a decrease of $166,332.85 or 5 per cent. The building permits for the week were: New, $44,600; alterations and repairs, $1580; total, $46,180.

A permit was taken out for the erection of a store on the west side of Adeline and Harmon streets, amounting to $13,000.

DUN'S BAY REVIEW HOLDS BRIGHT TONE.

Another report of better industrial and mercantile conditions in this area was issued here today from Dun and Company's offices. Dealing with the week, the review says:

Improvement in business conditions is becoming more evident in practically every line, and there is evidence of growing confidence among the business men in this locality. Unemployment is still a factor, but the situation has been materially helped by the return to work of the building laborers. Retail trade has shown some increase and the volume of buying is expected to increase as the season advances. In manufacturing circles, operations are still curtailed somewhat, although working forces have been slightly increased. Building materials and kindred lines are in better demand, and there is at present a movement to further reduce the cost of building materials in an effort to stimulate the erection of houses for residential purposes. Manufacturers and jobbers of dry goods, knit goods, and men's furnishings report a good demand, and buyers, while still cautious, are purchasing in larger quantities. Business in automobile circles has been good. Reports from the farming and fruit growing sections are more favorable, and crops are maturing rapidly. Collections continue to be somewhat slow.

Dun's National Review today said, "After a period of slow and irregular improvement, added momentum to the business recovery has materialized with the advancing season. While reports from separate trades and industries are not yet of one tenor, encouraging features are increasingly prominent and the outlook for continued gains is favorable. Outside of certain speculative channels, where prices have fluctuated widely, current developments are along conservative lines suggesting a purpose to avoid unwholesome excesses and to establish conditions on a sounder basis. Evidence of such a policy appears in the prudent action on the part of most interests who are still limiting commitments closely to actual and well defined requirements after months of readjustment and liquidation. The number of spot transactions, however, is enlarging and there is also less hesitation in some instances with regard to anticipating the wants of the future. Recognition of the fact that existing unemployment has appreciably curtailed the public buying power makes for caution in forward purchasing. Weekly bank clearings $6,380,279,000.

ARIZONA BRITISH PROPERTY EXTENSIVE.

The property of the Arizona Copper Company, which it is reported the Phelps-Dodge Corporation is planning to purchase from English owners, includes several hundred mining claims in and around Clifton, Arizona, the smelter at Clifton, several large mills, a narrow gauge railroad to the mines and a standard gauge railroad to Lordsburg, N. M. The Arizona Copper Company is one of the oldest copper mining corporations in the state. It was purchased in 1883 from the Leszynsky brothers. In 1892 the first leaching plant in the southwest was added to the equipment of the mines. Last year the company absorbed the mines and equipment of the Shannon Copper Company. The Phelps-Dodge Corporation is already represented in the Clifton-Morenci district by the Detroit Copper Company, of which it owns the majority of stock.

P. C. Beckett, western general manager of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation with headquarters in Douglas Arizona, is at present traveling through Europe.

EASTERN MARKETS BEGIN WINTER HOURS.

Dropping the hour gained by daylight saving schedules, markets both in New York and Chicago Monday will open on winter schedules at standard time. The result will be closing quotations of eastern markets an hour later than at present which will somewhat affect western trading. The markets included in the change number the New York Stock Exchange and Curb, and the Chicago Stock Exchange. Daylight saving in Chicago, however, does not end until October 30, and the Chicago Board of Trade will change then.

S. P. HELPS OREGON FOOD SHIPPERS.

It is announced by the Southern Pacific that it will publish, effective November 3, reduced rates on canned goods and dried fruit from points in Oregon to Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, Orange, Beaumont, Texas, New Orleans, La., and New York via the Sunset Route, that Oregon shippers of these products may be accorded the benefit of lower rates to compare with the reductions published from California points some time ago. The rates which will apply to the Gulf ports and New York via Sunset Route only on shipments for export are as follows.

	Present Rate	New Rate
Dried fruit in boxes	$1.25	$1.10
Dried fruit in bags	1.45	1.30
Canned goods, including condensed milk	1.05	.95

N. Y. SUMMARY

E. F. HUTTON & CO. WIRE.

The actual condition of New York clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $32,858,930 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $21,966,410 from last week.

New York Sun—Business in stocks was quiet and really carried little significance. The bond market displayed far more animation by comparison and the forward movement which has been in evidence for the last fortnight or more was continued. Bank clearings this week, according to the estimate of the Financial Chronicle, totaled $6,777,454,088, against $7,176,876,962 last week and $8,487,190,487 in this week last year.

Dun's reports 441 failures in United States this week against 463 last week and 256 a year ago. Bradstreets says industry generally takes on a quicker pace and collections show further improvement. Dun's Review says after irregular improvement and momentum business has materially improved.

Standard Oil of Louisiana raises Arkansas crude 10 cents a barrel.

The Chicago Federal Reserve Bank at its regular monthly meeting Friday, it is reported, voted to maintain the 6 per cent rediscount rate for the present.

One of the bankers for Cuba Sugar whose house was one of the syndicate which underwrote the last debenture bonds says no mortgage will be placed on properties according to present plans which will soon be submitted to bondholders.

Delaware and Hudson is reported accumulated on a substantial scale during recent setbacks for account of conservative interests with anthracite holdings. The buying is understood to be based on assurance rate of dividend would be safe, with a prospect that a large margin would be shown for 1922. The stock is now around the high of the year.

Lehigh Valley strength and activity, near the high point of the year, is reported to be based on intimations that the segregation plan must be filed in court not later than October 7, with promise of a large stock dividend, reports of revival in the anthracite coal demand, and increasing net earnings.

Figures by the Interstate Commerce Commission from reports of 201 Class 1 roads and 16 switching and terminal companies for July, compares as follows: July gross, decrease, $66,300,308; balance after taxes, increase, $85,189,827; net operating income, increase, $81,351,811.

Seven months' gross, decrease, $130,731,475, balance after taxes, increase, $227,678,769; net operating income, increase, $213,560,247.

Santa Clara Pushes Irrigation Project

SAN JOSE, Sept. 24.—Further impetus was given the proposal to form a Santa Clara county irrigation district when the San Jose realty board and the Santa Clara county Auto Trades' association went on record as unanimously endorsing the proposal. Similar endorsements have already been given by over a dozen various farmers' and commercial organizations of the city and county.

Whether or not the proposed district will be formed will be decided by the voters at the polls on next Tuesday. While a scattering opposition to the project has developed, directed mainly against individuals connected with the project, sentiment on the whole throughout the county appears favorable to forming the district.

The election of next Tuesday brings to a head agitation of over three years' standing that action be taken against an impending water shortage, regarded with apprehension by the farmers. A year and a half ago, approximately $25,000 was raised throughout the county by popular subscription to investigate the water problem. At the same time a county water conservation committee was chosen to direct the investigation.

Stephen E. Kieffer and Fred H. Tibbetts of San Francisco were the engineers who handled the investigation and the report of these engineers, rendered last March, shows the underground water table of the valley dropping at an average of from 5 to 7 feet per year, due to the fact that farmers are drawing over 130,000 acre feet of water per year from the supply, while but 90,000 acre feet of water can annually find its way into the underground reservoir.

EMBEZZLER EXPLAINS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Authorities from San Diego, Calif., are here today to take back to that city Adam F. Wekler Jr., of Chicago, arrested on charges of larceny by embezzlement brought by a San Diego bank. Wekler said his difficulties were due to the fact that the government had not paid him $200 for shipping contracts.

POPULAR STOCKS STRONG AT CLOSE OF WEEK'S TRADE

Oils, However, Decline, Holding Back Market; Rails Advance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Popular stocks, especially rails, were inclined to make further upward progress today but the usual closing of weekly accounts together with heaviness of foreign oils exerted a restraining influence. Royal Dutch declined at most 5 points, Mexican Petroleum 3¾ and General Asphalt 1¾. Sumatra tobacco continued to weaken on its unfavorable financial showing. Rails were 1 to 3 points higher at their best, but yielded practically all their gains in the final dealings. The cheaper domestic oils and obscure specialties made irregular gains. The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 250,000 shares.

Gold Seekers Rush To L. A. 'Strike' Scene

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—A delegation of newspapermen accompanied the small army of embryo gold seekers leaving Los Angeles early today for the reported rich gold strike in the Santa Monica mountains.

The objective for the would-be miners was 320 acres of gold-bearing shale, reported here as having not yet been acquired by the Covington-Everett interests, which made the strike and secured title to 2140 acres traversed by the vein.

Dr. W. T. Covington, wealthy dentist, and W. J. Dean, miner and veteran of the Cripple Creek stampede of other years, remained in Los Angeles today, despite the threatening rush for their properties. They were completing arrangements for mining machinery to be shipped to the new strike at once.

Nick Everett, prospector, who, with Dr. Covington, originally discovered the shale vein, said to have proven rich in gold under 75 separate assays by Denver and Los Angeles mineralogists, is now on the property to prevent possible attempts at claim-jumping in the expected invasion.

Landslide Fight At Crockett Ended

MARTINEZ, Sept. 24.—The Crockett Land & Cattle Company stands victor today over the Southern Pacific in the long fight of the latter to obtain possession of land embraced in the highway slide at Crockett which last winter threatened for months to tie up rail as well as road traffic. The land company has sold eight of the 19 acres of the slide area, according to a deed on file here, and has obtained a price in excess of the amount fixed by a jury which heard a condemnation suit instituted by the railroad.

Revenue stamps on the deed indicate a consideration of $10,000. The jury which heard the condemnation suit fixed a value of $1000 an acre on the land, but this verdict was refused by the railroad. The eight acres it has acquired by purchase embraces only the slide itself. Approximately 300 feet of state highway were taken out by the slide, necessitating construction of a suspension bridge and it forced the Southern Pacific to maintain steam shovels at Crockett for months to keep tracks clear.

It is understood here that the railroad intends tunneling the hill to tap springs in an effort to stop the slide.

Increased Revenue Provided by Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The tax revision bill as reported by the Senate finance committee is estimated to yield $3,324,000,000 this fiscal year, of $84,000,000 more than the measure passed by the House, says the majority report on the bill approved and made public today by the committee.

For the next fiscal year, the report says, the bill should yield $2,735,700,000, an increase of $75,000000 over the House total. This program, it is added, assumes that for the fiscal year 1923 the total ordinary expenses of the government will amount to approximately $4,500,000,000 as compared with $4,034,000,000 this fiscal year and $5116,000,000 in the last fiscal year.

The proposed bridge between Philadelphia and Camden over the Delaware river, is to be the longest suspension bridge in the world. The main span is planned for 1750 feet, and from approach to approach $190 feet, or more than a mile and a half. The cost is estimated at $28,000,000.

In an effort to reduce national extravagance, when approximately $5,000,000,000 is being spent in this country each year, the government now has a thrift division in connection with the treasury department.

BANK SHRINKAGE FIGURED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Funds on deposit with the national banks of the country decreased by more than $4,000,000,000 during the last fiscal year while the total resources, exclusive of rediscounts declined by over $2,500,000,000, according to an abstract of reports on the condition of these banks on June 30, issued by Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger.

NEW YORK FUR AUCTION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Skins from the antipodes featured the fur auction, more than 160 tons of rabbit skins being among the sales. The principal buyers were manufacturers of men's hats.

GOLD MINING DESIRED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Secretary Mellon had been petitioned by Senator Oddie, of Nevada, and 21 western senators to take steps toward increasing American gold production, to protect the national monetary standard and to aid commercial interests using gold.

RICHMOND WINS FERRY FARE CUT FROM SANTA FE

State Rail Board Figures New Schedule on Pre-War Rate Basis.

A decision of great importance to the people of Richmond was rendered today by the State Railroad Commission when it directed the Santa Fe Railroad to restore the 31 cent one-way rate between San Francisco and Ferry Point and 40-cent rate between San Francisco and Macdonald avenue, Richmond. These fares are to carry no baggage privilege. The present tariffs are 50 cents and 60 cents respectively. Before the war they were 25 cents and 30 cents. The commission says that today's decision is really restoration of the pre-war rate plus a percentage of the two increases granted the other transportation companies of San Francisco bay and still in effect.

JURY ON KU KLUX, DAUGHERTY HOPE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Attorney General Daugherty today went further in the operations of the Ku Klux Klan, in a conference with District Attorney Hayward of New York.

The attorney general discussed with Hayward some phases of he inquiry in the eastern states which officials believe may lead to action by grand juries.

In a telegram to Attorney General Daugherty from Atlanta, Colonel William Simmons, imperial wizard and the ruler of the secret empire, invited an investigation of the Klan.

The telegram stated that not only would the imperial wizard welcome a federal inquiry, but that he would co-operate in its prosecution and stood ready to come to Washington at the request of the attorney general to answer all charges against the organization.

The attorney general declines to discuss the telegram from the imperial wizard. Department officials, however, let it be known with emphasis that the action of the imperial wizard in throwing himself on the "mercy of the government" will have no effect on the federal investigation.

CALL TO ARMS.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 24.—Publication of a highly inflammable article by the "Searchlight," semi-official publication of the Ku Klux Klan was followed Friday afternoon by a demand that those responsible be prosecuted for treason. The editorial signed by Carl F. Hutcheson, attorney, and Ku Klux Klan leader, sounded a call to arms to all "patriots" and incited them to avenge the honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, Klan leader, who has been under fire. "To you, American patriots, we address ourselves! Unleash your dogs of war and make these hounds of convict stripe pay penalty for the great injury done!"

PACIFIC FOOD PRICES AND WORLD'S COMMERCE

FALL IN PRODUCE RECEIPTS MARKS SEASON'S WANE

Stockton Sending Less Than Car Day; Nevada Honey Cheaper.

Offerings in the Oakland market this week have showed, in marked fashion, the latenes of the season. There are limitations in nearly every line except the seasonable fall fruit such as apples.

Shipments from the Stockton area here are more or less a barometer. These shipments in full season run as much as four cars of mixed produce daily. Today but one car was received and the total for the week did not average a car a day. The slackening delivery is having its effect on prices, which have shown a stronger tendency for the week in almost all lines.

Another car of Nevada honey is expected to reach the bay markets by Monday. These shipments, in the comb, which brought opening quotations of $6.50 and $7 a case, now are down to $5.50 and $6 on slow taking and extended delivery. The Nevada honey is chiefly a sage product, more suitable to sell in the card, and has little competition from California honey, which is strained. The comb honey is not, however, as popular as the coast product.

An extensive shipment of Rhode Island Greenings today was added to the varieties of apples on the market here. The initial asking price was $2.25 on the packs. Bellflowers still have the call as the most popular apple and the chief trade has been in that variety. The local apple market is well supplied at present. Trading has been only moderate at steady to slightly lower prices.

Indications that the opening association price on walnuts will at least equal those of last year were seen in initial sales in the bay markets when No. 1s sold as high as 30 cents. The opening last year was 22½ cents on this grade. Naturally the initial sales were at a premium. Almonds of the new crop are being jobbed at about 25 cents in the local market now.

Corporation packers were back in the open tomato market buying today after having held off for several days. Other canners have been buying steady and all market hold-overs here have been well cleaned up. The delivery of tomatoes under contract is proceeding heavily.

VETERAN OF U. S. DIPLOMACY PUT ON WORLD COURT

Choice of Nation Is Explained by Record of Columbia Professor.

By HOLLAND.

Exclusive to TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Whitelaw Reid soon after his return from Paris, where he and four other American commissioners negotiated the treaty of peace with Spain, spoke freely of the various relations which the members of the commission bore toward the entire negotiations. Regarding John Bassett Moore, secretary of the commission, he said: "Moore did almost all of the work; the rest of us had a good time."

For this service Dr. Moore received $10,000 and returned to his professional duties at Columbia University. Reid's reference to Dr. Moore compacts into a few words the unusual qualifications which Dr. Moore possesses for serving as one of the judges of the International Court of Justice. In addition to his learning in international law, he has a personal charm which will be sure to bring to him the favor of the other judges with whom he is to be associated.

Dr. Moore was reared a Democrat and as a very young man came into personal relation with Thomas A. Bayard, Senator from Delaware. When Bayard became secretary of state he called Moore as an assistant secretary. Later Moore was to serve again and under a Republican administration. Still later he became counselor for the State Department in the early part of the administration of President Wilson, Columbia University granting him leave of absence. These and his association as secretary with the commission which negotiated the peace treaty with Spain and one or two other somewhat honorary appointments constitute his public service.

ENORMOUS LABORS.

He was chosen to complete the almost monumental digest of international law of American diplomacy which Dr. Wheaton had begun. Ten thousand dollars was appropriated in payment of this service. But Dr. Moore expended almost every penny for clerical aid necessary. He also prepared and completed a full record of the diplomacy of the State Department. This compendium is saturated with anecdotal references to illustrate the intellectual and personal characteristics of American diplomats and these anecdotes might properly be culled from this work and published separately, for they would furnish most interesting reading. Dr. Moore was again called on to compile and edit the papers of James Buchanan, and that involved an unusual amount of labor, some of it difficult, almost all of it tedious.

STUDENTS LIKE HIM.

As a professor at Columbia University, Dr. Moore gained great favor with the students, and it was deemed a privilege to attend his lectures. It not infrequently happened that just as Dr. Moore took his seat in the classroom some one of the students asked him a question. The answer to that question was prolonged during the entire hour. It took the place of the regular lecture.

It is one of the traditions of Columbia that no student ever put a question to Dr. Moore associated with his course which was not instantly and correctly answered.

Dr. Moore possesses unusual facility of memory, particularly as touching American diplomatic history. At 60 Dr. Moore will become upon the organization of the international court one of the great judges of the time, associate judge in a court whose decisions are likely to have important bearing upon the future peace of the world.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 24. — Wheat opened steady with prices the same to a fraction higher than yesterday's finish. Trade was small and mainly local. After opening at $1.27 for December and $1.31½ to $1.32 for May, the market made a slight rally, but had reverted to around opening figures at the end of the first hour.

There was a break right at the finish and the close was unsettled with December 1 to 1¼c off, opening figures at $1.25¾ to $1.26 and May 1¼ to 2c off, opening at $1.29¾ to $1.29

Corn showed some strength early but the market held within narrow limits. Corn started unchanged from yesterday's close with December at 52⅞c and May at 57c but the market rallied and gained a shade but like wheat, dropped and at the end of the first hour was a shade off the opening.

Oats were steady, December opening unchanged from last night's close at 38⅜c and May showing a shade advance with 42⅝c.

Corn, No. 2 mixed, 53½@53¾c; No. 2 yellow, 53¾@54c

Rye, No. 2, $1.04½

Barley, 55@60c

Timothy seed, $4.25@4.50.

Clover seed, $12@18.

The close:

Wheat—December, $1.25¾, May, $1.29¼

Corn—Dec., 52⅞c; May, 56½c

Oats—Dec., 37⅞c, May, 42c.

Pork—Sept., $18.50.

Lard, Oct., $10.30; Jan., $9.20

Ribs—Oct., $7.52, Jan., $8.95.

MINNESOTA BANK CLOSED.

LAMBERTON, Minn., Sept. 24.—The State Bank of Lamberton has been closed by order of the state superintendent of banking. Insufficient reserves are given as the cause. The bank is capitalized at $25,000, surplus $35,000 and had deposits estimated at $600,000.

ALONG the WATERFRONT

The Japanese steamer Siberia Maru sent in a wireless today stating that she is 800 miles from the Golden Gate and making fair progress in a brisk northwesterly wind. The sea is moderate and sky clear and the vessel should reach port about daylight Monday morning. She has in her cargo 1742 bales of raw silk, which will be sent to the Atlantic coast. This silk cargo is valued at several million dollars. Several cargoes of raw silk recently have been unloaded here.

The latest charters reported are for the British steamer Scottish Monarch, to load at a northern port for the United Kingdom; British steamer Anglo Chilean, Columbia river for United Kingdom, and the British steamer Victoria de Larrinaga, San Francisco to the United Kingdom, all to load grain, October loading.

The annual fur sale will take place at St. Louis on September 28. The United States government has 16,251 raw seal skins for this sale. These skins were taken from the Pribiloff islands. Firms have furs on this sale such as fox, mink, bear and beaver. It is estimated that more than five million dollars' worth of furs will be sold. The sale ends on October 1.

The British steamer Cardenia is ashore at Suva. She was loading copra at that port for Europe. The cablagram does not state how the vessel got on the reef or how badly she is damaged.

Government officials are patroling the coast from Point Reyes to Eureka, trying to locate a cargo of whisky, which was on board the launch Mamook when she left Eureka a week ago for Mexico. The launch put into this port on Sunday last and the skipper reports having jettisoned his cargo when he ran into heavy weather in order to save his craft from sinking. The government officials do not believe his story and think the whisky was landed on the beach. The vessel has been here one week. The whisky cargo is valued at $75,000 at present prices of Scotch and was loaded at British Columbia.

With 38,440 cases of canned salmon the bark McLaurin arrived here from Alaska yesterday under command of Captain Larsen. The cargo is consigned to L. A. Pedersen Company. After unloading her cargo she will tie up in her annual winter quarters in East Oakland harbor.

The schooner Chispa arrived at San Pedro yesterday and anchored off Mormon island. One of the crew was shot by the skipper. The victim was accused of trying to burn the vessel while intoxicated. Other members of the crew were arrested by the local police there. The Chispa was formerly one of the crack yachts of the San Francisco Yacht Club of Sausalito and is well known around the bay points.

Storm warnings have been ordered displayed along the Oregon and Washington coasts today, with indications of its reaching the Northern California coast. Southeast gales are reported, with sky cloudy. Rain is expected along with the wind.

Change of masters registered at the United States customs house: Captain N. A. Nielsen, steamer Wilmington; Captain C. Hansen, steamer Tiburon; Captain T. C. Sorensen, steamer Delco; Captain G. H. Goodell, steamer Fort Sutter; Captain J. Larelle, steamer Leader; Captain N. J. Sverson, steamer Benicia; Captain Charles Madison, steamer Frank G. Drum; Captain J. R. Jones, motor schooner C. Watson; Captain A. H. Sorenson, barkentine Rolph.

Big Money in OIL This Afternoon

¶ Ask questions! We welcome them. Any man or woman who comes to ask us about Sun Oil Co.'s FOUR wells in the Huntington Beach Field, learns something of the enormous opportunity for big money in oil. It is for you to say whether you can invest with us or not, but you certainly will be greatly impressed with what our shareholders have coming to them!

Come and See Us

¶ Today is a half-holiday. You could not spend it more profitably than by dropping in this office, and getting the FACTS. Another well to be started Monday! The office will be open until 6 o'clock today for your convenience. COME!

CITY IS PUZZLED AS TO PENSION OF CHIEF WHITEHEAD

Gray of Opinion He Should Receive Pay for Highest Position Held.

The city of Oakland is now in a quandary as to what pension to give former Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead of the fire department, who is about to retire at the end of twenty-five years of service.

Whitehead was demoted to battalion chief on July 1, when the new administration went into office. Recently he applied for a pension, but it is not clear whether he should get his pension as fire chief or as battalion chief.

The city charter says that a pensioned person shall be "retired at the salary held for one year previous to his retirement." But Whitehead has not held any one salary for one year. He has been in two jobs, each with a different salary.

City Attorney Leon Gray, in an opinion written for the city council, holds to the belief that Whitehead would be more entitled to retire with the half salary of a fire chief, which position he held one year ago. Gray holds that the one-year clause was inserted lest some political favorite, about to be pensioned, might be elevated to high rank just before being retired. If this is the case, holds Gray, it should operate in favor of a man in Whitehead's position.

The city council will decide it next week.

Thieves Take Trunk From Rack of Auto

Thieves who stole the automobile trunk of Irving Jones were forced to unscrew the rack on which the trunk was fastened before they could get it off the machine. Jones, who resides at the Hotel Oakland, parked his machine at Twenty-eighth and Webster streets last night for several hours. When he came out he discovered the trunk and rack missing. The rack is fastened to the back of the machine with six large bolts. In the trunk were two suit cases.

$500 COAT STOLEN.

A sealskin coat valued at $500 was stolen last night from the Century theater during the performance. Mrs. W. S. Gillett of 709 Forty-third street told the police her coat was on the back of one of the seats and she left it when she changed seats. She went to get it and found it missing.

Land Title Men Elect

The California Land Title Association, in annual meeting at the Hotel Oakland, elected its new officers today. Upper: J. B. de JARNATT, Colusa, member executive committee; F. P. DOHERTY, Los Angeles, and R. C. SPRINGER, San Diego, past president. Lower: JAMES F. KELLY, Merced, new president; ROSS PIERCE, member executive committee.

LAND TITLE MEN HEAR DISCUSSION ON HOME NEEDS

James B. Kelly of Merced, newly elected president of the State Land Title Association, took the chair this morning on the second and last day of the association annual meeting at the Hotel Oakland. Other officials taking office at the same time were: J. R. La Rue of Sacramento, first vice-president; Charles E. Johnson of Riverside, second vice-president, and H. B. Kelly of Santa Ana, third vice-president.

George Hope of Los Angeles discussed the community apartment house movement, which he described as an important step towards the solution of the housing question, and one which is certain to spread throughout the entire United States, since it abolishes the landlord and the risk of eviction, and reduces the necessity of domestic help to a minimum. Hope stated that large apartment houses are now in course of construction, which are to be operated on the community basis, the property being held by a corporation.

Other addresses included: "Land Surveys," by W. D. Reyburn, Los Angeles; "The Torrens Ghost and How to Talk to the Public About It," by H. B. Kelly, Santa Ana; "Alls of the Allen Land Laws," by M. R. Pitts of Modesto; "The Zoning System," by E. E. Hubbell, San Diego; "The Building Loan," by James F. Kelly, Merced; "Whitewash or Tar and Feathers," by Charles G. Bacon, Richmond.

Tonight the members of the association will be the guests at a banquet by the Alameda County and the Oakland Title Insurance and Guaranty companies.

Nightgown On Heater Causes Fire in House

A nightgown which was lying on a gas heater in room No. 27 in the Altenheim, a home for aged Germans, which caught fire and in turn set the wood work in the room on fire, for a few minutes threatened to destroy the entire lower floor.

When the fire broke out this morning most of the old folk were on the sun porches on the lower floor. Battalion Fire Chief Elliot Whitehead, who responded to the alarm, and the superintendent of the home marched the inmates of the lower floor into the yard.

The hall, which adjoins room 27, was filled with smoke when the fire department arrived. The flames were extinguished by using the house lines. The damage was estimated at $50.

City's Bond Expert Reported Improving

City Treasurer H. J. Anderson announced today that James Rooney, city bond expert who has been ill for three weeks, is recovering and is soon expected to return to his work. Rooney for years has handled all the bond business affecting street improvements.

Patient Carries Off Coats of Dentist

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Dr. C. H. Terry of 73 Plaza Drive, Berkeley, with offices in the Pacific building, was the victim of an unusual theft today. A rough looking individual appeared apparently much in pain and desirous of having a tooth pulled. He was placed in a chair and while the dentist was attending another patient in an adjoining room he decamped with the dentist's overcoat and raincoat.

CHARTER BALLOT TO BE LONG AND COMPLICATED

Legal Opinions to Be Sought On Inserting Certain Paragraphs.

Indications that the ballot for the election on the charter for the proposed city and county consolidation will be the longest and most complicated ever used in a special election are seen today by those who are working on the tentative forms. Constitutional provisions and sections of the proposed charter itself make it imperative to place whole sections of the law and of the charter on the ballot.

Legal opinions will be sought from the district attorney before certain paragraphs may be inserted in the ballot, it is said at the county clerk's office. The state constitutional provision reads that in the election ballot must be placed the date "upon which city and county consolidation, under thhe charter, is to take place." In the charter submitted by the freeholders there is nowhere stated, in so many words, just when this consolidation is to take place. The freeholders would have the charter effective for election purposes, etc., as soon as it has the approval of the Legislature and for other purposes on the first day of July, 1923. This would fall on Sunday.

WILL PRINT PROVISIONS.

It is probable, according to county officials, that in the place where the constitution says a date must be inserted, the entire charter paragraph explaining the two dates, will be printed. Certain other provisions having to do with transfer of property or money from one form of county to another, it is required, must be published in full on the ballot.

The supervisors will fix November 8 as the date of the election, at which time none but incorporated cities and towns have a vote on the question of consolidation. If any one of these towns votes against the general plan, and it is conceded that Alameda, Berkeley and other towns will register negative vote, it is defeated, and the alternate proposal under which a county line is drawn excluding those cities and towns which opposed, is put into effect. Upon the charter acceptance, the second election the voters of the entire county vote.

At the first election Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Albany, Piedmont, Emeryville, San Leandro, Hayward, Livermore and Pleasanton express their views and the outlying territory with the unincorporated towns: Castro Valley, Fairview, Palomares, Redwood, San Lorenzo, Hayward Park, Mount Eden, Alvarado, Decoto, Irvington, Mission San Jose, Newark, Warm Springs, Niles, Centerville, Altamont, Mocho, Arroyo, Murray, Amador, Dublin and Sunol are to have no voice.

DATE WILL BE SET.

The date for the election, November 8, will be set by the board of supervisors on Monday. Copies of the charter will have been sent to the clerks of the various towns and cities where they may be obtained by voters. At the conclusion of the voting certification of the action of each city will be made to the Board of Freeholders. At the second election, with the lines altered to provide for county division, the entire county will vote. The supervisors say that there will be only four members of each election board in charge of the booths—one judge, one inspector and two clerks. The reduction was made from the usual six. Registration for the election will close thirty days before the election.

BOY SCOUTS WILL HOLD REUNION IN CANYON TONIGHT

Annual Event Will Mark the Beginning of Plans for Big Two-Week Drive.

Hundreds of Boy Scouts and their parents and friends will gather at the Dimond Canyon camp at 6:30 o'clock tonight for the annual Boy Scout camp reunion.

This is one of the details leading up to the Boy Scout week and the drive for funds, which will be held October 3 to 17.

Postmaster Joseph J. Tosborough will preside at tonight's ceremony, introducing speakers who will review the work of the last year and outline plans for the future. Abe Leach, chairman of the central committee which has the drive in hand, will discuss the progress that is being made. During the week of October 3 to 10 the Scouts will stage demonstrations of various kinds in the city and during the following week the actual drive for funds will be made.

A model camp will be maintained at the Latham fountain at Fifteenth street and Broadway, and here the Scouts will give daily illustrations of the life of the Scout. They will also take part in the Industrial Exposition parade, which will be held next Saturday.

More than 300 reservations have been received for tonight's reunion and dinner, and the event bids fair to be the biggest of the kind in the history of Oakland council, according to H. J. Bemiss, Scout executive.

FAIR WEATHER FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. — The weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are: Pacific States, fair in California and considerable cloudiness and showers in Washington and Oregon. Normal temperature.

Invasion of I.W.W. Halted By Oil Strike

A threatened invasion of Industrial Workers of the World has been postponed for a week or two, according to advices received today by the police department, after the first vanguard of the new arrivals had trickled into the city.

The oil fields trouble in the Bakersfield regions is the cause of the delay, it is said.

The police assert that they hear of a steady mobilization of the I. W. W. at Stockton and Sacramento, where they are supposed to be in a strategic position to "hurl their legions" either to Bakersfield or the bay region, whichever seems to offer most interest. Police advices say that Sacramento and Stockton are now getting the wanderers who would otherwise have come to Oakland.

"So far as Oakland is concerned, there is nothing to it so far," says Chief of Police James T. Drew. "These people go where there is trouble, and perhaps they may find conditions at Bakersfield somewhat attractive to them. At any rate, Oakland is still serene."

In the absence of Commissioner Colbourn, Chief Drew is given full charge to act in the I. W. W. matter.

Funeral Service for Rev. John Sharp Held

The funeral of Rev. John Sharp, a veteran Congregationalist minister, was held this afternoon from Fruitvale Congregational church, Rev. Charles Clark officiating at the services. Sharp, who was 8s years old, has been in failing health since the death of his wife a month ago. Formerly he was pastor of a church in Massachusetts. He has resided in Oakland for the past ten years. The family home is at 2348 Twenty-fifth avenue. Besides a daughter, Mrs. Lydia Sharp Barnard; a son, Peter W. Sharp of Boston, survives.

HOME ECONOMICS BODY BOOSTS FOR MISS LAGANKE

Organization Declares Support of Her in Controversy With School Directors.

Miss Florence LaGanke, director of home economics in the public schools, whose resignation was recently suggested by members of the board, has received support from the State Home Economics Association, Bay section.

Resolutions were adopted at the first meeting of the fall season of the organization, whose membership is made up of instructors, supervisors and teachers of home economics in schools and colleges, upholding the Oakland director. Donna De Luce, Mary P. Daniels and Laura McDermot introduced the resolutions, which were adopted unanimously by the 90 or more members who were in attendance.

The resolution follows:

"Since a member of the Home Economics Association, bay section, who is highly honored by all, Miss Florence LaGanke, has been recently attacked and her standing assailed; and since her unquestioned loyalty to the high principles of home economics has been laid open to doubt; it is therefore incumbent upon us who do so thoroughly trust in her undoubted qualities of leadership to express ourselves thus publicly and in no uncertain terms. Be it, therefore,

"Resolved, that we place ourselves on record as thoroughly and whole heartedly upholding her cause."

Dr. Agnes Fay Morgan of the University of California is the newly elected president of the organization.

SWAIN IS LIKE NEW MAN NOW

"Tanlac did for me what other medicines and even a change of climate failed to do," said Henry G. Swain, Civic Center Hotel, Twelfth and Market St., San Francisco, Mr. Swain is a well known interior decorator.

"I had stomach trouble for three years and had gotten to the place where even a little toast and tea disagreed with me. I was troubled with an awful pain in my back, too, and was losing ground every day.

"I have traveled over a good portion of the world, but I have never seen anything in the way of medicine to equal Tanlac. Practically, it has made a new man out of me, and I sleep and work better than I have in years."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland by the Owl Drug Company and by leading druggists everywhere. — Advertisement.

Room to Breathe

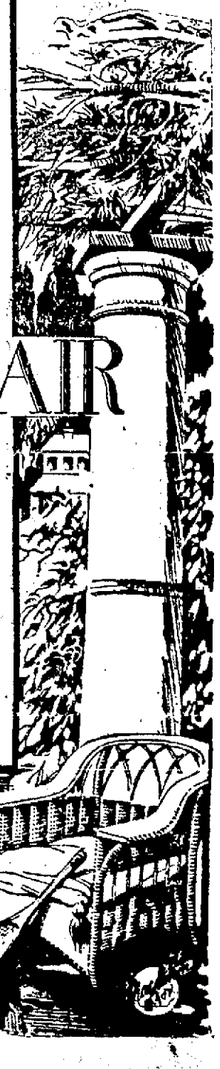

City dwellers universally crave more space for living—"room to breathe" they say. The acre and half-acre homesites of Montclair, within the city limits of Oakland, offer that desired space.

You can have trees, views, hillside or level sites—a country estate—within 12 minutes of your Oakland office by auto. San Francisco is but 41 minutes away by Piedmont Key Route and auto bus. Local transportation by Piedmont car and bus requires but 20 minutes to 14th and Broadway.

MONTCLAIR ESTATES

—a new section of Montclair consists of 80 acres in acre and half-acre estates, mostly wooded. Piedmont, adjoining, sells for $60 a front foot—Montclair Estates for $16 to $20 a front foot. Only $50 down—the balance in small amounts monthly. No interest or taxes until July 1, 1922. Water, electricity and oil macadam roads included.

THE
Opens Tomorrow Noon, in the Downtown Garage
Building, 1728 Broadway
(Near the Post Office)

It will be open every day and evening till Sunday night, Oct. 2nd.

A wide variety of good cars selling at low prices will be shown. Displays change every day.

In Sunday's Tribune Automotive Section you will get a very complete idea of the good automobiles which will be exhibited at prices much lower than have prevailed since 1917. If you want to save lots of money
